

Re:Monster

暗黒大陸編
THE DARK CONTINENT

リ・モンスター

2

金斬兎狐

KANOKIRU KOJITSUNE

小鬼、大鬼、鬼神、
そして——？
未曾有の下克上は
新たな局面へ！

累計
72万部！

大人気怪物転生
ファンタジー

新シリーズ第二弾！

アルファポリス

！？

最強黒鬼
死闘の果てに
消滅す

暗黒大陸に君臨する超常の
怪物首領達——

RE:MONSTER

~Monster Reincarnation Chronicle Starting After Being Stabbed To Death~

- VOLUME 11 -
The Dark Continent vol.2

-AUTHOR-
Kanekiru Kogitsune

-ILLUSTRATOR-Yamada

[Re:Monster Wiki]

鍛冶師さん

ほんわかとした雰囲気を持つ癒し系。
武具作りはドワーフ級の腕前。

種族 人間

姉妹さん(姉)

並々ならぬ
料理センスを持つ。
巨乳で右目に
ほくろがある。

種族 人間

姉妹さん(妹)

並々ならぬ
料理センスを持つ。
貧乳で左目に
ほくろがある。

種族 人間

オバ郎

ゴブリンとして異世界に転生
した主人公。喰えば喰うほど
強くなる【アップリケーション吸喰能力】で進化を
繰り返し、傭兵団《戦に備えよ》を
率いて新天地へと進出する。

種族 ヴァジュラサクシャオーバーロード ヴァイシラシズ
金剛夜叉鬼神・現神種

錬金術師さん

知的なクール系美人。
マジックアイテム製作に
定評がある。

種族 人間

赤髪ショート

赤髪がトレードマークの元冒険者。
《戦に備えよ》において、
主力の八鬼に次ぐ戦闘力を誇る。

種族 人間

DAY 441

Our informal talk with [Giant King] Barol. Dubazra ended late into the night.

We spent the night in a castle room built for dwarfs, which was prepared in advance, we enjoyed an extraordinary breakfast that we could normally not eat as we picked up the conversation from the meeting yesterday. While being guided by [Prince Mitsutake] and [Darkness Law Princess] we came to the <Second Treasury> a part of the royal castle where the King was waiting for us.

The <Second Treasury> exists in the central part of the castle and is protected by a huge gate which is even large enough to match the large [Prince Mitsutake] and the rest of the royal family.

Both sides of the gate separating the inside and outside shine like silver from a temple, and there is artwork in gold and jewelry of a [Four-armed Giant] fighting against a [Dragon With An Opened Mouth].

Apparently, although this gate seems like a masterpiece, according to the story from [Prince Mitsutake], even if viewed from an artistic point of view, the gate is made of an alloy called [Renati Elmuslar], a magic metal that can fully reflect magic, besides that it is also quite robust in terms of physical defense.

In addition to having magical keys and traps, two fully armed giant knights and two other giant wizards are on the left and right sides of the gate as guards.

It seems to be a preferable guard station among the giants when working inside the royal castle, but the guards that protect this treasure that rests here are the elite among the elite selected among them all, high loyalty and with proven skill.

With their strict guard, not even a mouse would escape their gaze, even royalty are not allowed entrance with out the permission of the [Giant King].

That <Second Treasury>, which is being so strictly protected, slowly opened up before us.

[Prince Mitsutake] handed the guard a letter from the [Giant King] and, after confirming it was real by a special means, opened the gate with a special method.

The interior that the gate is slowly revealed the stored treasures that the giants' country has managed to acquire throughout their long long history up to the present.

Compared with "___ First Treasury" where the magic items of the [Phantasmal] and [Legend] class are stored, the level of the treasure stored here drops greatly, but the <Second Treasury> in front of us still was a spectacular sight spreading out in front of us.

It was exactly like a mountain range with magic items of different sizes that can be used by giants, such as weapons and armor, lined up in a huge stone room.

It seems to be properly sorted and classified by classification, it is only by looking while using [Greater. Tool. Appraisal] or [Detect. Analyze] separately that I could comprehend the mountain of treasure.

Like a trapped flame that let off waves while shining red fire, the big sword Flamberge [Burning Horizon Shurushaga]

A short spear with an ornament that constantly emits cold air, stirring gusts of wind like a silvery wire that comes out at a cryogenic temperature [Ice Storm Crying Alastola]

An ultra heavy red-black hammer with violent lightning thorns growing from the striking face [Odori Bolanik. Nicks of Thunder Blood Spells]

A tower shield whose shape changes according to the angle of the incoming attack by combining hundreds of thick square magic metal plates [Laminated Shell of Transfiguration Devils Vanios. Ninayata]

Giant armor that was built by the giant craftsman Gamara. Bo, crafted from living material derived from black shellfish, it retains its glossy black shell [Black Rupture Heavy Shell Elephant Muscle Armor]

A thin but robust outer covering made from the tiger fur that is silky and hard like a magical metal [Smooth Southern Water Tiger's fur. Glorious Cloth Lamatos].

A cloud is created in one swing, rain pours down with two, a thunderstorm with three swings, and fine weather returns with four swings [Repairing Sky Fan. Clear Calla

Houou]

After putting ingredients on top then folding it, you can spread it out to make cooked dishes appear in large luncheon mats [Cook's Food Cloth Kokrio. Riona]

Made of rounded crystal and gold which informs the possessor of the approach of harmful existences [Compassion of Starienk]

A wolf's skull on silky black fur covered with silver workmanship seems to have phantoms drawn by its enchanting magical powers [Illusionist Wolf Festival Scriptures. Villa Ulub Spellbook]

--and so on.

There are hundreds of items that are huge and only for giants that we have never seen before.

Everything we see is huge and inconvenient to handle, but weaponry magic items are powerful substitutes for convenience if you can use them, and the area is filled with other useful magic items.

In addition to seeing all of that, we found unknown magical metal ingots and huge gems.

Of course one thing is the size, but surprisingly each is correspondingly of high quality.

Even one magic item here is expensive enough to make your eyes jump out and, even if you use it normally, it can be a powerful weapon.

However, this kind of high quality and quantity of items in storage is natural in a sense if you think about it calmly.

When you live in the special [Age of the Gods Dungeon], meaning the "Mysterious Dark Continent", battles with powerful dungeon monsters are inevitable.

It is hard to imagine the giant soldiers are repeatedly battling everyday in order to maintain the huge living area of the giant kingdom <Colossus. Titan>.

Also giants also act like ordinary people, with a need to hunt meat, fight, etc.

There will also be conflict with other powers.

Battles have been repeated every day for various things, so naturally there are many magic items that have been obtained in the course of their lives.

There is only the highest level of an [Age of the Gods Dungeon], meaning the drop items obtained from the Dungeon monster suppression and naturally occurring treasure chests are all high quality.

Drop items obtained like that are all stored in facilities other than the royal castle and effectively used, but some are carefully selected and gathered here as offerings.

It translates to the creation of the overwhelming sight before our eyes, that started forming thoughts of ransacking.

Especially because one hundred of these items will be ours from all of this, that is a serious thing.

After all, when I had my informal meeting with the [Giant King] we received a request.

Our target is the sleeping [Area Raided Boss] at the <Ancient City Titan Magia> - to unite and cooperate for a suppression of the ancient snake dragon King "Milgarum".

I was surprised when I heard the story, but he managed to convince me.

Originally the [Giant King] seemingly planned to challenge "Milgarum" alone.

From a person that knows the history of his people handed down through the generations, he brought up terms like "stronger than the present age", "Hero", and "Emperor", they could not resist the challenge of battling a natural disaster. After an army of more than a million giants died and disappeared it is nothing short of suicide to keep challenging as they have.

In the past however, the [Giant King] was a hardcore warrior that wandered around [Mysterious Dark Continent] since his younger days before becoming king and training his own warriors.

Since he is a member of the royal family of the giants, he was blessed with an amazing physique from a young age and had outstanding fighting skills, leading to fights against many strong opponents.

He challenged several [Area Raid Bosses] through the foolishness of youth and repeatedly escaped while taking seriously lethal injuries each time.

The scars of each of those serious injuries from that time are still left throughout his body, and the appearance of the [Giant King] was very impressive.

Anyhow, such a [Giant King] can not challenge "Milagrums", which is the boss most related to the giants.

He has tried challenging him so far he eventually reached that place each time but each challenge eventually ended with him seriously injured, but he survived.

The nearby elderly giant who seemed to be a butler said nothing, but his far off look combined with his deep sigh eloquently spoke of that past life.

Well then, putting in the time and trying to take out the [Area Raid Boss], the time passed while the battle continued to lead to defeats, eventually the [Giant King] from the previous generation formally passed on the title.

Then, in addition to having difficulty not acting rude in his new position of power, he had three loved wives and cute children.

Eventually, it seemed impossible for him to have any ridiculous ideas of challenging any other monsters.

From that point on he spent his days focusing on politics while training himself and his children.

It seems to have been fun to pass the time like that, the older brother of [Prince Mitsutake] grew wonderfully enough to leave his home behind.

Even if something ever happened to [Prince Mitsutake], there is also the [Darkness Law Princess] to take over afterwards.

On the political side, he solved important problems by himself, had trustworthy ministers, vassals, and young people who were raised with the emphasis on education.

Problems still come up, but those are trials for the next generation to solve.

So, this time [Giant King] has finally decided to kill his fated enemy "Milgrum".

Before becoming too old and unable to fight, it would be better to end his battles where his blood was first drawn.

Therefore, I wanted to challenge our ancestral foe.

I do not mind dying this time. I want to challenge with my death on the line.

When he was thinking about that, he also learned of my existence from [Prince Mitsutake], at that time it was said that there was a [oracle].

The [god of giants], which is his god of protection from among the pillars of gods, suggested that he got help from me.

[Giant king] did not want to die by himself.

It can't be helped if we can not help, but if he can win it would be better to have a promptly decides to act quickly and without hesitation.

However, he did not know whether or not we really have the needed strength, so setting up this informal meeting and seeing us directly, lead to him agreeing this not a mistake.

Not a bad story as far as I'm concerned.

There is no doubt that the huge [Giant King] will play a big part in the battle against the equally huge "Milgarum".

In addition, part of the reward we can get has already been prepaid and, adding the hundred items in the <Second Treasury>, we can receive a drop item from "Milgarum" as a success fee.

Of course, the [Giant King] also wants some of the drop items, but it seems that the honor of having made the same accomplishments as his ancestors is greater. That's why our names do not exactly appear in any lists to be subdued or banned, but we do not care because it is already an honor to be here.

Although it is unknown how many items will drop because the reward is unknown, [Giant King] had learned in detail the information of drop items obtained using other suppression battles from his ancestors as a reference, half of it will surely be enough.

Besides, even if we fail, there is more than enough profits if we only count the hundred prepaid items we obtained.

That is why we accepted the request from the [Giant King].

Well, conditionally we are almost equal, and it would be better to think that it is an allied party rather than an employer and a hired person.

After another discussion the decisive battle was set to happen several days later, we will start sorting out the prepaid items we want so far and prepare various other things.

Although not many days have passed since I came here, it seems we are going to have some fun.

DAY 442

From the early morning, I was guided by [Prince Mitsutake], because I am being moved to a room in the royal castle.

Although it was an empty room which was not been used much since the castle was built, its furniture was cleaned everyday because it was still in the King's Castle, being maintained and usable immediately.

However, this time the furniture decorating the room would just be in the way, so I asked them in advance to remove it, and I was being led to it since it was just completed.

The vacant room seems to be sized for a giant and, end to end it's a very long distance. You might understand a little if you imagine the scene of putting a doll in a saloon.

As to what I would do in such a room that is sized like a cathedral, I need it to lessen the risk of information leaks while maintaining the golem models made by the indigenous people and remodeling Benitama.

When I arrived at the room, I immediately took out countless production golems, processing, and maintenance tools that I had in the item box. Side by side there were twenty giant warriors taken out of the "Gigantes Golem Night Road" model, those that were already destroyed as well as the reserve units.

Then again, this time the enemy "Milgarum" is huge.

In order to fight it, it was necessary to have a minimum of its size secured.

Its size is directly connected to its strength.

Even if there was no technology, if it's the size of a mountain, a huge baby would easily be able to stomp ordinary humans with little to no resistance, ending with them trampled.

The overwhelming size in body gap makes individual ability an overwhelming element to turn the tables.

And "Milgarum" is not just big.

Small, sharp, and poisonous scales overlap many times along its body. The whole body is a mass of muscles, but contrary to its appearance it is can move fast, and even laying on powerful magic attacks will never defeat it due to the abundant magical power it has.

Although its only disadvantage is simply its overwhelming size, you can only imagine what will happen if such a thing is added in an ordinary strategy.

I have no problem because there are various means to combat that issue, and there is a high enough chance of us winning.

But when it comes to members other than me, Minokichi-kun and Asue-chan, it would even be enough if Kanami-chan attacks in the end.

It would only be suicide if any of the other members try the challenge. If they even tried to fight properly, perhaps, they would last for a few seconds.

However, although it is dangerous, it would be nice to give the children the opportunity to fight such an enemy.

So I prepared a Golem for each of them.

If I remodel it by adding a cockpit so that a person can get on board in the torso section, it would be much better than challenging with their life on the line.

If even Redhead or the children have a golem suit, they could take tentative shoots from a covered position, if they can, non-fighters like Blacksmith-san and even the Sisters can participate in that kind of warfare.

With a golem aiming from afar, it is easy work for Blacksmith-san to pull the trigger. There is nothing difficult in doing it, as the golem can aid you with aiming.

They can obtain valuable experience when participating in the battle against "Milgarum" and safely join in the subjugation.

What will it bring to Blacksmith-san and the others? Will they get a new [Job] or will it be expressed as another result?

There is certainly a part of my self that is curious and wants to know that, but the experience gained is sure to be useful.

For the future, it would be too regrettable to miss this opportunity.

However, multiple layers of protective measures need to be constructed.

As a matter of course, it is not too easy to have a giant meat shield as protection, so improvements to the golem itself is essential.

Fortunately Benitama will be able to solve that problem, although it will be a challenge that requires experience and skill.

The remodeling was extensive, including construction of a cockpit in which people can ride and an operating system, with the addition of functions like shock absorption so that their internal organs will not be destroyed, even during intense exercise.

Fortunately, however, there was no major difficulty.

Originally, similar machines were overflowing in my previous life, and I actually got into them many times.

This time, in addition to the information and the rule of thumb I learned then, we will add magic materials and other supplies of this world one after another.

Also, with just a roughly conveyed concept, Benitama greatly optimized the design.

Today, starting from the morning, countless golems have been busily working and time passes like that.

Since I can use them in various ways in the future, I think that I will continue using this method in the future.

DAY 443

Golem remodeling continued without even a moment of rest, and 80% of the scheduled remodeling has been completed.

Since the basic operation will be for long distance coverage this time, any aircraft capability should emphasize the ranged attack capability first, but Redhead and Oniwaka are better suited for close range combat due to their tactics and personality problems.

In accordance with that, changes to the aircraft specifications for Auro were made, and looking forward to its mass production, we first created several types of modified series that were similar to the original aircraft, each for their own purpose in an operation.

After that, we customization and tailored each golem based on the occupant it was given to.

While watching the preparations get steadily completed, I continue to eat meat from big beasts hunted in advance and giant dishes before the battle begins.

While the old giant chef who works for the royal family is swiftly cooking while wielding his kitchen knife to make dishes, looking at it, prompts Meal Hero to build dishes with added arrangements.

The dishes are made without rest for the needed giant's amount, the cuisine has been arranged to suit a decent amount of people.

We gladly ate it all.

There is a dish called "Ringuha".

Baked flat with several thighs from a behemoth minced up, there a several kinds of fresh vegetables, such as Amagi Onion and Sediment Tomato, it is a dish with juice from treasured fruit trees that brings out a rich, appetizing appetizing.

Does it look like an okonomiyaki, almost like a flat hamburger?

When putting chopsticks in it is as soft as tofu, juice just overflowing.

The fragrant smell from the flesh and meat juice stimulates the appetite nonstop, saliva seems to be overflowing unintentionally dominating the tongue.

The softness of meat and the sharp texture of vegetables. A harmony of subtle sweetness and acidity.

There are many lean cuts from the big beast, and if some say its rather tough, it is still soft enough to melt in your mouth.

The vegetables were nurtured by the abundant natural and dense magical power, and although it was nutritious and delicious individually, it gained a deeper taste through the fusion with meat.

There is another dish called "Dugolas".

It is a simple dish with slabs of meat from cattle and birds beasts on an iron skewer, shimmering like gold with a type of sand salt, and thoroughly baked over charcoal fire.

However, using the rarest parts of the behemoth generously, it is delicious enough to make a person sigh with just one bite, that's from being seasoned even further with the golden sand salt.

The surface is crisp and the inside is lean but soft, this is simply a delicious meat dish.

Hold it in one hand, open your mouth wide, bite the meat, and finally drink alcohol with your remaining hand.

Oh, it is the best combination.

Another dish is called "Baroto Lele".

This is a type of Getemono cuisine, it uses eggs of bird-type big beasts - they are as big as an adult man.

It is made with a boiled egg cooked just before hatching and, with almost formed beaks and feathers, it results with almost formed chicks. Despite its appearance, it seems that it is effective not only as a nourishing tonic but also for activating magic powers in your body.

The most precious part of the meal seems to be made using the egg of a phoenix, called "Feni. Barroto. Lele", and it is said that if you eat it you will get a certain period of immortality.

According to stories it will even heal incurable diseases, severe damage such as your head being crushed, as well as limb loss and being cut in half will all be repaired at high speed.

After a while I wanted to try it. While thinking about what was said, I sipped at the soup that had a distinctive smell when the egg was added to it, eating the crunchy chicks from the head down while looking at the white eyes that stared out blankly.

The next egg they used this time was from a big eagle called "Arga Texle. Phags" that the giants called a storm of taste, but I personally think that it is delicious for an egg.

Just from looking it was apparent, that Redhead, who was eating next to me, had could not help showing a bad face.

In addition to dishes prepared using big fish and the chefs were also using big bugs.

It is necessary to eat as much as possible the day before a battle, eat it, eat it, eat it, to change everything into blood, so we should all have more to eat.

It was a day I enjoyed gastronomy while using that excuse.

DAY 444

This time, the members who were originally non-fighting, such as Blacksmith-san, are planning to participate in the battle.

The person in question also acknowledged this, her sincere eyes seemed to be asking "It will protect us, won't it?" Even without her asking I would do everything in my power to protect them.

Anyway, the golems dedicated to each member, which is an absolute requirement for Blacksmith-san to participate, was finally completed this morning.

They are all in the King's Castle, prepared in the workshop we instantly set up.

There, the rigid bodies of a row of neatly arranged golems were sitting there, the Parabellum Golems "Gigatrol" were sitting there, they were remodeled based on the "Gigante Golem Night Road".

Basically, Gigatrol is as different from a Night Road golem, as a knight and would look compared to a demon with thickly muscled armor.

With a sharp points, the red prosthetic eyes glare at the enemy, with their thick and large big bodies overwhelming the surroundings. The height of Night Road's body was about 30 meters, but has been enlarged to 40 meters after reviewing the skeleton and its armor.

It seems to be too slow at first glance because it is thicker and heavier than a Night Road golem, but the overall performance has improved by over 30%, or more, after reviewing the design and using better materials.

Even with the weight increases, it's faster and more agile than a Night Road, and exceeds it in every aspect.

The Gigatrol shines black and silver color from the magic metal used for its armor strengthening, incorporating the opinions of passengers to achieve that coloring.

Besides coloring, the "Gigatrol" series is further divided into several models depending on operational needs and other circumstances, such as weapons available.

The most numerous type, the "Gigatrol Arte", are a type of rounded spike headed golem that looks like a mass produced kind of machine, it was made with the belief that its participation would only be in long range attacks in the early stage, a cockpit made especially for Blacksmith-san.

Basically it only performs long range bombardment, so we strengthened its armor to raise the firepower of each blow and its survival probability, incorporating an emergency escape device to eject the cockpit from the back to further protect the passengers, giving it a rather thick look.

The attached weapon is a special one, [Cuspelia's Gun Cannon], a cannon that can fire three kinds of magic bullets when magic power is added, it also includes multiple defensive system magic items such as rings and amulets, all obtained from the <Second Treasury>.

Its battle capability is high due to its size and layered effects of the magic items, but it is remember that its close combat capability is poor, due to the low skill and mobility of its passengers.

Because Alchemist-san will only board with Nicola, she has magic items to consume the abundant magical powers from the young Nicola, all in order to strengthen themselves.

As a result, the Alchemist's aircraft has the most offensive power in this group.

For Auro and Argento then, unlike the aircraft "Gigatrol Zolda" on which Opushii and [Meal Hero] are riding, or the "Gigatrol Arte" which was made for non-combatants like Blacksmith-san as a long distance type fighter, adjusting its balance was necessary to increase its corresponding power, so that they can achieve equal performance in any environment.

We reduced its armor to some extent to be able to more easily move around, made it slimmer, and added hands to increase its mobility.

In addition to the [Cuspelia's Gun Cannon] as its main weapon, it is equipped with a big sword, a long spear, and a big shield to parry enemy attacks, making it possible to fight close while controlling the battle flow.

They are also wearing copies of the giant light green cloak [Jumping Cloth of Kazematoi] as additional armor. This is a magic item that raises temporarily jumping power and can fly for a short time.

Unexpectedly, there is no other way to describe its appearance than to call it an ogre knight.

Especially with their ingrained habits, depending on the weapon chosen, it can respond to issues at any distance, making it seems that it will become the flagship machine of the future.

Redhead and Oniwaka's aircraft are close proximity types called "Gigatrol - Edge".

"Gigatrol Edge" has been strengthened for maximum firepower and maneuverability by redistributing the parts meant for armor strengthening towards reinforcing their long range attacks.

Their long range attacks are almost impossible to connect, but they are the most powerful option they have, fast and hard to miss.

Since it can be managed up to near-mid distances, if the passenger chooses, but it is sufficiently prepared for a new creation.

There was also a strong influence from the rider, Redhead's "Gigatrol Edge" has changed considerably into a beast-type shape.

It's head makes me think of a wolf who eats the enemy, with a crooked back in a forward tilting posture. As for its speed and flexibility, the exterior was heavily covered in behemoth fur making it supple, lighter than the usual metal armor.

The legs have a structure like carnivorous beasts who favors speed, and equipped in both hands were slightly long rectangular twin swords called [Giant Lady's Flesh and Bone Cutting Sword. Rival / Arga], adjustable claws added to the wrist to help walk on all fours, like a beast.

It is like a fusion of behemoths and giants, it can even be said that it looks like a ferocious veteran.

Originally a close combat type, it's obvious that "Gigatrol Edge" is only meant for Redhead.

Let's classify it as a new concept model, "Gigatrol Berg".

There was a big difference from the original blue-print, but if anything, after it was completed a trial run is necessary.

In order to quickly fine-tune any maintenance troubles, I call everyone and start working immediately.

At the training ground in the royal castle, the Gigatrols continued to move throughout the day.

DAY 445

The operation of the Gigatrol is very simple. Riding the cockpit, located in the chest, the whole body is wrapped and protected in a special device made of a gap-less pseudo-biological material. It would be easier to think that the protective material used here is a like slime that protects the passengers from shock.

The magic metal being utilized throughout the cockpit is spirit-sensitive, including parts from the protective equipment, meaning passengers do not require any technical skills or knowledge. The pilot can simply move his or her body and the corresponding part will move at will. By the way, there is a sense of touch through the hands, but no pain is transmitted, so there's no fear of feeling your hand break. It is a convenient specification that can handle extreme heat or cold with no problem.

Training is to be carried out to get used to the size differences of the flesh and the new body, as well as understanding the change in reach. Individual differences exist here and there, but it's possible to work through them in just several hours. It would be something like learning to drive a car, I guess?

If you actually move and get a feel for the new senses, it will be simple to eventually move without knowing the internal structure in detail. It's quite easy to understand after training as it feels like it's your own body.

Even noncombatants like Blacksmith-san would gain a similar result.

At any rate, even after she boards Gigatrol Arte, Blacksmith-san, as a non-combatant, is still unaccustomed to shooting with aim or intent to kill. She repeatedly practiced shooting in combinations.

Her aim is automated as I am trying to provide an added layer of defense to her golem with mini-clone bodies.

It is not a real issue as the sights are considerably simplified. She both walks and runs in the training grounds and doesn't need to stop for any emergencies.

Concentrating greatly on her stance, she had settles into a positioned with no stability problems. she is like a fixed artillery turret.

As for Redhead that will fight in close combat melee, she had reached the stage of being able to move almost like her usual flesh-and-bone fighting style.

There are slight differences in its range of motion, but for now, while adjusting to explore the area, she is ready to hunt the local Behemoths.

While thinking that the aircraft Gigatrol will come back without any damage, it is still prepared to respond immediately in case of emergencies. We also had to go with Prince Mitsutake in attendance.

Well, that ended without the expected disaster.

Although rushed, our preparations are nearing completion. Afterwards we will have a final meeting, and tomorrow we will hold a banquet to raise our spirits. The time is drawing near for the fun excursion, the enjoyable snake hunting time.

DAY 446

Tomorrow I will challenge Milgarum. Today, I helped with the Gigatrol training from early morning until evening.

Then, preparations such as inspection and maintenance were carried out until later in the evening. At night, the Giant King had a banquet prepared. The banquet held will also serve to deepen our friendship, so I headed for it.

Apparently it was also held as a rallying party, since the entire Royal Family is gathered, as usual, to eat together.

The ceiling is covered with a mural which likely displays several historical battles from the Giants' past. A huge magic items shines like a gentle sun, a fixture shaped like a chandelier. On the walls are fascinating paintings and furniture that attracts the viewers' eyes, tastefully on display throughout the area. Giant maids and a butler greet and direct the guests to their seats.

Freshly prepared dishes were arranged on the round table placed in the center of the room. The Giant King was seated at the head where we were then guided.

On the left and right of Giant King the Queen sits with three ladies. Her ladies in waiting or his concubines is my best guess. Next to them are Prince Mitsutake, Princess Yakushimo and four other young Giant children. Besides them, the seats near us are filled with a bulky middle-aged Giant General with a fearless face, an old Giant Priest sporting a splendid beard, the Giant Court Magician, and a middle-aged woman garbed in a magician's black and purple robe.

Various executives have also been invited to serve as a meet and greet with us as well.

We had already gotten a rough grasp of the faces and characters of everyone in the cafeteria from the information collected from my clones, but it was the first time we actually matched the faces to the names.

The children see us with pure curiosity or indifference, but the adult group is different. Others are staring at us with curiosity, distrust, discomfort, confusion, irritation, and various other emotions blurred together.

I do not know why this is happening so soon, but anyway, let the promotional banquet begin.

I eat the prepared dishes and drink much. The amount is vast. Soon enough Blacksmith-san displays a swollen belly, but Mino-kun and I continue to eat and drink.

Giant King had everything specially prepared, and it was all scrumptious.

However, now is not just a time to focus solely on eating and drinking.

Minokichi-kun continues drinking and eating without a word, but as a representative I must engage with Giant King, the Queen, and others as well.

So we talked, and I finally understood why the adult group is filled with various emotions.

Apparently the Queens, Giant General, Giant Court Magician and the Giant Priest are not completely in agreement with the Giant King's declaration to challenge Milgarum.

The Queens worries over their King and his body, making them uneasy. She is also wary of us, and whether or not the Giants are just being deceived by these insects and fairies.

The Giant General questions why, if the King were to challenge such a mighty foe, would he not choose himself and his subordinates instead of these "outsiders" - like us.

The Giant Priest understands that is impossible to stop the Giant King and trying to subdue Milgarum has validity for their future prosperity but, he has doubts on whether it is even possible.

The Giant Court Magician looks on with eyes of a researcher, observing our overall essence, we whom the Giant King has acknowledged.

There might be other reasons, but they seem to be centered around these.

Well, that's fine.

No matter what they all think, we will all just proceed as promised by the King.

I was careful not to show aversion or disgust for the time being, but I also wanted to make my stance firm and clear. To them it came off as picking a fight, and I was challenged by the General.

The Giant General is in the 90 meter class, approaching the royal size of the Giant King. He is the head of a prestigious family, in a position like a Duke, and the overall abilities other than physique are high across the board because of his having royal ancestors' blood mixed in.

He is slightly younger than the Giant King, and is a stubbornly loyal to the core. He held his high loyalty as his goal since he was young. Because he holds the idea that the giant species is supreme I could no longer stand his patronizing attitude and I can not look at him with the same respect as the Giant King.

In any case, it is not bad, as a sideshow. After all, activities will go smoother in the future as long as I show off some of my ability.

Needing a place to fight, I decided to use a wide garden that is adjacent to the dining room.

Various kinds of flowers are planted in the wide garden, and they are beautifully in bloom. It must have been designed so that you could sit and eat while watching the seasonal changes of the different flowers. There I stand to confront the general.

I am about 2 meters tall whereas the Giant General stands at about 90 meters. The difference is... big.

That size difference is overwhelming. So much so that it makes a comparison ridiculous. Someone my size can easily be killed, just as easily as a person could crush an insect crawling along the floor with a light step.

But of course, things will be different with me.

He first move is to trample me. So as to not be squished, and I must look like an insect just not one crawling on the ground, I fly into the sky avoiding fists and kicks along the way. The perspective is crazy because it is just that big a difference from usual. From my point of view, I see the Giant General as somewhat clumsy, I see him as slow moving, but his attacks were actually quite fast.

It is still not enough to match my speed. He could not as much as catch me. After some dodging I punch the Giant General, who is already reddened with anger, on the right cheek.

He assumed that punches from such an insignificant insect would be light and could not match the inherent power a Giant contains. The moment I made contact with his jaw you could hear that sound of meat collapsing. Because the bone and area affected was so large it sounded as if there was an explosion. Like in slow-motion, the bulk of the Giant General rises into the air while rotating at high speeds, and then collides with the ground.

Slumped across the grounds, if you looked at his face, it is slightly distorted as the cheek bone is crushed and his giant teeth are in pieces. The whites are the only part showing from his eyes.

For the time being, I have confirmed that he is only knocked out.

I called for either the butler or a nearby maid to treat him, and the butler hurriedly ran up to carry him away, but was struggling to do so because the Giant General was just too big. His is wearing no armor, so it is just the corresponding size and weight that is so massive.

Because it was somewhat silly to watch them so desperately trying to gather him up, I used [ALL CREATION] to float him up into the air.

Looking around, the reactions held now are more of surprise, or maybe shock. Anyway, the Queen's stance towards us has now softened because of such a one-sided display.

The culture of a meritocracy is quite convenient for such times. It is easy to manage if you hold power though it was possible to be oppressed if you held none.

After that, I drank with Giant King again.

It was a bit unexpected but because we are both drinkers, with plentiful liquor and big meaty dishes, it was time for some meaningful stories to come out.

On a side note, I drank while swimming in a sea of sake. I would feel awkward if I do this too many times, but sometimes this kind of drinking is not bad.

DAY 447

It is early in the morning and yesterday's sake is already gone.

Everyone else had been partly influenced by the sake but were already preparing before the sun rose, preparing for our departure.

This time, participating in battle is all our members and [Giant King], as a temporary member.

Although it might seem as too small a team to challenge the ancient secret serpent dragon heir "Milgarum" which is the "Area Raid Boss", it is useless because the [Giant King] refused anyone else coming along, saying that his participation is enough to cover for the entire giant race.

It is said that members who are non-combatants, such as Blacksmith-san, should not be taken along as participants, but I do not agree with that, I do not want to let this opportunity escape so I have asked the others to acknowledge them only as support.

Just as we start to see other people moving around, Prince Mitsuteru, Princess Darkness Law, and 150 giant escort gathered to leave together with us.

With a total of 152 people planning to merely watching the outcome from the outer edge of <Ancient Urban City Titan Magia>, and even if we are about to die they will not try to enter the battle.

The group was suggested by the Queens as a compromise, and this was the only group accepted by a [Giant King] full of tension, while being told again not to participate in the battle.

In addition they were only being able to predict how dangerous the battle would be from the aftermath of the previous attempts, it is a matter of course that we will be going against a historically strong enemy that has always been strongly opposed.

Well, from the Queen's silence they all know how dangerous it will be, if anything the unit will be there for the purpose of acting as a rescue party, so of course there should be a feeling of tension coming from that area.

With his interest in Gigatrol there is almost no feeling of tension coming from [Giant King] it could even be seen as funny.

In any case, the situation is going as planned.

Before Gigatrotu is Redhead who is already proficient in using it, big beasts and behemoths are pulled down along the road and are recovering materials from them as we moved along, gratefully collected all the materials, eventually reaching <Ancient Urban City Titan Magia> before noon.

As we reach that city I take out the box lunch made by [Meal Hero] and the giant court chefs from my item box and proceed to eat it, then we climbed down the cliff wall to go inside, moving along the path of megalith boulders.

Beyond our line of sight there is the destination, the royal castle, like a dark green wall that wraps around the royal castle, it seems to gets bigger as we approach.

The ancient secret serpent dragon heir "Milgarum".

Boasting as an overwhelming huge [Area Raid Boss].

As Blacksmith-san get closer, she seemed likely to lose to the pressure launched just by being there, but in addition to having equipped magic items to strengthen her mental power beforehand, encouragement comes in through the ear cuffs.

Then, as scheduled, we head to a position at the farthest range possible, but since it is unreliable with the influence being put on the mind and body, it is not easy to bear it, so the crown with big shields is created with the overlapping activation of [Lower Giant Generation] and [True Dragon Refining]. They are supported by "Black King Guardian Dragon / Drag Gigas".

"Black King Guardian Dragon Man" is a huge dragonman with black scales equipped with a large shield and crown made of dragon shell, specialized in defense

There is a total of ten bodies. Moving while in formation created its own special form of ability as a meat wall, behind them is the long distance type "Gigatrol Alte" in which Blacksmith-san rides wielding the [Qushiperia Gun Cane].

The [Qushiperia Gun Cane] has the ability to fire three kinds of magic bullets, and every one of them is a long-range sniper magic bullet.

There is literally its only role now, and charging takes a little time. If you shoot all six shots you would need to charge again, but it's powerful and has a long range.

The Blacksmith's role is to shoot all six shots of the long distance sniper into the wound after deliver the first blow, then it only has to evacuate.

No role is too heavy. This is the only battle line for her.

After watching the tense Blacksmith-san move away, I turn my focus onto Redhead and the children.

It is attention needed to make sure that they do not meet an instant death, try to do the impossible, and sticking to a support role.

Since their participation is only to provide aid, it would be troublesome if they do not do their part.

As the cornerstone of our battle formation, is the adult group, with everyone but Redhead uneasy, including [Giant King].

Everyone is under strict orders to avoid death blows, while Kanami-chan and I flew in the sky on each side of [Giant King] watching Minokichi-kun and Asu-chan's preparations.

Minokichi - kun and Asu - chan are more than twice as tall as me.

But even that is small for the giant species, even smaller than the Gigatrols.

Even though both demons are strong, it may seem a bit insufficient in a fight against "Milgarum" in terms of ability.

However, these two thought about what to do when they learnt about the existence of the giants living in the [Mysterious Dark Continent], and created a new technique before coming here.

Yes, it is a [Union].

No, it is only natural if I do not understand the meaning behind that just from hearing it.

If you think of it in a joking manner, a healthy man would think of a union between men and women, but in the case of these two demons, with their serious thinking about what to do for a huge enemy, although I do know know what kind of thought pattern brought that kind of situation, they could only come up with a single answer.

In that case it was [Union].

I was only listening to them talking up to this time, and it was surprising when I actually saw it.

First of all, Asue-chan gets on Minokichi-kun's shoulders while he is in a kneeling position. It is a shoulder carry.

I thought that was about it for [Union], but a big change happened soon.

Dazzling thunderous lightning starts coming from the eyes of second demon who is being carried.

As soon as the surrounding ground bulges up, the houses in the surroundings tip over and collapse with white flames rolling up, making it seem like the world is burning.

Changes occurred mainly in Minokichi-kun, the flow was quick, finished in the blink of an eye.

The ground manipulated by Asue-chan is compressed and transformed into a metal skeleton, becomes a pseudo-rigid muscle that flows, stretching and contracting, crystals covering the whole body like skin and fur.

Minookichi's golden thunder runs through the crystal like a nervous system that stretches throughout the body, with the white flame becoming the driving force to move the pseudo-rigid muscles, with the excess thunder and flames adding further power and color to the stone crystals.

Prior to [Union], Minokichi-kun was talking about it.

This form is the Demon Union [Axis 蛩蛩蛩フフフウウ.].

It was based on a huge monster which was described in an ancient document picked up in [The Tomb Tower of Ruins Mimanaya. Pandama].

- [ax 鎚 derivable] was a huge and irregular demon.

With a head like a cow, like Minotokichi, and a broad and abundant chest like Asue-chan.

Four thick arms with two additional grown plus additions from the shoulder blades. In his hands is a massive shield made of a highly compressed material, containing the power of two demons, as well as another hidden ax that burns as powerfully as the sun, and a pickax resonating with the earth, crushing the ground like a star.

Its back is covered with spiny hair made of red-black discolored peacock crystal similar to thorns, with a lower body is shaped like a hoof that was added to a human foot.

It looks as if Minokichi-kun and Asue-chan's characteristics were mixed, the best capabilities of two demons were brought up without damaging each other.

Its height is nearly equal to [Giant King]. It seems he was very surprised by this, the [Giant King] was left dumbfounded with his mouth opened.

Of course, Kanami and I are also feeling the same.

No, could anyone have predicted this? I guess there is no reason to think something like that was possible. It might have been just as crazy if a goblin squadron gathered here and created an invincibly huge robot, but that is just my thought.

Anyway, after we finish being astonished, it will be time to take care of our own parts.

With the changes that have happened so far, the sleeping "Milgarum" seems to have started to respond.

He turned his huge face and starts watching our position. A huge tongue coolly darts out moves as if it is looking at prey, observing us as if we were children in front of it.

The battle has already begun.

Then, it would be better to get a preemptive strike before it has time to attack.

In that case, I activated the prepared in advance tenth level magic "End Gate Kales. Starvation Gedna".

Enormous amounts of magical power come gushing out of my body, enough to make me remember fatigue, and then it appears.

A huge black hole opens above "Milgarum".

Black light pours down towards the ground from a space like the end of the world. It is the light that eats away everything it touches.

Attacks released at the speed of light can not be avoided, the black light that pours down eats at the body surface of "Milgarum" at a visible speed and reduces that power directed towards me.

If it goes against a normal opponent it can have the power to kill everything within its range of effect in a moment, but the entire body could not be caught up because "Milgarum" is too big. Still, I was able to cut the flesh a sufficient range of the flesh to a large extent.

The start of the Serpent hunting is announced while clear screams of pain rang throughout the area, it still moves beautifully enough to make you wonder how delicious it will taste.

DAY 448

Due to "End Gate Kales. Starvation Gedna" released at the first shot, Milgarum and the castle underneath it was crumpled. The Dragon scales and shell in the lighter places crumbled away, the meat gouged away.

Although that was where Blacksmith-san's sniper hammered in there, although it was damaged, most of the damage was blocked by its armor-like muscles, keeping the after-effects to less than I would have thought.

The only power stronger is in the magic items handled by the giants, and although that power was enough to go through any kingdom or empire's castle walls, it seems that it was not enough to hurt its thick muscle armor.

After bombarding for all she had charged up for, she quickly retreated.

Because she will die if she remains, she immediately realize what was the right decision.

Redhead and the children are careful not to draw too much attention, extensively attack the body in the near the wound, letting the blood flow and accumulating damage.

But overall it seems to be a small part, so it was not said that this also incurred significant damage.

Moreover, since it tried to heal almost immediately after being hurt, thanks to its unusually powerful regeneration capability, it was necessary to not concentrate on one area, instead dispersing our attackings to other areas in order to inhibit its regeneration.

The only weakness we could find was to dismantle it as efficiently as [Meal Hero]. Although he did not play a major role, he was still useful.

Kanami-chan, as an ice demon, soaked a part of the giant in ice, causing the death of his cells through necrosis, inhibiting his regeneration, restraining it with thousands of ice blocks, and she also strengthened herself by sucking its blood filled power, all at the same time.

Snakes, as cold-blooded animals, are vulnerable to temperature changes. Regardless of whatever "Milgalum" tries to do against it, Kanami's Devil's Ice has the power to instantly freeze any substance.

Whether it was compatible, she definitely slowed its movement and was just as damaging.

Minokichi-kun is, as usual, an avant-garde at fighting.

Using his big shield to prevent any attacks and chopping down with a big ax. At the same time, its meat is drilled into with a pick.

The unusual regenerative ability seems unable to be demonstrated because of the ax blows containing the heat of carbonization, repeated hits crushed the bones, all while acting as if excavating rock.

Rather it made its movements are slowed again, places along its body were making a strange distortions as its way of healing, in order to replace its missing parts.

[Giant King] fights alongside Mino Kichi-kun shoulder to shoulder, his fighting resembled [Prince Mitsuteru] and [Darkness Law Princess].

No, since it was [Giant King] who trained the brother and sister, it is only right that the brother and sister's fighting style resembled [Giant King].

[King of the Giants] is equipped with a golden bracelet in both wrists like his children's. It is one of the national treasures, classified at [Phantasmal] rank, they are the [Giant Rings of the Great God].

The golden bracelets can be equipped only by those who are connected by the [Giant God] lineage, it seems to have the ability to greatly strengthen the wearer's physical and magical power, and it also converts their magical power into physical destructive power.

While being a simple ability, it is strongest when being manipulated by those like [Giant King] with huge magical powers.

The massive fist delivered gentle blows to the dragon scales, the impact penetrating inside and crushing the surrounding tissue. The magical power condensed to form a third and fourth arm, and a high speed rotating magical saw was generated from the palm, leaving the bone meat cruelly cut.

A master fighter like [Prince Mitsuteru], he also use techniques like [Darkness Law Princess].

There was no weakness in any aspect, and he was daunting with just his magic power all the while.

In contrast, "Milgarum" was also strong.

With the power delivered in the first shot, I thought that the battle situation had swung in our favor, but its life force itself is extraordinary.

With the difficulty to inflict any damage due to its high defense power in the first place, it would be all the more difficult for the giant army to defeat it, from the stories told.

Rather, the larger the number, the more confusing and difficult in seeing the war situation as a whole.

Also, all of its attacks were large-scale.

You would die instantly if you breath in one of its poisonous breaths, starting off with throwing around enough death to melt anything at a touch, the amount of debris in the area will sink the surroundings until it becomes like a swamp.

It creates black clouds and exercises a magic that makes thousands of thunderstorms opening its mouth wide, as if it was trying to swallow it all, crawling in a state of super vibration which converted anything it touched to sand.

Moreover, the snake's 18 eyes instantly hid themselves with a special ability, combining into one eye, if hit with that gaze the body changes to stone through [Petrification] and the body burns [Flame burning], it will continue to carry out abnormal attacks such as [Consciousness] etc. that could make one lost sight of themselves and become a normal person.

Among its most powerful attack, with the supports the body with the tail, it extends its whole body towards the sky like a pillar, it compresses the magical power around its huge head after penetrating the clouds and plunges into the ground...

It is as deadly huge mass, falling from the sky high at high speeds, a simple but enormously powerful attack.

As if a gigantic meteorite, or even the sky, had fallen, with this blow the <Ancient Urban City Titan Magia> was unexpectedly collapsed.

Even though it was already in a devastating state from the previous battle, this last hit caused the ground to crack as if crushing thin ice, a plume of dust rises upwards into the sky along with huge rocks and debris, all scrambled together in an upward rush.

There are few means to block an attacks that make the most of the characteristics of an unusually bigger body, there is no choice but to try and avoid it, even if Mino Kichikun tried to catch it, that destructive power can only lead to his death.

Earth's Crust Tsunami, that is the only name that came to mind.

I was convinced of a story that said a previous earthquake that affected all of the [Mysterious Dark Continent] was due to this attack.

If it was not the special place called [Mysterious Dark Continent] that attack would have penetrated through the crust.

The disaster caused by such a blow that can only be compared to a natural disaster, striking with an unavoidable range and speed.

Judging in a moment that if I did not do anything I would be in danger, I got out even farther than everyone else. Fortunately, due to the mutual support for one another, there is a difference in the distance for each person behind me, but everyone is gathering.

Because it would have been impossible to cover everyone if they were too scattered, it is blessing to be thankful for.

With me in the forefront, I could suppress the damage from going backwards.

Along with stepping on crumbling ground to defend it, swinging down the [Starving Impaler of A Thousand Thorns (Kazıklı Bey)] without sparing any of its abilities such as [Army of Blood-dyed Crimson Spears (Tseng Pesch)], [Kongo Destruction of Supremacy Black Demon King], etc.

A remarkable blow came out to a certain extent, the wall of the debris was approaching at a fast speed, higher than the cloud, splitting the rubble like the miracle of Moses.

I feel that the waves of tremendous destruction run like a wave to the left and right of me.

The place I'm standing has become a kind of safe space, not even any pieces of debris were coming flying from behind.

However, even if the magnitude of the attack was not too large, even if the momentum was greatly decreased, the trajectory of the debris was scattered due to the collision between the changes to the rubble, and even with that the influence to the rear was not completely suppressed.

Kanami-chan had a little influence on the rubble due to staying near-by, letting the rubble pass through while being knocked aside with a mass of thick ice cubes, and Mino Kichi-kun blocked the rubble that flew past with his big shields.

[Giant King] also passes through the rubble that flew again. Although he got injured somewhat, it is restrained to some extent by possession possession.

The red hair shorts and the children who were in a little distance away from each other were in a state that they were somehow saved because they were separating them in the cockpit.

With just the shock wave that remained without disappearing, Gigatrol is blown off to the side of the wall, the armor is ruffled with rubble of pursuit and the extremities are scalloped with throwing up many times.

Red haired shorts like being agitated beyond the cockpit 's shock absorption limit cause the whole body to fracture, and the internal organs are also damaged.

It was good because the treatment was in time, but it was dead unless the body protected the body.

The blacksmiths who were the furthest struck like a storm like the rogue of rubble, but the fact that the momentum had dropped slightly and the several magic items that made it, and then the densely populated meat shields tried all the dead power Although it was sacrificed, Gigatrol was still in a state to be able to move even though it suffered great damage.

Battle is impossible, but escape is still as much as possible.

It was a blunder thing that I could not get through without damages, but I still feel worried about what to do now, even though this was the best result.

It is not a thing that I knew how much time would be needed if I fight normally.

Perhaps it will be necessary for several days even if it is short.

But it seems like someone dies, so stop fighting in the face, as soon as I saw the time I stuck at the tip of a tail like a mountain.

After clinging, with the ability of Zhu lance pierce hundreds of books and spider spears from the ground, penetrate to the meat, equip the whole beech wrapped armor with the beetle released. In that state the silver arms are thin and widely spread like a slime, and it is changed in shape to numerous tentacles by [Tentacle snake's mad feast].

Tentacular silver arms not only increase the binding force by winding many times but also the tip is sharp and pointed like a snake's fang, deeply biting into the meat makes it difficult to disengage.

From there there are repeatedly activating all abilities that are likely to be restrained anyhow, such as the burning golden ganglia and golden threads wearing a heavy muscle relaxation system and a nerve destruction system by [snake venom administration Venom] and a paralyzed flame.

It is like attacking from the inside, but it may not have much influence from the viewpoint of size, vitality, etc.

However, you can take freedom even a slight amount. Using the bodies strengthened by [Kuro Demon King's Violence of Violence] also fixes the bulge of "Margaruumu" only partly though.

In fact it is best to eat a large amount of meal and enlarge your body from a bigger animal [gigantic] etc. If you can learn it was the best without trouble. Let me assume that even if we were able to store only the materials necessary for enlarging the body that we were dealing with as a second best solution.

Snake swallows prey.

Imitating it, I enlarged the head enveloped in the Doku armor, expanded my mouth wide, and decided to eat from the tail.

A head that changes drastically. It is like a foreign shape that added an outer cosmetic tentacle to that character copying the ability of an enemy who sucked in pink.

It surely swallows "Margaruumu" which is too big, it surely swallows and disappears into the body of obviously disproportionate size.

Although it may be an indispensable scene to inspect the madness as seen from the end, well, it is only the girl and the giant king who are in this place.

My girlfriend will be used to it, and [giant king] is experienced so it will be okay.

Regardless, it seems that it is more scary than being fought or attacked normally to be eaten with jaggies from the tail.

"Margaruumu" is surprised, it fixes it so that it does not move with full power, but continues to eat as it is.

Of course not only thick dragon scales and dragon shells playing the attacks of the enemy, thick thick robust meat and the dragon bone supporting the large bodies can not be resisted and are crushed with teeth.

My biggest attack is still biting.

Even the "Sacred Element" which can not be destroyed even if it is chewed and nourished, even the "Margaruumu" which has faintly [god] though it is weak can be eaten.

Rather, it is too much material to stop eating.

I was ecstatic about it.

Taste substitutes for parts, and taste changes depending on accumulated damage.

Originally ripened [sacred treasure] like umami ingredients Tappily complicated and rich "Milgarum" provides a new surprise every time it eats, so it was a superb food ingredient that can not stop as soon as you start eating.

[Ability (Ability) [Legend of the Furu]

[Ability name] [Learning of Serpent Ryuzo]

[Learning completion of ability name [Fertile earth foundation]]

[Ability name [Giant's natural enemy] Learning completion]

[Ability name [Completion of learning of God of the continent]]

[Ability name [Learning of the snake scales of the snake dragon] completed]

[Ability name [Completion of Learning of Serpent Hair Compression Stiffness]]

[Ability name [Lamination of the Snake Dragon's Laminated Bone] completed]

[Ability name [Learning completion of snake dragon's mountain tail]]

[Ability name [Life of ancient species genealogy] completed]

[Learning completion of ability name [Wisdom of old dragon]]

[Learning completion of ability name [Veteran strain]]

[Learning completion of ability name [ruler of old city]]

Besides, the amount that can only be eaten by the gigantic body is large, and as a result the number that can be learned is also overwhelming.

All I have to eat.

DAY 449

The still moving meal, however, is its demise. It's nice to chew because it's different in texture in every part of its body, but sometimes I used two black spears because I wanted to have more variety... definitely not because my jaws got tired.

If you pierce with [black spear of demise], everything in five meters around the wound changes to something like black sand. If you pierce with [the black spear of origin], the surrounding five meters will turn into a crimson liquid like blood.

Part of the body of "Mildgalum" that pierces it has become a muddy liquid of black sand and crimson liquid mixed together, so kinda reflects light like how a liquid would. If you change the pace of consumption, the taste also changes.

However, the amount of "Mildgalum" is about 100 meters thick and the length is likely to be tens of kilometers and hence too large. So its good for a change using umami ingredients such as tappuri gold sand salt, fragrant and delicious green wasabi, using labyrinth ingredients such as golden onions and cloud carrot. After various trials and errors made with sauces etc. to change the taste, I enjoyed it greatly.

It took some time to start eating from the tail onto the head finally. Even after having more than half of its body eaten, it was still desperately counterattacking. "Mildgalum" had a good life. It had tried killing me many times, but all were parried by Minotokichi and [giant king]. The gigantic body was slashed or crushed by the kichi's big ax and the giant repeatedly, such that it had become minced by the hude force of the big fists, however it still moves at high speed. Still, damage accumulated, and steadily reducing the force of Mildgalum's counterattack.

While temporarily attacking and using my full power to damage the huge body, as well as trying to escape its counterattack by shedding, I still ate it with restraint.

The war situation had been decided. From the mouth of "Mildgalum" there were no longer a roaring full of vigour, only screams of horror were exiting its mouth.

While being sympathetic to its scream for a moment, the taste only became better due to damage accumulation, it is so delicious that I can not stop. Just like the screams, my chewing did not stop.

[Ability name [Rakujyo New]]

[Ability name [Longing completed] [Learning completed]]

[Ability name [heavy pressure of snake dragon]]

[Ability name [complete awakening of Serpent dragon's evil true eye]]

[Ability Name [Ancient Natural Disaster] Learning Completed]

Then time passed and I could eat up to the head before dusk. At the end, "Mildgalum" was so delicious that Suzuzu(red head?) suddenly came and took a bite, chewing a piece from the head. Having a dream come true, Hafuri(red head?) leaked out a long sigh. Meat that entered my belly will certainly benefit me and give me some new abilities. Although this fight was pretty dangerous and everyone was injured and fatigued, it is great that they were able to overcome without dying.

[Succeeded in the suppression of Area Raided Boss "Margaruumu"] [Clearing condition of the Divine Psalm [Milgarum]] [minority defeat] [abnormal annihilation] [self-confidence survival] has been achieved] [Special ability special skill [One reason of the Tianjin Landslide] will be granted to an individual who has completed the achievement] [Treasure box as a first subjugation bonus to an individual who has completed the achievement [Treasures of the continent serpent tree] was awarded]

[Psalm awakening person / part of divine blessing of [God of the continent was collected by the main character] [Due to the Collector of divine power to be of greater power, the divine blessing is of poorer quality] [part of the divine power will be materialized into an item] [Rou got [[Continental God Yoon Feng Yan Miser. Vallegarde]!!] After the system message, we started sorting out the dropped bonus treasure boxes and drop items that became a massive heap that looked like mountains. It is a mountain of magic items that emit an inhuman amount of magical powers everywhere you see. Many are giant sized, but there are also many that are more compact sized for us.

We are supposed to receive half of the drop items. The sorting was too much to decide at once, so me and [giant king] alternately took turns in getting the items we want. Sometimes I get the item I want, but sometimes also vice versa. However there are bound to be items I took that the [giant king] wanted as well. Well, mostly you choose the magic items for yourself, and if there are items and magical ingots that we both wanted from each other, we just trade. The ridiculously rare thing was rolling everywhere as well, so there are a lot of items that I would like to hold onto that will be useful into the future so it will be a bit annoying.

By the way, as for the bonus treasure box and [sacred treasure] it is in the perfect size for us so i took it. [Giant king] is also convinced and it is a drop item that appeared only because I participated in the fight Anyway, after finishing all the work, we held a banquet to heal the exhausted minds and bodies. We prepared an outdoor cuisine in the wasteland and eat beside many giant fireflies. Blacksmith, red head and the children also joined us because the battle is over. Because Iiyu(meal hero?) is mixed in there, he prepared the dish quickly.

Maybe because I am tired, the meal is considerably simpler than usual. Baked meat and sake like a mountain. Another heap that is like a little knob.

Well, I have a bloated stomach, and Mino Yoshikun(minokichi?) who dismissed [coalescence(union?)] is also hungry, so it seems that meat dish will be finished quickly. I drank and I cheered up. My vigor, instantly returned to my fatigued body, it seems that the meat dish is an important component to regenerate my lost blood and flesh.

When I was eating and drinking for a while, the group of [Prince Mitsuteru] and [Princess Dark Princess] who had forgotten Sukkari(who tf is this) (its meant 'completely', as in 'completely forgotten') existed were only supposed to look from afar, but their appearance seemed otherwise.

After I heard the story, it seems the aftermath of the fight affected them as well despite the huge distance between them and us. Many escort giants were injured by scattered debris, but for the time being there were no fatalities. It would have been unfortunate.

Well putting it aside, we ate the meal together with [Mitsuteru Oji(who the fk are this)(its the prince)]. The giants also had heavy appetite, so a huge amount of ingredients were readied and the chefs were there as well. Coloring were garnished onto the cooking dishes. While the dishes were very delicious, the victory banquet would continue even late into the night.

DAY 450

After falling asleep due to fatigue until lunch and resting, the [giants king] from the giant kingdom <Clonusus. Titan> accompanying the giants made a triumphant revival.

Promptly advertising to give up the honor of subjugation to the [giant king] as contracted, it seems that the pioneer has already returned and preparation is proceeding.

The information has already been spread, and the preparation for the triumphant parade is completed.

[Giant king] asked me "I want to talk about it again, how are you together", but since I was able to do what I wanted to do, I promised to meet again and saw the giants king.
(no idea what this means)

After that, we made it to the ruin and decided to go to the next city quickly on the big skeleton carrier, from the <old treasure old city Tietomagia>, which will regenerate after a while.

Cleaning up the simple golem factory in Oujou has already been done and finishing a farewell speech with Mr. Craith for a while.

I will also contact you so that I may be seeing you again soon.

As it relates to the future of Argento, he kept watching a bit while leaving, the journey of seeking new ingredients continues.

Next destination is [Earth Dragon King] the underground city governed by Granbados = Leptonaval <Grandba glass>.

Because Asuji-chan responds strongly because it says that it is rich in mineral resources, blacksmiths and alchemists also want to go see it because they want new research materials.

It seems that there is an area raid boss near here, and its name seems to exist chosen by an ancient guardian spiritual endeavor [Fabnilipan] [god of heritage].

I wonder what it is, but there is only one that I care most.

It is what the rocky cuisine which can be eaten, delicious rare rice which is the local dish of the underground city <Grandba glass> which the giant king said at the banquet seat. <

What kind of dish is rocky cuisine that anyone can eat?

I'd like to go and have a snack.

DAY 451

Although it is a story when he drank alcohol with [the Giant King], he also heard about the powerful races on the [Mysteriously Rich Dark Continent], as well as gathering information.

There are several powerful tribes, such as the devil tribe, which includes the Crece clan and chairman of commerce, and the land dragon, which controls the underground city of <Granbagras> as the next destination, and the Giants are considered to be one of them.

Well, that would be natural.

That is an honest impression when I heard the story.

The giant-looking giants that make up the Giants are composed of a much stronger skeleton than a poor magic metal, and stiff muscles that exert exceptionally strong and flexible repulsion.

And the outer parts is covered with thick, hard hair and skin, and the inner part is full of magic and vitality.

In addition, there are no weak connections between the Giants, who have the same or greater intelligence as humans, and develop their own culture and technology.

[Wisdom snake dragon] is not a species that is known as the strongest species along with the dragon species.

The Giants should be said to be human upward compatible.

There is a Giant species that has only the same head as the beast, but it is well placed.

In addition to the height of the overall ability, the control area of the Giants, which are united by the Giants, is quite large.

It is said that in general, compared with other major races, about one-fifth of the surface of the [Mysteriously Rich Dark Continent], which does not include the dungeon and the sky, is in the zone of dominance.

Well, it is difficult to imagine, even if they say that it is about one-fifth or more, because the size of the [Mysteriously Rich Dark Continent] is not yet understood.

In addition, it seems that there is a lot of untouched land, although it is in the zone of dominance, therefore only a small part is actually used.

However, I can only imagine that it would still be wide.

And although they are giants who control such a vast land, it can be said that they are small in terms of their general abilities and capabilities.

It is impossible to more seriously expand the zone of domination, if it becomes serious. In fact, the power of the Giants is well known in the past.

However, it was resolved over the years.

Why is this?

Therefore, I wondered why I thought that this was the main reason to avoid fighting with other leading races, either because they were not enough, or the food situation, to support the giants.

This may be enough to avoid a dispute.

Giants are not perfect, and sometimes they are scolded if they are caught off guard.

Other strong races that have not yet met may be stronger than expected and may take no action to avoid unnecessary ware.

Then how about the number of people to control it?

Although it is not considered, it seems that among the signs that they felt, there are hundreds of thousands of Giants.

It's not that much, but the tribal strength of the Giants seems to be relatively high compared to the comparable dragons.

If there is only this, the range of things that can be done is quite wide. In addition, even if the number of giants is small, it will be anything as long as it controls other races.

And last but not least: all Giants are huge.

It is several times smaller than the average person, and when it comes to large species, such as the royal family, it boasts castle or mountain boulders.

And if he is so big, he will need a lot of food, such as mountains, to keep boulders.

If you feed all the people of such a giant, you can easily imagine that the necessary food will be huge.

Of course, it must consume in less than a day, as much as a human country will consume in a year.

Because of that, the Giants are the main source of the flesh of the big-big Biggs dungeon monsters that have more than their physique.

A huge beast is a dungeon monster, so it can not be exhausted, and it contains not only beasts but also whales, so there are a wide variety of flavors.

If you get used to the persimmon dishes, it is not unreasonably bad, and it is also delicious and nutritionally good.

If there were no giant dungeon monsters, would it be difficult to maintain the current scale?

I asked the [Giant King] before, but unfortunately the answer was simpler.

The fact that the dominant area of the Giants is settled down at present is a topographical problem that even the Giants, whose terrain can be remodeled by civil engineering, can not help it.

The control group of the Giants will be the entire jumping-out area where giant dungeon monsters pop up, but it is surrounded by Giants called [Lieberg Ridge Drusta Tenshinzou] so that they are isolated by a huge ridge that is difficult to pass.

The Riveli Draste Tenshinka Mountain Range is built from mountains just above 10,000 meters above sea level, and the mountains seem to be sharp like a sword.

Even the Giants are covered with world ice, and it cannot be surpassed in a semi-permanent event, such as the Tenshin ridge, as if through clouds and reaching the sky.

Even species flying in the sky are affected by a stormy storm and die, falling or dying, flying in a thin atmosphere.

It seems that even if I have enough abilities and luck, it will be difficult to survive.

Hearing such a story, I thought that I would like to see the Angel range.

A good idea would be to have a tasty meal and see landscapes that I have never seen since I came to this place.

That is why I left for a while, but even today he is still in camp, not passing through the forest.

It seems that the tribes of the Giants can be divided into three environments, but it will probably take longer than we thought.

Even if we focused on the restoration of food along the way, in addition to movement, it was a huge area.

While I was eating a lot of meat that I encountered on the way.

Lean red meat baked around the fire changes color. Dripping meat juice gave off a fragrant smell and I swallowed saliva in front of a simple, but energetic, large, roasted meat seasoned with golden salt, like lots of umami ingredients.

When I am finished, I have forest blessings, such as mushrooms, fruits, and wild vegetables, and I moisturize my throat with the help of a huge local lava drink, such as a Giant, who was abandoned when a large beast was killed.

Well, it's delicious.

[Psalm of Peace [Black Story] [18 Demon Warlords] Nicola has awakenedd]

[The title [Refined Golden Princess] will be given]

[World Psalm [Black Story] [18 Demon Warlords] Opushi has undergone [Rank-Up [Evolution]]]

[A variant that is a world psalm [Black Story] [18 Demon Warlords] has been improved by [Rank-Up (Evolution)]

[Due to clearing Condition “1” [Rank-Up (Evolution)], Opushi will receive the title [Jewel Beast Princess]

DAY 452

I get out from a tent where the hundred feet skeleton deformed from a morning sun.

While doing lighter flexible exercises, I confirmed the state of the five children whose appearance changed yesterday.

Apparently I experienced the ancient seizure dragon heir "Margaruumu" warfare, and it seems that I got the [evolutionary existence], or new [occupation] by the experience value I gained.

If you fought to the end you may have had [evolutionary existence] or new [occupation], but there is no way to know about it.

Among such children, the first one to evolve was Ouro and Argento, whose tribe was [Mix-blooded Lord] now [Mix-Blooded Tsukunagiri. New Species].

The apparent change is that the body has grown as many as a few years old. (?His body has grown to the size of few years old kid) (Their bodies grown a few years older than before imo)

The Three Orbs at the center of both hands and chest were added to both shoulders and become five at the end.

The (?Living armor) bodied armor (?was replaced by) clothes which looked like the mixture of Japanese and Western style armor.

Then it seems that the number of corners has increased and the tattoo became darker.

However, it is easy to grasp from the magical power which leaks out that the armor is surely increasing his strength. It's powerful enough to think that he is a different person.

Moreover, it seems that it became possible to refine and recruit even ghouls, even temporarily though the magical powers are consumed when used.

Ghosts are like existing existence which copied themselves from others existences and they can release accumulation of damage which is more than a certain amount of consumed magical powers which becomes a driving force. (?Divine Force??)

The illusion can perfectly reproduce the original ability of the copied object, but if you copy the existence of the user - which has the difference in competence between Ouro and Argento - the recall rate will fall greatly.

I tried making an illusion copying me to try, but it is about 30% -40%. of existence. It seems to use a considerable ammount of magical power, and the duration is short for the price of number of summons.

However, ghosts can be disposable such as suicide bombs, etc. It is a considerable strength to be able to prepare a stronger unit in a moment if the aur and Argent which are the main body are stronger.

It is quite nice to be able to cope with a large number of wars from a small number of wars because it can receive powerful benefits also for collective warfare by obtaining new [profession] such as new [Onishima general] and new [profession] such as it.

(?Its good to cope with wars of high quality that have low quantity)

Besides, it seems that they got some jobs like [divine hunter] and [big beast hunter], therefore you can expect them to be strong in the future.

Next, although it is a demon, [[Rampaging Jailer Oni]] became [Enma Prison Torturer Oni• Subspecies]. (? which demon??) (Its Oniwaka. TN: Enma is King of Hell)

The giant subspecies is about 5 meters in length, whereas his body skin is red and blood black. The muscles are thick like an armor, and those who saw that figure will receive a great mental and physical pressure.

In addition to the armor of a biological weapon that can be used as an iron ball, a huge gold crush bar with a slightly different shape is held in his hand.

Although the gold crush bar itself had been used favorably by Okuma until now, it became a biological weapon this time and it has become the size suitable for the size of the body. That is, it is a mass of a huge biometal metal.

However, its tip was not rounded so far, it had a shape resembling a sleeve entanglement dent.

In other words, it seems that you can also hit and beat the prey to interfere with the movement.

I have a feeling that some abilities were added in addition to his improved fighting ability.

Next thing it is Nicola, but because she is human, we can not see a sudden physical growth.

But surely it got bigger and the way she walked on her own was steady without instability.

There was something of an irregular shape that was not there before.

I wonder if something of indeterminate can be said to be a slime with a complex monstrous emblem embossed on a silver liquid metal.

Before it is impossible to understand what it is, something of indeterminate is called "Hideo", and it is cerebral and seriously affected by human type and beast type.

Considering from the title that you got a new creator artist Crest Maker that you originally had when you were born two years ago, Hydo is probably a kind of alchemist.

Perhaps he is excellent in that direction only to the child with the alchemist.

Growth is slow on the physical side, but what happens after obtaining a foot where freely moving two-colored growth can move freely in the mental aspect.

Personally I am quite looking forward to it.

For now, as a future safety, I gave Hydo a large amount of magical metal.

Marcatrakten(??Slime??) absorbed magical power. Marcadena Buten to store magical power. A hard but brittle travertine. Soft but tenacious Borgatoc ten. (?The slime has absorbed and stored the magical power and become soft, but tenacious.)

Other ingots of other magical metals were like snacks for Hydo after the meals, the slime increased its volume.

At a time it became on the same level (I think the author trying to describes the size/height) as Mino Kichi, after that it became a roundly compressed shape and then headed to Nicola.

When Given a magical metal it will tremble happily, so if you give him something he would like you to get something for him again.

And finally Opushii.

Opushii who was [apostle demon / subspecies] from the time of birth seems to be now [hidden bastard devil Arbitinista - new species]. (??) (Its Dark Jewel Beast Lord/Onihime/Demon Princess • New Species)

It seems like a race that exists between a demon and a beast, and the physical features are also reflected.

The flesh that grew as a whole over several years, the color hair like ashes remaining after burning out extended to the waist, the sharpness like a carnivorous beast was added to the eyes like beautiful red ruby.

And the pattern painted throughout the body with material like diamonds on the brown skin becomes more complicated and reddish hair which covered the forearm and lower limbs is increasing in size.

The tail like a wolf extends from the buttocks, and each hair shines like a thin, supple and soft gem. Its color will change depending on the viewing angle and light, but basically it looks like a stone.

Another corner that grows on forehead like a devil man shining like a obsidian like a bright sparkle shines like a beautiful rainbow color that feels scary, increasing its number and making a shape like a tiara.

Because it is [demon], I do not even know whether the neighborhood is reflected.

And the number of Devils peculiar to Kikito Road has increased from two to five.

In addition to her demon orbs which red and blue are mixed together as it is hidden in the bristles of the forearm which existed originally, now demon orbs of similar beauty in which yellow and green intermingle are buried in the knees of both feet, inhale everything in the chest Black Demons that are about to be filled are buried.

Opushii orbs are unlike any ordinary Onigiri(?ogre orb), each seems to be beautiful like a jewel and have the magical power that is likely to be sucked. (?Transformed) (I think he meant 'captivating anyone who looks at it')

First of all, we also tried to grasp the abilities of children while moving forward in the forest.

We slaughter the big beasts easier than before and pile up the dead.

Nicola who could not participate before in the war is also joining, and the children are totally at ease so that they will be driven by the full of universality that overflows.

While watching the situation, I noticed somewhat sad Kanami-chan.

I will try hard at night.

'Note: In short the Opushii has changed from the Apostle-lord species to the demon - human-beast species and the two demon orbs became five, also there is a new friendly slime which can absorb magical power therefore while 'eating' variety of kinds of magic metals it has already reached the Power of Kichi'.

DAY 453

An endless plain spread through the forest before noon.

It seems that large plants of the giants are cultivated in plains that can be seen far from the horizon, but they are not located in here because the place is different.

But if it were a wide plain there would be a considerable leeway on land.

To be called a large-scale farm, it must surely be huge.

Anyway, we went straight on the plain.

The destination is the Tianyu mountain range for sightseeing purposes, and also because it has an underground road dug by the local dragon located there.

There are basically three patterns to go through the giants' dominance area and head towards other dominant areas.

The first pattern is to go along the coast where the Tianyu mountain ranges are interrupted, <Going down the giant yamame. vesta>.

This giant road is connected to the dominant sphere of two leading tribes on both sides and it is relatively safe as it is maintained by the giants to pass between the territory of the big beasts.

This trail seems to be used mainly for trade of other races, and the traffic volume is the most.

Incidentally, there is a giant road, but it seems that the giants tend to travel a lot on the road because there are only widths that the giants of the average physique are lined up as three people line up.

The second pattern is to go through the foothills of the Tianyu Ranges and go through the valley called <The Road Valley Of Gray Fortress>.

In that place not only the height difference is intense, but it is also necessary to pay attention to sliding and falling rocks.

It seems that it is a most unpopular pattern because there are a lot of nests of big-breed dungeon monsters that can fly, so giants often lose their lives by a surprise attack from the sky.

And the third pattern is to go through the "Underground Road Graak. Easter" of the Temple built by Dragon.

It is said to not only join the underground city <Granba glass> which spreads under the Teng Peng Range, but also the other control areas.

However, there are a lot of physically strong dungeon monsters which live there, and there is a high risk of falling. In addition to being exposed to a generated toxic gas.

But it's convenient, so I plan on going there.

By the way, there seems to be another way similar to the underpass in the Tianyu mountains.

It is connected to the large underground cavern that "crazy low-evil eye glazalee" dominates, and there is a rumor that the scout of "crazy eyes" has been released.

Unfortunately, none of them seems to be able to confirm whether it is actually true or not. It is said that it is still one of the troubles.

In any case, the journey continues.

I felt like a nomadic feeling when I was going on the plain.

Since there are no livestock, for the time being, we tried one flock of "ancient species" like dungeon monsters of "Borfol" that was nearby.

Although it is a small flock of only six heads, even the smallest individual will have ten times the strength of Borufol.

(?ten times stronger than Borufol)

Temperism seems to be rough, pushing the plain while letting the fierce footsteps resonate.

It has a speed that does not make him have an appearance, it has a stupid body which looks like an idiot who runs faster and longer than a horse.

Even if it's small in size, it's powerful just by running alone and it's a pleasant feeling that other dungeon monsters are afraid to notice us and chose to not disturb us.

They were able to go beyond my expectations.

I was able to attach a little, so brushing my whole body, I slept in the night to be surrounded.

Sleeping outdoors in this way may be occasional.

DAY 454

I will continue on the plains today.

Along the way, it seems that there was a noise at the front.

Sounds of battle sound and huge creatures are moving violently.

Most likely it was a giant or a big beast. I thought so while I was advancing without speeding up, there were giants as expected.

Are the Giants a peddler or a merchant in the middle of carrying goods from the outside?

Although it was not understood, huge beasts were gathered to surround a group of giants who loaded a large amount of cargo on a carriage pulled by a trained six-legged giant horse.

As seen from the clothes, there are three merchant-like giants. There are variations in middle-aged, adolescents, boys and ages, but from appearance and behavior they appear to be families.

And there are five giants to protect the three.

Equipped with armor, it will be a guard from the trained body. Three of the five men were men, well-equipped with the warriors of the war.

The other two are women and one has a huge bow with a crumbling arrow and one has a huge magic wand.

The size was different, and it was a structure like an adventurer party to see often.

It is positioned to be able to follow each other, and it is an experienced party as it is linked in detail.

And for such a group, it was, after all, "a madness eye".

A flock of red-dyed double-headed giants attacked the giants like crazy and turned their fangs to beat their flesh.

There were a dozen or so numbers and different types.

The huge ridge "Leverapound" that runs through the plains faster than the wind, and the huge ridge "Valdrino", whose thick skin is hardened like a ridge.

Then, a huge whale "Pardrazede" that kills huge eggs by planting eggs on the skin and meat of the prey and kills them from the inside, a huge black bombarding ant "Bardraponera", etc., which pierces poisons that act alone and explode many times There is.

When dealing with the "slaying madness" that is thrown away and thrown in, the offensive is limited if you turn around behind the scenes.

I think that those who go crazy and slammed in death should reduce the number by intensive attack, but it seems to be difficult in the presence of defenders.

Even so, the escort giants who are continuing their escape while maintaining both attack and protection were struggling.

However, as time went by, they kept exposing their opponents to danger, and their guards were exhausted, so their physical strength and concentration seemed to be falling.

Because it is an opportunity, it is not creeping to overlook it, and children are thrown away.

The enthusiastic kids poke in at a carnivore-like speed aiming at the prey, as it would be easier if you board the Gigatorl and poke in.

Needless to say the result.

Food ingredients for rice increased, and I got some injuries, but I'm getting to the point of getting rid of them right away.

Then we exchanged simple information with the giants who helped.

According to it, it seems that a group of "insanity of madness" was secretly invading, and a group of giants accidentally discovered it.

And it was chased because of it and it was dangerous without help.

We gave up on some of the products for thanks and we went ahead.

It's a bit good information, so I really want to see the invading “stray eyes”.

DAY 455

There were no big events in particular, and it was smooth. After noon, it started to travel from the plains to rolling hills.

The Heavenly Punishment Mountains are also clearly visible, but only as something like a distant black and white wall. It penetrates the clouds, and its support extends to the sky.

I felt that it was so big and honest that I could see this way from this distance.

To explain in a little more detail, there are three major divisions of the Giants.

The first is a forest area that includes the capital city 'Kronussus Titan' and other important facilities and institutions of the Giants, especially the huge beasts and boulders 'Gigantic Forest Bigus Foretos'.

The forest area, rich in nature, is the deepest part of the dominating area, so it is not only easy to protect from other powerful races, but some of it is in contact with the ocean where we came.

As a result, it is a land rich in land and sea natural blessings such as marine products and salt, as well as land blessings such as large animals and plants.

It is a plain area that extends to such a forest area so as to surround it like a gully.

Most of the plain area is almost untouched and natural, but there is a way to connect the inside and the outside for trading, and a large-scale farm is run by the Giants.

Vegetables and fruits are grown at a large-scale farm surrounded by huge rock walls that avoid giants.

Most of them are contained in the belly of the Giants, but a small portion seems to be used for trading with other leading races.

I actually ate it, but it tastes good, and in addition to being large and able to secure the amount, it seems to be popular because it lasts for freshness.

When giant warriors go out for training, the vegetables of a large-scale plantation will always be brought in as preservation food.

And it is the hill area which becomes the present location to extend so as to surround such plain area further.

The land continues to go as far as rippling, and this tells us that it is a little more to the Tenzanes, which clearly delimits the tribe of the Giants.

If you look up hills, you can see that something exists far away.

From right to left, or from left to right, it seems to continue everywhere. The hugeness of the heavenly punishment mountains. It was a scene that I felt that it was hisashi.

On the way to such a heavenly mountain range, as with Kore, children defeat the huge beast dungeon monsters that are attacking.

The tribes that appear according to the terrain were obtained by defeating "Mirgal orm" with the blacksmiths in the vacant time while watching the different big beasts. Let's examine the product in a jiggle.

The figure of [Continental Jinno Toyo Tori cane] is a cane composed of a snake that closely resembles "Mirgal Orum".

A straight-up snake with a head a little in front of it, shaped like an iridescent jewel in its mouth.

I felt the atmosphere that overwhelmed the surroundings just because I had it, I felt the energy from my body when I got it, and I felt that the magical power came out without exhaustion.

If you shake it lightly, the plants in the swaying direction grow rapidly and wither at once, but new plants grow again.

It is also much more lonely than the dead plants, and it is also prosperous.

When I tried shaking it on a tree that produces fruits like red apple with black spots called "Kudonapuru", the tree grew and then fell, and a new tree sprouted there.

And if you eat fruit from a tree that has become a large tree without taking tens of seconds, it is sweeter and delicious than the first, and it looks shiny. It seems that effects such as prompting the recovery of magical power are added, and it is not only usable as a cane, but it is clear that it is an easy-to-use [portable].

Also, there are many other magic items that I got.

There are too many items to list at once, so it's too much trouble, but it's a pile of magic items with levels that make it easy for Oki to kill you simply by equipping them.

Because of its ease of use and high performance, those who possess it will be able to express it as a play that is likely to be stagnant due to its strength.

I think it would be better to handle them carefully, and for the time being they will sleep in an item box.

We think that high-class members can use it well, but, well, it will not be bad to give as a reward.

In the meantime, if you have something you want to use, such as Mino Yoshi-kun, secure it first, and after distributing several points, it will be saved for later.

However, the number of items kept as soon as possible is also increasing.

It's a good time when you have all the skills and numbers, so you may want to release some as a bonus.

Let's decide what to give to whom, referring to the materials you have been thinking about before.

However, when I was thinking about such things, I was complained from the red-haired shorts who were searching for magic items, "But it was a good item, but it would have been better if it had meat."

In line with that, Iinyu also "I wonder what kind of meat quality-" "I wanted to try to cut with a kitchen knife by all means" "But meat is of course, but anything could be used for something I'm starting to say.

My sister also said, "I think it would be delicious if it was a steak," "I wanted to try smoking."

I am shocked to it.

We all participated in the defeat of "Mirgal Orum".

And he succeeded in making a wound, and from the huge experience gained with it, all the blacksmiths, as well as the red hair shorts, went up their level and got a new job.

As a result, their physical abilities have improved dramatically. Self-defense has also reached a level where it can be managed by physical ability alone to some extent.

But that's it, this is this.

It seems to be dissatisfaction that red-haired shorts and rice prostitutes did not get the finest meat after all while accepting the benefit.

At that time I was obliged to survive, but if I was calm I would have wanted to eat as well.

It's been well poisoned by me, but for the past few days the mind and my mind have been stabbed.

The present case is the result of losing appetite, so it is hard to say at present.

Pieces of meat may have been found in the ruins, but it is unlikely to be left where there was that much destruction.

It would have blew away with a high probability aftermath, and even if it should have survived, it should have disappeared over time.

That's why I had to endure crawling along the way and need to keep it separate.

I was thinking of going back to hunting again when new individuals were born while reflecting on my mistakes.

DAY 456

We went up the hilly area and arrived at the foot of the Tenzane Mountains in the evening.

Looking up at the Heavenly Punishment Mountains from the bottom of the mountain, I am just overwhelmed by the hugeness of that scale.

It was felt like a wall of the world that became a mountain range that was lined with mountains that boasted an overwhelming scale one by one.

The point of looking up is the black and white limit.

A natural execution site that kills those who have stepped in without hesitation as the steep cliffs continue to the left and right.

The movement of thick clouds that hide the summit is fast and intense, and gives a visual indication of the speed of the wind flow.

Well, if this is the case, the big beasts can not go out, and the giants are convinced that it will be difficult to get over them.

When I look up I wonder whether cold air will flow into the weir, a wind that blows away. Sisters seemed to feel quite cold, and the body shook with a hurry. I'm rubbing my arms and trying to keep warm.

For the moment I handed over my coat and decided to stay overnight with a bag.

It is because there is still a little distance to aim at "underground ground of Jinomiya", and I wanted to see the majesty of the Tennatsu mountains a little.

First of all, dozens of pictures are taken with the video sphere.

[Picture artist] or [painter] If it draws it to the member who possesses, it will sell at high prices.

While preparing for the camp, I hoped that there would not be a "frenzy star" nearby, but it seems that it is not.

Although there was information that it had been intrusive, I haven't seen it yet.

I wonder if it is hiding somewhere or waiting for the prey to show a chance.

Waiting for the prey to show a gap may be unlikely because it is an act that does not come from a "crazy eye" but it is difficult to judge because it does not know in detail.

There is no need to be attacked, and a large beast that you hunted along the way and a kind of vegetables that you have collected are used to complete a dish.

This time it is cold, so it's a little hot pot. Several large bodies of meat were used to satisfy the stomachs of gluttony me and Minokichi.

The amount consumed would be hundreds of people in human calculations, or such a unit?

The warm, irresistible hot pot that eats in the slightly cold outdoors is ehmon.

Kyu and the matching labyrinth liquor were also exceptional.

DAY 457

In the end, time has passed without encountering "a lunacy star", and we arrive at the entrance of the "underground ground of the shrine".

The entrance was a huge cave that was large enough to accommodate giants and had no gates. It opens in the corner of the Heavenly Punishment Mountains, and extends deeper and deeper than I can detect.

When I entered it, I thought it would be dark as it was underground, but it wasn't.

Visibility is secured to the extent that it feels a bit dim by the light that is naturally produced by a fungus that is dotted on the walls of the cave-this is also an ancient species, that emits more light than outside.

However, there are dark parts by all means, and such a part was darker with only a certain amount of light.

The floor is unexpectedly even, and it can be moved without problems by a carriage or the like. It seems that it has been developed for trading with other leading races, so the ground dragons who built the underground road may be maintaining the area.

As it seemed to be no problem even with riding on the large skeleton carriage we proceed at a steady pace.

The air was cold because it was a cave, and the air was different from the outside.

Although nothing happened for a while, it is dangerous to assume that underground roads are being maintained.

As we move forward, we can hear the sound of running water.

It was far away at first and it got more intense as we went forward, and as we continued further we came out in an open space where it became a roar.

It turned into a smooth rocky surface as if it had been scraped off by water, and the wide-spreading footing was extremely narrow and only two carriages could pass lined up side by side.

The space itself may be enough for several giants to go wild, but just beside the footing is a cliff with a height of several tens of meters, and a large amount of groundwater flows below the cliff.

There is a volume of water that will be swallowed in a matter of seconds if it falls, and the groundwater is flowing further underground.

The sound also echoed and resounded, and the air was moistened by the droplets, and I felt the strength of the water in my whole body.

When I proceeded with careful attention to the narrow footsteps, It became a cave again, and this time, I was attacked by the "Dark Hunt" "Velopal Butt", a dungeon-shaped dungeon monster.

Vorpalbat is an assassin who is as big as a cat, moves without any sound as it approaches its prey and is capable of cutting the human body with paper-like blades.

It is terrifying even alone, and it is in a group of dozens of this time.

I was attacked all at once from the dark, but I was able to deal with them without any problems because I had already known of their presence in advance.

I Proceed to pick up the meat that has been pretreated and lightly grilled. The blade has a feeling like crispy and senkai, so I remember the Goblin era somehow.

Basically, it is a road that travels underground to the basement with gentle and occasional steep gradients.

Along the way, I could see other layers of different colors or go around places like temples built with quartz.

There were various other dangerous and fun things, but it would have been fortunate to be able to go while enjoying the underground world that you can not usually see.

It's a spirit to respond to going through unbroken underpasses with a sense of blockage.

While being relieved to have proceeded while enjoying it without being disturbed to much. I was not able to arrive at the destination today, so decided to stay overnight in an open space that seems to be established as a rest area in a part of the underground road.

Various pictures are drawn on the rock wall here.

Perhaps the meandering picture going down is a map. The road from here to the ground roughly matches the in-brain map by [In-the-brain mapping skill mapping]. If so, the rest of the journey will be about half a day.

While I think that I have advanced considerably, I also check the dungeon monsters and topographical attention points and other pictures.

It seems that there is a falling trap that activates just by approaching, and a dungeon monster attacking it.

These warnings are honestly welcome.

Also, although the rest area is underground, there is evidence that the air flow is coming from outside and that the area is starting to warm up.

It seems that traders often come here to trade, and there were places like toilets.

I am grateful so I will use it, and I will use a flame to warm up and drink sake and spicy meat dishes.

This is the difference between the warmth and inner warmth.

After having eaten a meal, we chatted a little and get to bed in preparation for tomorrow.

I wrapped myself in a warm luxury feather sleeping bag so as not to get too cold.

[# Boss monkey ___ Gardora Evra __ has been awakened to [Enran 18 Warlord]]

[Your title will be presented]

[World Psalms [Kuroei Monogatari] [Denan and the Eighteenth War Commander] are here!

[The prerequisites of World Psalm [Black Evil Story] [Onishi ■ ■] have been unlocked]

[[■ ■ ■ ■] is necessary for the progress of World Psalm [Black Evil Tale] [Onishi ■ ■ ■]

The voice that was heard just before your consciousness was asleep.

To that end, it is an honest impression that the last [Dirin 18 warlord] was you.

We do not know about the last [Kigami ■■] and [■■ ■ ■ ■], so let's leave it.

How will it be when time comes.

DAY 458

Wake up and get in touch with the boss monkey for now.

The result is similar to before, with personal enhancements and new abilities.

In the case of the boss monkey, it seems that there is a grant of the burning ability to subordinates and subordinates, etc., and it seems that the offensive and defensive one-handed usability is good.

In addition, it seems that the ability of all the members who were selected as [18 Demon Warlords] has also improved compared to before, whether that the [18 Demon Warlords] was in full swing.

Red-haired shorts and children also seem to be in good shape from morning, and they are always busy.

Then, while having good things from the morning, I will go underpass.

In the underground world where the sun can not be seen, time can be understood by communication with the external body.

Our move is going well, and often the merchants make a pass.

Merchants were various, including giants, demons, armors, and beasts, and escorts were naturally made up of those who were supposed to be non-combatants and possess high combat ability.

In order to self-defense, it must be the minimum ability.

We arrived at the underground city <Granbaglas> in the evening, considering the distribution of the dark continent.

[Ground dragon King] Underground city <Granbagrass>, ruled by Granbados-Leptonaval.

It is a geofront that exists in a mortar-like underground space that is a few tens of kilometers in diameter and several thousand meters in depth.

A spherical structure made of various minerals and crystals in the center of a mortar-shaped city, illuminated on blue celestial crystals that glow vulgarly on the ceiling and glow like blue starlight.

In the tenth, eighty-nine [Dragon King], the residence, the palace, the center, the rock, the building, the sloping surface.

(original sentence: 十中八九 [地龍王] の住処であり宮殿だろうそれを中心に、岩石で構築された建築物が斜面にビッシリとひしめいている。)

Also, is it to make underground resources accessible to mining? Some of the slopes are open with pits and side holes, and it is possible to see the residents who carry tools to the holes.

Also, probably because it is the earth dragon which controls, it is easy to move even in a narrow place, and there are many figures of earth dragons with long and thick dragon shells that may have been adapted to proceed without problems even in a severe underground.

At the side of the earth dragon, there was a rock-dwelling rock-goat rock goose and a dwarf worker, and it disappeared into the tunnel with a bright smile.

The underground city <Granbaguras>, which was ahead of the underpass, was more vibrant than expected.

Continue down the underground path that was connected to the highest point of the mortar-like topography and go down.

Apparently a deeper place seems to be a living area of existence that is classified as a royal aristocrat or a wealthy affluent market, so the current location seems to be a space for the lowest class residents.

There is still a lively area near the entrance because there are some out-of-the-way merchants, and there are many shops for external use.

However, the lively center of the city is slightly lower than the entrance, and the area is most populated.

In addition, there are the largest number in the middle of the tunnel, and it can be seen that many mined resources are collected.

As we have only seen the other side, we should head down for the time being whether the area below the doorway is as vibrant as the other side.

I thought so, but apparently there was a rule, and the outsider was allowed to pass only to a depth of two.

I'm going to go further down if I clear the conditions, so I decided to clear the conditions a little tomorrow and decided to stay at the hotel for the time being.

Time was too late and there were no good lodgings already because of other merchants.

So I thought it would be fine to go to a camp with a large frame of 100 bones, but since the camp is regulated, there is no choice but to stay somewhere.

So I stayed at a cheap hotel which was vacant from the poor people's caves, but the price is a little high although I have no food. In addition, the air is also bad and there is a strange smell. In addition to the fact that there was only a large room for small fish sleeping, shopkeepers like white fish were quite modestly customer-friendly.

There are various dissatisfaction, but if it is cheap lodging, it breaks down with such a thing, but I came to this place, but I went to bed sleeping on the dish using the huge meat meat on hand while cooking.

The bed here seems to be made of a special rattan, and I was a little fluffy and slept easily. Only this sleeping comfort may be a good point.

However, while I feel the difference of customs and so on by land, I smell a little blood and I am a little bit angry.

I will try to get a better accommodation tomorrow.

By the way, what is the depth?

It seems that the depth is classified from 1 to 5 to say that a large mole-based beast who worked as a guard of the gate leading to the depth three.

A depth 1 is a section where underground roads are connected and poor people and stores for external use are lined up.

In the second place, there are many ordinary people living there, and outsiders carry money into it.

Depth three is the center where the main tunnels are dense and the richest commons and merchants are the most concentrated.

Depth four is an important section where the aristocrats and administrative facilities are gathered.

And depth five becomes the most important section where [the dragon dragon] and its pedigree live.

DAY 459

If it was a little before dawn, I was sleeping, but I woke up in response to the being coming close emitting killing intent.

I woke up at once and saw Minoyoshi-kun and Kanami-chan, but it seemed they were still sleeping and I was the only one on alert.

I waited for what would happen, knowing the others trusted me to take care of anything that may come our way.

Eventually I feel something flowing in from the outside of the large room intermittently, for now, let's take a part of that gas with [All Creation] and inhale it.

Then, it was understood by the body that it was a gas that was filled with magic agents that cause [coma] and [paralysis].

The effect of magic is so powerful that it must be an illegal magic that would otherwise be treated as a contraband. If you inhale a little, awareness would not return and the victim would be dragged into a deep sleep unless detoxified.

Anyway, It would be quite dangerous if the blacksmiths inhaled it so I will do my best to contain it when the gas fills the big room, and I will do my best to make a few suspicious people come in when they hear no noise I will kill them without sound.

Then came the moment to kill, the poor beastmen-like beasts couldn't understand what was happening to them as I attacked.

I was angry at being attacked, so I tied the lower hand of the beast men whose necks were bent with a thread into a mass, carried them out with one hand, and left the large room.

It seems that the children had woken a little at that stage, but they slept again as they decided the commotion was nothing.

In order to finish things quickly, I moved to where the suspicious shopkeeper was hiding in a large room for some time.

The shopkeeper who tried to cut me with something is further beaten pinned down and binded using my golden thread.

My face distorts in anger, and their view is blocked as my fists rain down upon them. At that stage, they began to beg for forgiveness, I then proceed to pull out the information I need, the bad guys are assassin's, and they seem to be members of the black market organizations that are dealing in illegal ways.

And the shopkeeper had a connection with the black market organization, and made it clear that they had sold our information.

Travelers often disappear on their way along the underground whether it's a robbery or monsters they won't be missed and no one will come looking for them it is a perfect crime.

This seems to be a similar occurrence round these parts so no one pays any attention to these incidents.

The shopkeeper's confession is supported by the smell of blood that has been stained on the bed so I know he is telling me everything.

I quickly knocked the storekeeper out as he tried to escape tied him with a thread, and headed to the place of the mole beast man of the guard who I spoke to yesterday with the dead bodies of the bad guys.

I remembered the way back, so it was easy to return to the gate.

I think that this is a lot of effort this early in the morning and so I explained the situation lightly, the mole-based beastman first examined the equipment of the bad guys and made a conclusion.

Apparently, the bad guys are members of the "Perubigas Family", which is one of the largest in the black market organization.

It seems that there was a mix of people with high class, and this time a large prize will also be awarded.

It seems I had caught a big game, though in truth I didn't go hunting these guys came to us.

Is it because we just came from the outside and looked like rich merchants? Certainly, the bound shopkeeper was keenly looking at my money and equipment when I entered his shop. I may have been chosen as a target from there.

Well it doesn't matter now no point in trying to understand the motives of the dead.

The deceased's corpse and equipment were taken as evidence, and the tied shopkeeper was also taken away to be interrogated.

I wanted to see him as a corpse, but I can not help it. I gave up this time.

It would be better for him to be a member of the governing system like the mole beast.

Instead, i will receive a prize and the record crystal installed at the gate will record this contribution.

The prize money is only a modest amount, but the contribution rate is more than I thought, so it was a bothersome but not a bad thing to be attacked this time.

Sometimes we need more than a certain amount of contribution in order for beings coming in from outside to deepen our trust.

You can get the index contribution by bringing back minerals in the danger zone at the end of the tunnel, slaying dangerous dungeon monsters, or catching offenders as part of maintaining security.

And in this one case, the degree of contribution has accumulated a little, and it can be said that it is a good start for the first morning.

So, I decided to destroy <Perviass Family> that made the first move against me.

There is no regret, so for the time being, we will start full-scale information collection using different methods.

While thinking that we will gather to a certain extent tomorrow, we will be guided by the staff members of the survey agency as arranged by the mole-based beasts as a thank you to a cheap hotel and go to the store to get breakfast together with everyone.

I asked a mole-based beast to recommend a restaurant that is famous for its rock dishes.

Then we go to the recommended shop and order "Today's Recommendation".

The price is reasonable, and many customers are ordering, so it is not a loss.

Then wait for a while.

It was placed on a black flat stone plate, and it was a few centimeters of cobblestone that was several centimeters in size and carried.

The corner is round and it is white and thin.

I try to touch it with my fingertips, but the feel and hardness are no different from real stones. Even if it is rolling in Kawahara, it will not be distinguishable.

I also don't know if it's baked or boiled, but it's slightly warm like human skin.

Stone plates were carried one after another and all stopped moving in front of us lined up in front of everyone.

Nobody is surveying the surroundings while saying, 'Hmm, can you eat this? Except for us.

I can sense that feeling coming from the rest of the group so I picked it up first put the cobble to my mouth and then began to chew.

I have eaten more hard products such as [Jinku] until now, so I have no problems at this level now, and I can bite it slowly.

At first the texture was still stone itself, but with only a little power, it was strange that the cobbles became soft.

It is delicious that it turns into a texture like a thick meat somewhere and then oozes out.

It was something that was also matured. Like meat but also like fish.

As I bite, I am surprised by the cobbles that change bite after bite, then swallow and then reach out for more.

It may be said that it was nurtured by the earth after a long time.

Everyone started to reach out after eating these strange but interesting and delicious boulders.

My face changes as I am surprised by the unnatural feeling and taste and shows a smile. In addition to the unprecedented experience, it would have been interesting to know how everyone else felt.

The amount of boulders placed in the stone trays that were carried in the first order is sufficient and everyone seems satisfied.

Some who are just big eaters make more orders and fill their belly.

At that time, I asked the clerk about the boulders.

It might be used to giving an explanation because other visitors from the outside have come before. The clerk explained quickly and easily.

According to it, cobblestone is a kind of ore that can be eaten from the special strata which can be eaten other than the underground organisms that predominate on mineral resources, and it is said to be called edible stone.

While the place where it can be collected is limited to some extent, it seems that the store manager is buying a cheap and delicious edible stone because the store manager has a thick and wide connection.

However, the deeper the stone is, the more delicious stone is prepared. It's a delicious shop if it's the same depth, so if you want more delicious edible stone, you should deepen the depth.

I decided to make plans for the future while listening to other information while thinking that I needed to delve deeper and deeper.

DAY 460

Since the division has stocked the information of <Perbigas Family>, we decided to go hunting soon.

It is me and Kanami-chan, Minokichi-kun and Ase-chan, and red-haired short to participate in the hunt.

Blacksmiths, children, and Ii Ryu remain, and they plan to collect information and sightseeing.

The “Perviagas Family”, which became the prey, is based in the deepest part of a deep, well-dwelled area, a poor people's cave.

The poor people's caves were dimmed and smelled of mold, and there were residents of Athikochi that seemed to be helpless. Whether it's some magic, it's hard to find something that's not sane.

Such a place is quickly escaped while concealing the sign, but the base of <Perbigas Family> is located at the tip of a tunnel dug secretly in a piece of poor man's cave.

The tunnel was extended to a slightly distant place, and it was connected to one of the danger zones around the underground city <Granbagrass> <Ishlion crystal treasure tree cave>.

It has been confirmed that <Perviagas Family> is funded by selling off good quality drop items obtained there, as well as back-to-back operations such as assassination threat abductions.

It seems that there is a back route where tariffs do not apply and there are also transactions with distant places, so the scale of the business is quite big.

Currently, the members move in a hurry in the case of the bad-handed person arrest case the other day and will start retaliation against us in a few days to keep them.

There is no reason to wait, so we have chosen to kill first.

The base of the site is the place where an ordinary cave is eroded by a huge crystal crystal of white and clear blue.

It is very hot here because it is flowing magma nearby, and it is a hot and humid environment due to the influence of flowing groundwater.

In addition to that, it seems that even if special bacteria are flying in the air, it will rot from the body if it goes without strong vitality and measures for something.

It would be an image of bacteriological weapons being sprayed in a sauna-like environment.

The horrors of this beautiful crystal treasure tree can be felt as horrible and horrible as it spreads.

We regained our mind and we went on the "Ishlion Crystal Treasure Tree Cave".

We were able to receive a dungeon monster with a crystal-like body surface and shell coming under the shadow of a crystal treasure tree, and arrived at the home of the <Perviagas Family> without taking a few hours.

The base was relatively less affected by crystal treasure trees, and it was a section with a much better environment compared to the hot and humid way.

The only members that can be active at the home of the <Perviagas Family> are those who can be trusted.

Less than a hundred signs can be felt from within the home base integrated with rocky rock walls.

However, the strength came from the swaying powers and signs. Among them, the strongest one seems to be Perbigus, the boss of <Perbigus Family>.

Only Perbigas can not escape. Mainly contributing value-wise.

As there are multiple escape routes at the base, let's first destroy it.

The strategy is simple. We started "from the front".

Even if it is too violent and it collapses, Ase seems to be able to manage somehow, we moved as usual.

DAY 461

Pervisus, the boss of Pervias Family, was a 100-legged Kai.

A human body wrapped in a robust red-purple exoskeleton that will be as thick and thick as a bodybuilder or pro wrestler, and three meters tall.

The flaming red and partially discolored heads that are not reddish purple are those of a vicious 100 foot that makes you feel fearful, and they have a thick, long tactile sense that will not only detect the surroundings but also hit the enemy, and deadly It is characterized by its large black and black fangs, which are used to

And there are other features like a hundred feet, and the tail extends like a hundred feet itself, which will be 5 meters from the back to the buttocks.

From the side of the red-red one-hundred-tail that is the same as the torso, there were innumerable flashy legs that stained yellow, and the point was sharp like a pile.

The legs are usually folded and wrap around like a cocoon, but in battle they become a weird weapon that can attack or restrain the enemy with countless legs with poison.

The attack by the freely moving one hundred foot tail is phenomenal, but the skill of the spiral weir used in the human arm is a strong man who never beats, and in addition the head is not bad.

Perbigus seems to have been putting up an organization using high force and intelligence.

There are many things that only a few misdevils are addicted and hostile to many people, but they have been screwed down and overthrown.

But the last one was a bribe of further injustice.

It is the enthusiastic Minokici good luck that confronted with Perbigas who came out to intercept the attackers.

He was unable to wear a spiral hammer before the defense was too thick, and the 100 foot tail approaching from the blind spot was detected and cut off with a hammer.

Even if they were cut off, they made Zurri and a new one hundred foot tail, but it has not been possible to overcome the situation.

The battle was slightly prolonged from Perbigus's vitality, but it ended before the other members were destroyed.

The limbs and one hundred feet are cut off and finally the neck is scolded.

It was amazing to see that Perbigus's obsession, or even if it was cut off his head, he felt a bit in his head only with a tactile sense that became shorter, and that he bit on Minokichi-kun's leg.

To that end, Minokichi was surprised at the way, but poisonous tugs are blocked by bristles, thick skin and muscles, and there is almost no damage.

Even a slight amount of poison is excreted from the wound only by tightening the muscles, and the effect of the remaining poison is also naturally cured in about ten seconds.

While applauding the last point with Minoyoshi, the torso other than the head used for identity verification was appreciated.

Although other members also asked, unfortunately I was not able to learn.

And while there was such a thing, we were able to destroy <Perviagas Family>, thankfully rooted in the treasures stored in the base, and we once returned to have the degree of contribution added.

The contribution was more than expected, as it was a big game, and this continued to hunt today as it sought for the next prey as efficient.

If the big back organization <Perviass Family> was lost, what happened later was a battle over the territory aimed at a blank area by back organization etc.

It is expected that the rivals of medium-sized and small-scale back tissue aiming at upswing from the current situation will be intensifying.

It's still a stage before the current information spreads, so it's a little later that there's actually movement.

As a body that has made a lingering move that will happen in the future, we should keep the damage to the general public at a minimum.

If you know that a lot of back tissue moves, first reduce the total number. That would reduce the scale of the disturbance.

We, who had been theoretically armed by the rule, started to act separately.

I move freely alone, and the information collected by the divisions is communicated to all.

Kanami-chan and Red-haired Shorts form a pair and start acting as fast as a blood-thirsty carnivore.

Minoyoshi-kun and Ase-chan also went to the outside danger zone in search of strong people by quality rather than quantity.

Ii Iku, the blacksmith and the children have group activities for safety and enjoy sightseeing here as well.

By the way, blacksmiths can hardly earn contribution if it is this assignment.

Although there is no way to earn money, it is subtle.

So you might think that blacksmiths can not deepen the depth, but thankfully the degree of contribution necessary to deepen the depth is shared if you register as one group first.

Naturally, the more people there are, the more they need to contribute.

Besides, it is not possible to divide the depth separately as long as it does not meet the initially decided contribution.

Individuals need to save as much as they need, and all groups need to accumulate contributions until they earn as much.

Individuals need less contribution, but if there are many people, there are many things that can be done, so the balance may be well.

Anyway, for that reason, the degree of contribution we need is shared, so if we move large we can save money faster and more efficiently.

That's why today I acted in the morning, targeting offenders and back organizations that were wanted by separate information gathering.

And my today's war results, including the back organization <Teslan Villanes>, which mainly sells illegal magic drugs, the high-ranking bounty <Ferphe of the Three Cuts>, <Gavage of the Sons>, <Debut Day I hunted the stopper>> and brought back my neck.

Back organization <Teslan Villanes> is a medium-sized back organization.

Although neither the number of members nor the armed force was excellent so far, illegal manufacture and sale of dangerous magic medicines have wide connections with the ground as well as the underground, thereby allowing a customer to dispatch a good-looking mansion from the customer The

In addition, because there is a desperate team encased in magic, it is not good practice to kill a dead soldier who is about to carry out a suicide attack with a neglect of damage.

Because there was a base in the underground cavity in a place slightly away from the underground city <Granba glass> as in <Perviass family> because of the relation such as preparation of illegal products and raw material cultivation, the movement to that time is troublesome It's a lot of work, but there is nothing else that stands out.

I got in from the front and finished the whole without sound before I noticed it.

Other bouncy necks are continuous armored warriors who like to divide and decorate others in three divisions, hills geniuses of consecutive child abduction killers who prefer the body fluid of children, and smashing tunnels became a beast of a mass destruction murderer.

Although all were groups with one or two ships, the location search was relatively easy to find by the split search.

The prize winners usually hide and hide themselves, but of course the convenience of life is, of course, because they were not far from earning money to receive the back job.

The snake's path is a snake. If you are collecting information in a bar where the dark people gather, it is easy to collect the necessary information.

If you find it using the collected information, <Fafer of the three cuts> will be divided into three divisions that you like to use with a demon sword, <Gavage of the vulgar> will constrain the body to be expressed as the humanoid hill After that, he kills and kills the fluid and the squeeze, and the day stopper for collapsing is buried in alive when he was dug up and killed.

Since live burying was a bit cumbersome to dig up, let's not do it from now on.

It seems that they had caused considerable damage, and their contributions and prizes were huge.

A pair of Kanami-chan and Red-haired Shorts, who have the ability to instinctively discover the enemy, demonstrate their abilities while receiving information from me, and prize money swordsman <Gubadohi>, <Hypnotite Band Laff>, I brought back the neck of 魅了魅了魔ニヤ>.

Declaration Swordsman Goubadhi> is a deep-sea fish-skilled man who is skilled in magic and infecting madness.

Beside that, enthusiastic believers will be heard, and there will be an army of zealots in their arms.

Hypnosis Band Ruff is a mineral devil who specializes in powerful hypnosis, using his own magic shell made of special ores.

It is inserted during surgery and often used as a handpiece while the person is not aware of it as a hypnotic slave.

The enchanting magic gonya is a bewitching succubus road that makes a powerful contribution and makes others a tribute.

While having a life of lusciousness and enlivening those who liked it, he ran a huge luxury edifice with goods contributed by many men and women.

All of Kanami-chan's prey were those with troublesome hand-pieces, but Koitsu and others were silenced before overwhelming force.

Even if it is done too much too much, the damage spreads, so it seems that they have been apologetic to Sakuri. The damage should be kept to a minimum, and the skill of hitting only the head should be complimented.

By the way, I was able to use the high-class 娼 kan of 魅了 魅了 グーニャ、, and because there was a life of an employee who works normally, I was to take it as it is.

There are Asrad Succubus Roads that can be refined as Kanami-chan meets the conditions, and the Asrad Succubus roles as their support.

Minoyoshi-kun and Ase-chan inhabit the danger zone dotted around, and have become renown from their strength. There is.

<Dammed surface drag spligan> is a giant of the crown that lives underground.

The Dragspurigan tribe has the factor of a dragon and a giant, but in particular the physical aspect is very excellent and it is known as a tough dungeon monster anyway.

However, it is often targeted from the property that prefers to collect treasures, and it is a very strong enemy, but it can also be expected to return for that amount.

That's why I was targeted many times, but I survived, and I continued to survive while incising myriad old wounds on my entire body, "Dragspriggan on the wound surface".

It is believed that the number of treasures that have accumulated the wealth of hundreds of challengers, which has been retaliated so far, will be considerable, and if it can be obtained, a huge wealth will be obtained.

<Velum-O-Sansho * of melted shellfish> may be said to be a unique individual among the giant sea-bream fish "Veram-O-Sansho" over ten meters.

Because it is compatible with the basement of Velam Osansho, its surface is white, and silver venom always wets the skin that looks nuranula and soft skin.

From eating habits, it does not occur except in habitats rich in special minerals. However, because the special mineral in the habitat is very rare and expensive, there are many who try to seek it, many of which are prey to Veram sage.

And "Velamu osansho", which has been grown by killing many intruders, is extremely ferocious and warlike, in addition to the effect of silver venom as a powerful solution added to it. Because it is a personality, it seems to be out of the habitat to expand the damage.

It seems that both were strong opponents, and Minoyoshi-kun was a good time.

Take back the huge treasures that <Dragspriggan of the wound surface> has accumulated, and with the benefit of having mined the special mineral that was in the residence of <Velum Osansho> of melted shell.

Anyway, that's why each battle was well done.

The degree of contribution is close to the specified value which deepens the depth, and it will be satisfied even if only a few small objects are caught.

At night, I use the edible stone found by the blacksmiths-not a good item because it is a place that can be harvested if the depth is shallow-and eat the dishes that Iiyu modified.

The rock food I ate first had a strong sense of enjoying the taste of the ingredients, so Ikuo seemed to think that he could do something different.

However, I did not feel a big difference.

I tried to cut and add seasoning, but the taste of edible stone is stronger.

In front of a unique material such as edible stone, even Iiyu seemed to find no optimum solution.

DAY 462

Today, I was walking along the back alley before breakfast and caught an accessory.

It is a member of the back organization of a moderate size, but it is the lower end that can only be earning a small amount of money.

The degree of contribution is small, so it is small, but I used to go to a place where I could see a Sakkari face in the last few days until I was able to make breakfast.

As I was free while I was leaving the procedure, I would like to listen to various stories.

Then, after receiving information on some good-looking bounty and back organization, the mole-beard suddenly started thinking about something, and started to talk about a story that tended to be ugly.

It used to be the story of a cursed man who once adored everyone and has now become the biggest bounty leader.

Several decades ago, there was an orphan in a poor cavern.

Without knowing the face of his parents, by the time she became aware she was in a privately run orphanage in a poor cavern.

The director of the orphanage broke his knees and retired from service, but he was originally a famous warrior who served [Girong Wang].

The operation of the orphanage consists of donations from other people, savings so far, and money earned by hunting dungeon monsters nearby.

Therefore, they are relatively wealthy and stable, but orphans are supposed to help hunting dungeon monsters at a certain age.

It was to increase combat experience, accumulate experience points, raise levels, and improve the survival of orphans.

It's a wild way, with some dangers of life, but it would have been best to do so to give the orphans a chance to live alone.

Anyway, the man who fought while being instructed at the orphanage since childhood was a strong and lonely warrior as he grew up over the years.

Originally there was a natural gift.

Born in the Dark Continent, although he was a racially weak "Iwakunin rock lizard man", he repeated "existence and evolution" several times, and in the late teens his name was widely known as a strong man.

And in that process he will be active as a leader of orphans and will lead <Libert Gunka>, which means salvation for the poor.

<Liverdo Gunka> expanded its power while protecting the weak who were being eaten by back tissue, such as orphans, widows and old men the same as men.

It does not do illegal things like the back organization, trains in a disciplined manner, develops tactics, kills dungeon monsters in a group, sells the material, gains money, and gets food.

Or we negotiated work that can be done by children, such as using a small space at a tunnel, and we were earning a healthy but small wage.

The organization did not collapse while shaking in the battle with the traders who made an unreasonable deal looking at their feet, as well as the hindrance by the back organization, but the strong charisma of the man and, above all, armed force was probably what.

The guardian of the mole-based beast also seems to be from <Liverdo Gunka>, and the area was explained hotly and in detail.

Anyway, the hardships of men and friends continued, but when there was a man, he received the [Benefit of] [Lava God], and in a timely [existence and evolution], "Lava Flo Rage, Dragorex, Subspecies" As a result, the interference caused by unspecified numbers almost ceases.

"Dragoned Dragon" is usually a human being like Ryujin or Ryujin, but it is a race with the ability to temporarily dragonify / dragonize.

It is a powerful tribe that will be stronger than dragons and dragons in terms of strength.

And in addition to being a dragon species here where [the earth dragon king] is ruled, a man's dragonization is a lava dragon classified as a kind of earth dragon. This is a good reason for the hostile organization to stand out as dangerous anymore.

Even if there is nothing we can not do, it has become more dangerous for various reasons, so no one must think that we want to inspire ourselves.

And, such a man, [Girong Wang] Granbados-Leptnabal is also great not to leave.

I have been watching for a long time, and I became a "Laval Dragonizer" and immediately served as a direct guard.

At the same time, he hired members of <Liverdo Gunka>, a man's fellow, to become his subordinates.

Then, while being an orphaned former, he led his companions as a leader, and finally the active man of the guard who built up as a guard of [Dong King Wang] continued.

It ran through countless battlefields and was eventually chosen as a [Brave of Lava].

And in love with the love daughter of [earth dragon king], overcoming various trials, it is formally recognized as a relationship, and it is to hold the loving my child in that hand.

It seems to be a flow like the heroic story of a rising person.

In fact, it was thought so from the surroundings, and that was not a mistake.

But, life is not all good things.

The happy dungeon monster had to break it.

It was about being attacked by a man's wife, the cursing category of curses of life-the curse of curses-Curssed Blue Larry Blue.

It originates from the formidable ancient guardian curse blessed king "Fabniripgan", which does not infect other people, but a pattern of glowing whirlpools and tears emerges to the whole body of the affected person.

The skin and flesh of the affected person drown like mud, the fragile bones are crushed with a slight impact, and the visceral apparatus is regenerated even while rotten, and it leads to life.

The broken body is only a temporary stop even if you use magic agents, etc., and there is no cure even if you have any arms.

Even so, the spirit does not end until it collapses, even if it is crazy for unbearable severe pain.

It is because [curse] blocks the decisive end.

The death of a man's wife who was eroded by a horrible [curse], which continues to collapse physically and mentally until the end of the heart left until the end completely, was a decisive future.

For the time being, treatments exist.

Soak a fragment of the "Fabniripgan" heartshell in a deep underground deep underground and drink it.

There is no other than this, it is said that it will heal instantly when drinking.

However, I can not cure it because I can not get the material.

So the man had to fight against "Fabniripgan". The man who did not want to lose his wife did his best.

And there is an extremely fierce battle, and the man who fought with the six most reliable men, became full-fledged and turned like a rag, the spirit was as weak as a dead old man, but still necessary Have only one life return.

Everyone was glad to bring back the [Brave], even though they were sad at the death of those who did not return.

And no one noticed that the man who came back was cursed because everyone was happy and the man's exhaustion was serious.

Unfortunately, while the man's tremendous mental power was exhausted, the progress of [curse] was delayed, and as a result, [curse] quietly progressed to a depth where the man himself could not help.

It is said that the place where [the earth dragon king] is ruled that it is the most disgusted [curse] that [the earth dragon curse erosion man].

So the next tragedy happened soon.

The man got rid of [Leli Blue] and hated his wife who woke up while dying.

There was no one around me because I was concerned about trying to be alone. Therefore, it was after all was over that the situation was discovered.

In front of the wife's body turned into a bone that left a small amount of meat in the hospital room, a man who is crazy with [curse] who crawls the bones, eyes, hearts and souls while shedding bloody eyes.

The guards of the royal family who were aware of the unusual situation rushed into the behavior of the mad man with the grief of the crazy man, and the action of the guards was delayed, allowing the crazy man to escape.

However, even if the physical condition was perfect, it would be meaningless to the full power of the man who lost the reason by the enthusiasm.

Anyway, then, the underground city <Granba Grass> will have the highest prize pool ever.

Once he led everyone as a leader of orphans, built up to become a [Brave], and then a cursed man who was cursed-"Gavrios Gut of Cursed Dragonization".

The guardian of the mole-based beast man finished talking as if he had seen it nearby and told me that he had finished the procedure after giving an expression like praying for something.

Well, what do you do after hearing this?

Such things were decided.

First of all, I will return to eating a delicious breakfast.

DAY 463

It was easy to find the location of <Gavrios Gu>, a cursed dragon.

It has been said that it has not moved from the “Ash-Ak-duk of Earth Detonation Dragon”, which is the home of a worm-like dungeon monster called Earth Detonation Asgrave Wardra, since fleeing several decades ago.

It was the information that everyone knows when you ask at the bar.

However, it would have been information that no one was willing to speak unless told.

The Curse Gavrios Gu of cursing now is still being talked among the residents.

It is not a frightening or hateful object, but it has a strong face as an impotent [brave man] who has saved lives from foreign enemies and protected the people, and has finally been cursed.

The downside is that, even if there was a horrific case of being cursed and killing a crazy wife, it was probably because the residents had no damage.

In addition, even when fleeing escaped to the guards and the people, even until they escaped, until now the <Gavrios Gu of the Curious Dragonization> has been killed in search of the prize money to <The Dark Dragon Cave of the Earth Explosion Dragon>. It is one of the reasons not to take out anything other than the coming-in existence.

In addition, since the material of “ground detonation dragon” killed by <Gavrios Gu of the cursed dragon> has been rolled into countless numbers in <the ground ark of the ground detonation dragons>, it is collected to make a living It may be because there are some who are strong.

Or maybe it is because there is so much fear of "Fabniripgan", which is the main character of "The Curse".

There are a number of possible reasons, but it is no different that <Gavrios Gu of the Cursed Dragon> is the highest prize winner.

Do you think of the pitiful appearance of your son-in-law, or because it is your mother-in-law?

Anyway, it is huge, even if it is in terms of contribution degree, that [the earth dragon king] decided.

That is how much you can earn the necessary contribution up to four deep.

So, I was just coming to shrieking Ark-Dong of Earth Dragon Detonation so with Minoyoshi-kun and Niki.

Actually I wanted to try fighting with a single demon, but Minoyoshi-kun came along if I guessed with instinct. It seems that I would like to challenge with even two men.

That is why Ase, who usually lives with Minokichi, is acting with Kanami-chan and Red-haired Shorts, and this time she is going to mine underground resources such as gems and rare ores.

Surprisingly, this proposal is not from Ase-chan, but from Kana-Mii.

Everything seems to be asking for children's birthday gifts.

The miners are going to process the miners and they will keep them secret.

Certainly the birthday is approaching. While thinking that a present is necessary, I think that I have to prepare some presents. What would you like to do? I would like to prepare a gem to be remembered.

While thinking about various things, we went in a huge cave where Minoyoshi-kun was lined up vertically.

The walls of the caves are rounded by the "ground detonation dragons" that crawl around, are round and have less unevenness and are easy to walk. The cave has an infinite number of branches like an ant's nest, and it can be inferred from the condition of the wall that it has been excavated newly.

Of course, "ground detonation dragons" which inhabit innumerable incurs attack on such a way.

However, Minokichi-kun took hold of the shield, and with a single whistle, the dead fell.

It can be released by the reaction response of the "earth-bomb ryuryu" when it comes in contact with a whale, but it does not seem to cause much damage to Minokichi.

While I think that it is astonishing as ever, I will collect the materials of the "ground detonation dragon" that is rolling in various places.

Going forward while eating a portion of the shell of polycoal, it was wider than expected.

As I'm detouring, I hope I can meet tomorrow.

DAY 464

A room that exists in the middle layer of the dark cave. A huge underground space, a myriad of "land bug dragon"s are spread out into a semicircle. Our insecticide flowed endlessly and ran up to the <Gaburiorosu Gu enthusiasts of the Cursed Dragon>.

The figures of the <Gaburiorosu Gu enthusiasts of the Cursed Dragon> are already gone and have been transformed into a variant that retains the characteristics of the human type.

It is a large, strong dragon and is eighty meters in length.

The skin is like a cold, solidified, lava-like, black material covered with lava dragon scales, and red glowing lines run through the gaps of the lava-like skin.

The arrangement of the lines depicts a complex, scary, cursed pattern. The shape of the curse is very similar to the one seen in the material, "The Earth Dragon Warlords", but the details are different. Has the curse that has been engraved not degenerated with the growth, and thus become intrinsic?

Anyway, it is the oddly bloated arms of the dragon body that attracts attention.

Usually, the front leg of a dragon is short. If it is a dragon, it has four limbs, but in the case of this dragon, it has a long body like a snake, and in many cases the forelimb itself does not exist.

However, the arms and legs of <Gaburiorosu Gu enthusiasts of the Cursed Dragon>, like the arms of the giants, are muscular and impressive. The lava dragon husk that wraps both arms is clad like a raging castle, and even if all of the dead bodies of the "ground detonation dragon" piled up in the room, it is imaginable to be violent.

If you observe for a short while, the opposing <Gavrios Gu of the Cursed Dragon> might have understood our purpose.

From the stunned appearance, it turns around, holds up huge arms, takes battle stance, and emit super heat from it's body. Lava dragon is a kind of earth dragon, but at the same time it has the ability of the fire dragon species. Then, [The Blessing of the God of Lava] was added, and the super high heat that was released made the room burn in a while.

Due to the extremely high heat, the corpses of the "ground detonation dragon" are likely to burn first.

The fresh corpses starts burning, and soon becomes a great fire. The room is filled with irritating odor and teary smoke that penetrates the nostrils. It's like a red lava in the room of a monster that has been transformed into a fiery hell-worn space, and it's madness with a curse or remnant of a proud Hero.

There is no reason already, like the beast [Jura la la la la la la la la!] The battle began with the attack of the cursed dragon.

The view is the worst with smoke and flames. The smell is almost nonfunctional because the odor is too stimulating. Just by breathing, heated air can burn the lungs. Minokichi-kun has strong resistance to heat and disease, even in an environment where it is difficult to maintain strong vitality.

Under such circumstances, it was a series of dragon fists that contained super heat faster than lightning.

The smoke and flames are temporarily blown away by the huge wind pressure, and the deadly dragon fist covered in the back approaches.

The dragon fist is fast and is the size of Minokichi-kun. If hit directly, it would be inevitable that major damage would occur, but Minokichi, who was the vanguard, accepted it.

He stops it on the spot, not only by power but also with the skill from his training so far.

At that time, it was a tremendous roar of flash and shock waves that occurred.

Being blocked by a shield, the dragon fist does not reach Minokichi-kun, and the storm of destruction blocked Minokichi-kun needed a place to go in this closed space, and the surrounding area is flooded. The destruction did not stop because it was a series of strikes, the ground broke quickly, and the rock walls began to break down.

As I watched it, I observed, and I saw that the secret of the rioting of the "Gavrios Gu of the Cursed Dragon" was in the lower half of the dragon.

It seems that the lower body of the strong dragon stretches and shrinks like a spring, making it possible to move the entire body efficiently and to make a series of strikes faster than lightning.

Then, if you seal the lower body, it will fall off the smashing fire. I hide behind Minokichi-kun and go to it's blind spot, and I push on the lower part of the body — I don't know where the upper body is from the lower part.

There is information that lava dragon husk is very hard, but the sharpness of the weir does not make it a problem.

The tip of the ear was stabbed without notable resistance, so the moment it was stabbed, the area around the tip of the ear exploded vigorously.

It has the force of an erupting volcano, and the squirting fire and cinder strike my body.

Due to [Heat Absorption], I do not receive fatal fire damage as usual, but I take some damage due to the sharp, hard and large cinders.

Each of the cinders is very large, just by the giant size of the Cursed Dragon. A direct hit on the head could cause some dizziness.

I was surprised at first, but if you understand that it is an explosive reaction armor, there are many ways to deal with it.

Attack by force and explode first. Freeze not to explode. Even if it explodes, it will be accepted and ignored. It vibrates and breaks it. Other than that, there are innumerable ways to deal with it.

First of all, let's start by cutting off the tip of the tail that plays an anchor-like role by digging into the ground, which may be important in the lower body.

If there is no firm foundation, the movement will be worse.

Even so, what is the taste of the dragon meat that has been cursed for many years?

Is it like mature meat carefully scooped? Or is it so bad because of the curse that it can't be eaten? No, I think it must be delicious because it is the remains of a [Brave Hero].

I don't know what it tastes like until I eat it, but I'm excited about it.

Come on, it is time for hunting dragons.

DAY 465

After noon, though it was a monster room, there were a lot of distractions, but finally we succeeded in defeating the "Gavrios Gu of the Cursed Dragon".

The heart was torn with a whip, and Minokichi-kun cut off the thick neck, but the last expression was a smile that felt as if it was a total peace of mind, even with freshness.

Finally I asked someone's name, but would you guessed it from it's expression? It has gone mad because of hateful [curse], but it is good if there was salvation at the end.

[Sydney Poem [Lost British Hero: Lava Noriyuki Gabrielo Gus] has been cleared]

[The achiever is granted rare skill [Discoverer]]

[The achiever is awarded [Degraded God: Lava Curry Dragon Hand-pierced Ravanioc Vesurada]]

[The achiever was given [Curse Nucleus Crystal - Dragon Damage]]

[The achiever is awarded [Light Aoi Mish]]

[The achiever is awarded [Laval Dragon's Life Treasure Box]]

The announcement rang out in my head, but for a while I am silent and store all of my reward items in my item box.

And I tried to eat some of the tail that I cut off.

The red meat had a feverish heat from the beginning. It is probably because it is the meat of a lava dragon with a super high heat. It has a good, fortified, solid texture and is eaten without waste.

It has a low amount of fat, but the tail meat, which has been trained to one muscle fiber, is delicious and has a deep taste that is not persistent.

It's a flexible yet strong meat, so I bite again and again. And by eating many times, the taste of the meat fills the mouth with more happiness.

With raw meat, how delicious would it be if it were cooked? I have no choice but to return.

By the way, I can not feel the influence of [curse], but I can not deny the possibility that it is no problem because I am a Vajrayaksa Overlord.

That's why I asked Minokichi to eat it, but I was slowly tasting it with a happy expression like "Boo moo ~". While watching the situation, I let the meat go to the refined goblins.

Minokichi-kun had the same result as me, so it may be that the Curse does not work on only us.

As a result, even if the refined goblins ate it until full, the curse did not activate.

With this in mind there will be no problems, but at this point in time, we will mine underground resources at Miki and take a return route. I wondered what to do with the purified goblins, but I did find out what they did.

Step through the nimble steps and spin around using the whole body. Turn your legs around your hand or from your back to dance cheerfully. There is still a bit rough, but the momentum is amazing. It is because the overall status is high just because it is refined, and it is forced to turn in physical performance rather than skill.

Besides, there is a high level of intelligence, so it feels like I am thinking desperately thinking what to do now.

Since it is rare for individuals to express that they want to live and not die in purified bodies, we decided to let them go for a while. I might have eaten dragon meat and woke up to survival instinct.

Anyway, refined goblins have a brand new knife as a bio-weapon, but it is too poor.

First of all, we should pass off the [Knocking off the fence] to the complete set of [Knight's All-purpose Knife] and [Flower's Little Shield], and then [Degare for the Date-Gid] series. This will increase the survival probability a bit, and even if it's a normal magic item, it's a stock item, so it's a good item to lose.

It returns while doing so and goes to the place of the mogul beast man guard first.

Presenting the head at the guard station, thinking that it would be a problem if it were outside.

DAY 466

In the early morning, at the same floor, the messenger of [Dragon King] came to us where we were staying at the best accommodation.

There are a total of five people; a well-built butler of “long-lived people”, two fully armed middle-aged men and two young dragons who would be their escorts.

The deacon seems to be much stronger than the two escorts, but that aside.

The requirement is, of course, about "Gavrios Gu of the Cursed Dragon".

As it will be longer, in summary, identity verification will add contributions and award prizes. Now we can all go without problems up to depth four.

In addition, we received a lot of detailed information such as danger zones and various permissions. Now I could identify the current location of "Fabniripgan" and I could go there without any problems.

Then, as a special reward for stopping his son-in-law from killing my love daughter, he sent a box-shaped item box containing fifty dragons and fifty dragon scales each from [Dragon King].

Apart from contributions and prizes, it is quite convenient to get information and permits.

And I did not think that I could even get the material of [Early Dragon King]

Moreover, it is not an old thing that regularly comes out due to molting, but it seems that it is a fresh product that has just been peeled off.

I am happy with the dragons alone, but with the dragon scales of the top individual dragon species that is also the finest magic metal set. As soon as I took out a piece of dragonfly put in a beautifully decorated box-like item box, it was as big as a person, and it was like a beautifully shined stone.

Of course, it is not only looks that are worthwhile as an art item.

You can touch it to force it, but it won't be very hard. It will distort if you put a lot of force, but there are few materials that need the force so far.

That is the robustness of the sample. Even if I give it to Minokichi-kun, it brings a surprised expression and bends slowly with power.

It's not only hard but also hard to break.

The atmosphere changes a little when the old butler and the escort think there are various things in the treatment of the current leader.

In particular, it seems that young escorts seem to think its being treated crudely, their faces are red.

The middle-aged man frowns, and the old deacon narrows his eyes to identify something.

Still, it's wonderful to shut up and go to work.

And I think I'm crawling in front of my heart like a long rice bowl that is so hard that his teeth are broken.

Ryugo was very delicious. Cough is too hard, but it has a deep taste that is matured above all.

It seems like the magical power of Tokuno has been condensed, I felt the history of the [Early Dragon King] that has reigned as [Dragon King] for many years.

If you look closely, it is layered like a stratum, and the amount I bite it is a factor as the taste changes slightly as I bite, and it doesn't make you get tired.

It's too delicious and it's finished in less than a minute, and I think it would have been better if I could taste it more slowly.

And for some reason, the two escorts' faces are whitening, cold sweat on the forehead, the mouth starts to move again and he turns to the old butler who does not hide upset. I thought that there was still a talk because I did not move and said nothing, but that was right.

“Apparently, I would like you to tell me about the end of <Gavrios Gu of the Cursed Dragon>.”

That's why it is good to talk carefully, but I just thought that words alone were not interesting.

Besides, there are unexpected rewards such as Longan or Long mineral and I feel good, so I would like to offer something better here as well. Therefore, in order to appeal not only to words but also to vision, I decided to talk and perform a puppet show by changing my silver arm to the shape of a wolf.

Since Kanami-chan and red-haired shorty started to get involved, even blacksmiths and children come to listen to the story.

As it was convenient that the old deacon had a magic item that recorded it as a movie, it would definitely reach [Dragon King]. A doll that adds refinements to the goblins with magic items on refined goblins and adds supportive music so that they can understand the story, even if they don't know the circumstances. The play is self-portrait, but would have been of considerable quality.

Basically, it is based on the facts, but because [Dragon King] sees, at the end of the son-in-law, the soul of a loving daughter comes to pick you up, joins with one with a peaceful smile, and adds a rendition as it is.

It would be nice to rise to the heavens when you die, but it is better to go deeper here.

The two escorts shed tears at the end of the once-defunct [Brave Hero], and the old deacon closed his eyes and prayed for something. I was applauded by Kanami and the children.

I thought it would be good if they enjoyed it, but the old deacons went home because they had finished what they came here to do.

After seeing them off, I left the hotel and went to a place of mole-based beast and deepened the depth.

Deepen and walk on a lively street.

More inhabitants lived at depth three. There are many races and the average strength is likely to be high. It is safe, and patrolling guards are seriously committed to their duties.

The quality of the clothes of the residents is good, and the streets are also clean and tidy. The living standard is much better than ever, including around the water.

Starting with minerals and ingredients unique to this area, and buying clothes, magic items, etc., I go sightseeing.

And I got my room early.

Today's lodgings were selected as one of the top luxury lodgings in the depths three <Aura of the stone pillars>. It's because the highlight here is delicious rock dishes and hot springs.

If you look at a hotel where you can eat delicious rock dishes, you can expect it to be one of those candidates with a high probability.

And there are about three kinds of hot springs, and their effects are different. It is a cosmetic system that cleanses and cleans the skin, a treatment system that cures minor injuries and illnesses, and a strengthening system that makes it easier for physical abilities and magic to rise.

This should come in. You should relax here because you haven't bathed in hot springs these days.

That's why I decided to eat rock dishes for lunch.

I ordered "Aguupatcha of Rhodonato". It was recommended that it was a dish that used freshly mined edible stone and cave fish, so I ordered it.

The rock dishes I ate first felt the food itself, so I wondered what would happen, and it was carried after a little while.

The stone plate had a cave fish wrapped in several thin, sliced ham-like edible stones.

Do you feel like steaming? The edible stone is baked and it feels good. Apparently something like cheese and the savory smell of baked cave fish. Try cutting it with a knife and fork, wrapping it in a cave that can easily be cut and eating it.

The edible stone has a texture like ham and cheese, but it is often associated with cave fish. The cave fish is white fish and tastes light, so the taste of edible stone is well adapted.

As the first rock dishes were prepared, they were well cooked using other ingredients, and this was accepted as ordinary dishes by Kanami-chan. The taste of the liquor is usually delicious, so it goes without saying that we went ahead and made additional orders.

The sisters were excited about how they used edible stones.

I was satisfied with the delicious rock food and I decided to go to the hot spring this time.

There are three color hot springs there, which are different for men and women. The pale pinkish color is beauty, white is therapeutic, and black is intensified.

I cleaned everything by rotation and was healed by the warmth of the hot water. Soaked to the shoulders, I spent a relaxing time with Minokichi drinking alcohol.

I will be busy for a few days from tomorrow. Let's heal our fatigue and prepare for tomorrow.

DAY 467

A danger zone called <Danakham Underground Great Cavity> exists in a deeper place than the underground city <Granba Grass>.

It is a place where the underground cave that is bigger than the underground city <Granba Grass> was filled with a compound temple that celebrates the [Five Great Gods].

The temple format is much older than now. Even the official age is unknown, and seems to be composed of incomprehensible materials and techniques.

There are also dungeon monsters that are extremely powerful as a defense mechanism and ancient golems with special features.

If the outer periphery is well prepared, it is possible to search if it has the appropriate ability. The materials and magic items collected here are high quality goods and are traded at high prices.

However, the degree of difficulty increases as it progresses, and it is said that the survival probability drops extremely after one-third. It is one of the hardest spots in the Mysterious Rich Dark Continent, and it is a story that no one has reached the center.

It is possible to look around the whole from a hole opened near the ceiling, but personally focusing on the five major temples in the center.

The large temples are probably respectively carrying the [Five Gods] because they are filled with the [Five Gods].

In front of such a large temple, a huge statue, which is color-coded into five colors like a gatekeeper, sits down. From the shape and color, it must have mimicked the figure of the [Five Great Gods].

And I feel that the divine power is staying in the huge statue. It's not that strong, but to me, a colossi seemed nothing more than a [creature] or something similar.

Perhaps, the Five Great Gods will be revered temporarily when they approach.

It may be a mechanism that waits for the challenger in a timely sense and fights against Ogami, who has relied on colossus as a substitute, and gives the winner the treasure in the temple.

It is just a delusion, but it suffers because there are only elements that can not be denied unless the delusion is a reality.

When it comes to capturing here, it would be better to put in a good mood.

It seems to be fun to challenge even when Mrs. Buli and his friends came to [Mysterious Rich Dark Continent], but the division with [Navigation to Dark Continent] is still waiting on the new continent.

I think everyone will come, so it will be a long time to challenge here.

Anyway, the purpose of this time is not <Danakham Underground Great Cavity Temple>.

The destination is a place called "Heredium of Oblivion and Reminiscence", located near the underground complex.

This is a section that exists in the past, but remains densely packed with ruins of various regions and ages that have disappeared in the dark of history for some reason such as [dinner punishment], massive destruction, and civilization purification.

The ruins are mixed irregularly, and as a result, the complex terrain is a labyrinth structure that blocks the intruder's move.

The monsters inhabiting are powerful, and in addition, those who have lost their lives due to the ruins provided in the ruins will not stop, and the number of accumulated dead is so large as to form multiple mountains.

But here, items that should be called lost heritage of various times are dropped or excavated.

Some of the heritage of the past is like trash, but sometimes it is unearthed a wonderful heritage that can accomplish things that can not be reproduced in modern times.

There are also many clues to know the lost history of history, and it has been possible to solve the mystery of history.

Because of that, there is a hot attention such as [archeologist] and [treasure explorer], but here the ancient guardian cursing treasure king “Fabniripgan” scheduled to become our next prey area raid boss same as “Mirgalorum”. It is said that the uninvestigated section is spreading without much capture, since

I and Kana-chan, Minokichi-kun and Asue-chan's four demons were searching for such a place.

For example, among the known abilities of the ancient guardian enthusiasm "Fabniripgan", the most horrible is the powerful [curse] that is automatically scattered.

There is no regularity in the spread or onset of [curse] as far as it is examined, and if it is within a certain distance, it may be cursed in a certain day.

If it is weak, it has remarkable immediate effect, and if it is strong, it is cursed in a way that is delayed and incomprehensible.

That's why it was our four demons that seemed relatively safe among the members.

Red-haired shorts may be fine, but this time I asked for blacksmiths and children to escort.

If something is bothersome, I plan to have it be backed up mainly with red hair shorts.

Well, I will try not to do that. I do not know if there is anything, so I will need insurance.

For this reason it is the action of the four demons, but while somehow remembering the Goblins era, walking on the cobbled highway which would have been in some countries of the past era, the dungeons coming from the left and right houses and the surrounding highways Go ahead while fighting off the monsters.

The dungeon monsters infested with “Heredium of Oblivion and Reminiscence” seem to have many artificial monsters created by [alchemist] etc. in the past times.

An artificial metal skeleton with pseudo-muscles woven with a special fluid metal, and a much higher-performance “Enscient Relic Golem” than today, which is surrounded by rocks and magic metal armors. The combined synthetic monster chimera, the material of which is composed of monsters that are much more powerful than the present "Ancient. True Chimera" Has an appearance resembling that of a human, and by embedding a false soul, it is closer to a human, but from a manufacturing concept "Slaughterer automatic doll Maruda. automata" which exists to kill

A man-made Berserker "Almo Gavarez" who chases a human body, probably a sinner or something, and chases a chasm and a chasm until it kills an intruder

"Tangenia Gigantomol" with mechanical modifications, such as a high-speed rotating drill-like nose and claws for excavating the ground based on a huge mole.

And go ahead while defeating dungeon monsters that may have a deep dark career.

When it comes to this point, it has been very sloppy, and there are many and surprises, so if you search enthusiastically and cautiously and boldly, you can discover many magic items such as many of the past heritage.

After all there are few survivors even if there are many who want to challenge under the influence of "Fabniripgan", so there will be few magic items recovered from the ruins.

There are many magic items collected-

Make a human type with some plant, and it will be a substitute for disasters by embedding hair in it [Surgeon's substitute doll]

A bracelet made of jewels of various colors with a fist level, various monsters were sealed in the jewels [Cesu Phantom Beast Ring]

A beautiful beauty based on purple with various magic items embedded in various parts of the body that can be freely moved by letting the magic thread pass through the magic thread [machine toy doll: saint. replica Lloyd of poison cup]

It is a cat-like shape with a large open mouth, and it is a figurine made of a material like crystal, but if you put an unnecessary thing in its mouth, it will spit out the same weight of rare magic metal as it [weight] Treasure cat that brings wealth]

One hundred books written in detail to the private life of the king of a country that was completely destroyed in a certain country as an enemy from the time of its founding, and it was scolded up to the purification of civilization.

The design has one eye on the golden palm, and only takes it to the extent that it will take over [curse] [Talisman of the curse era]

--- and so on.

Above all, I decided to collect four demons because it would be as good as possible, if it were as good as possible.

DAY 468

If it is time, will it be around the evening?

When you arrive at the deepest part of a fairly wide and deep underground complex large-scale <medium of oblivion and reminiscence>, there will be several hundred meters in diameter but there will be a lonesome space just wide, and a giant that will lie in the middle of it There was an altar there.

Perhaps I thought that the ancient guardian curse blessed king "Fabniripgan" was sitting here, but I looked around inside, but there is nothing other than the altar.

Is your location not a fixed type, but a type that moves freely? As I entered thinking, I found something on the altar.

The altar is an oblong stone masonry piled with stones, and it has an unusual shape with four statues of beasts, birds, allegories, and people in the corners, but with gemstones like goldstone buried in its center.

The size is about fifty centimeters. From the inside of the jewel that shaped the gemstone into a perfect sphere, a white light filled with affection and a black light dyed with hatred are emitted.

I thought that such a jewel was a part of the altar, but when I approached it to some extent that perception changed completely.

A magical energy that has been released from a jewel suddenly, so densely as to squeeze the space. And an ominous atmosphere that runs scary. White light is weak and black light is strong.

When I was gaiting, I was wearing one of the equipped [Turisman of the Curses] broken, and hanging from the lower back of one of the [Girl's replacement dolls] turned black from foot and dyed to the chest It was burnt down by the black flame generated from the inside.

It took over the bathing [curse], and both would probably have destroyed themselves as a result of exceeding the allowance. The pieces of Talisman roll to the ground, and the doll, which has been charred with black flame, is scattered by magic pressure.

During the confirmation of the change in less than a few seconds, the treasure floated from the altar.

A ring of light similar to Saturn's ring occurs around the jewel, and the ring begins to rotate rapidly.

Then the area around the altar vibrates, and the earth moves and the buried rock comes out. And as if it were a weightless space, the rock floats in the air, and after a few seconds some parts that seem to have been hidden further down make a face.

There are various parts that differ in shape and size, but they all have in common the beauty of being all jeweled.

There are many types of gem parts, such as ruby, sapphire, emerald, iolite, amethyst, lapis lazuli, alexandrite, etc.

And although there are few parts, it seems that there are magic jewelry parts unique to this world, and you can check magic jewels that you don't know, such as Heald rouge glowing in prison flames, Laivore that hides in thunderstorms, Syrah di Martha who bothers you mentally and physically.

The jewel parts that emerged from the ground began to rally towards the jewels, thinking that getting just one jewel part would be a good deal.

Is it time for a makeover bank now?

For the time being, I threw a kite with my full strength before something was done.

[Kigami] 's physical ability and a double ability or double attack of a powerful ability fly like a flash, leaving a red track.

There is no doubt that the one who is in front of you is the ancient guardian curse blessed king "Fabniripgan".

The proof is the strength of the released [curse].

If you wait for a while to see what the core jewels are calling for jewelry parts and what you are trying to do, it's also troublesome to wait for them.

If the point is uncovered, you can only close it quickly.

Although it was the throwing of the spear to decide the game, the spear easily pierces the rocks that were in orbit, penetrates some of the jewel parts, and brings its tip to the ball.

However, the speed was slightly reduced by the jewelry parts, and the tip of the ball was hit only by the movement of the balls. Still there is a clear scratch, from which black particles spout.

I think that pretty good damage came in. The ring of light that floats around the boulder was disturbed and was vibrating violently.

And the speed of calling for the jewelry parts was noticeably faster, judging whether it was a critical situation.

In the blink of an eye the gem parts gather together and join one after another.

In less than a dozen seconds it took the form of a jewel, and "Fabniripgan" became a gem.

She casts a [curse] out of the whole body made of various colored jewelry parts, and has a feline-like shape with a length of twenty meters.

The thick limbs that firmly squeeze the earth and the sharp long nails attached to it.

It has a thick, sharp fang and a huge mouth that occupies 80% of its head.

A thick, flexible and long tail with a tip that is swung at a speed slightly above the speed of sound.

Other than [curse], the battle of our four demons began with the jealousy of a beast like a feline animal made of gems.

DAY 469

It turned out to be a tough opponent, as it seems that the ancient guardian curse and treasure king "Fabniripgan" has several transformation abilities.

The first was a feline-like gem beast type.

In addition to the weight and hardness of the gem parts, it is a strong enemy that excels in aggression while using speed and agile movements like carnivores.

exhaling flames or secreting poisons had no affect and it was quite good in terms of physical strength and durability, not to mention the curse that it continuously unleashed was a troublesome ability.

The next time it was overthrown, it transformed into a bird-like jewel beast shape.

The jewel-birds style of attack was basically to fly at a very high speed around the ceiling, scatter a thin, heavy, sharp blade from the sky, or unleash a more powerful [curse].

The defense power is higher in the jewelry beast type form, and the amount of the jewelry parts is reduced by the damage caused by the jewelry beast type and the length is also reduced somewhat.

However, due to the great advantage of the flight ability, it was an unfortunate enemy to fight.

In this form, let's just say that Minoyoshi-kun was not very active.

Still it was cut and knocked down, but then it began to deform into a different shape.

Based on the previous gem beast it has shrunk by about half a meter perhaps due to the damage caused so far, it now possess a wing that scatters a jewel bird-shaped blade on the back, and also tentacles from the back, limbs, or torso It is a variant that has been stretched innumerably.

Even though it is bothersome to say it's a gemstone that gets flying ability, it's made of magic gem parts, so it's a tough enemy that comes with carbide jewel tentacles with different abilities, and aura of the cursed [curse].

At this stage, [the Talisman of cursing] and [the substitute for ginger] had already been equipped

Using [curse], it is an ability that is powerful even against powerful monsters, but it is not clear from now on what [curse] affects will be.

I don't really know how each of us resists it or to what extent.

Personally, I would like to expect that my [state anomaly nullification] will be effective and I will not be affected by [curse], but who knows what will happen?

DAY 470

The final form of the ancient guardian curse and treasure king "Fabniripgan" was humanoid.

I think the statue of the horn of the altar hinted at this it from it's appearance so one could have guessed.

The height of the human type is about 5 meters.

The jewelry parts that make up it's body are all magic jewelry parts, the right arm is red, the left arm is blue, the torso is green, the right foot is white, the left foot is black, and the remaining head is all composite.

The right arm spews a flame of super high heat, the left arm spews super cold ice water, the back shows a tentacle like the root of a large tree, the right foot leaks light to regenerate itself, and the left foot materializes The [curse] forms like a shadow beast, and the head is all mixed and chaotic.

Its ability has improved in a step-by-step manner compared to before.

There is no carnivore like movements or heavy blows using it's weight like a jewel beast type, and even if it flies like a jewel bird type to set off a long-distance attack, it is a part that combines and strengthens both of these forms together. It's clear to see the human form was stronger than the three previous forms.

The movement is that of a master martial artist, and I felt a high level of intelligence from the fact it's behavior has been one of an opponent who can sense the tide of battle and predict his enemies movements.

In addition to selectively using the whole body's ability in combination and strategically attacking, as usual, [curse] has been released continuously.

And not only randomly but with a sense of directivity, avoidance has become even harder because the probability of generating [curse] is greatly raised.

Even at this stage I did not receive the curse or status affects.

I do not know whether [conditional nullification] has shown an effect or I can not accept [curse] in the first place with [Kigami], but I can move without any problems.

But the other three demons were different. A curse print floats on their body, dulling their usual movement.

Kanami-chan's vision is fluctuating [introverted vision], she continues to lose magic [leak magic], and simply moving causes severe pain [serious pain] [curse].

Minoyoshi-kun's is afflicted with [weak body] inflicting low physical ability, [breaking resistance] with various resistance decline, [hollow thinking] with low thinking ability, wind damage type continuous damage [windbreaker blade] 's [curse] occurs doing damage over time.

Ase-chan loses energy from the body [inactive commandment], the body is atrophy [the aspiration of fear], and it becomes difficult to breathe [defensive breath] [curse] occurs.

It's only because Miki is such a high level that she can manage, but just imagine what would happen otherwise.

It can be said that [curse] is a bothersome and powerful condition attack.

To uncure you need to use special items or meet certain conditions.

Some conditions are simple, others are complex and others use specific items.

It is said that if the curse is weak, it will often be cured over time, but this time it is derived from "Fabniripgan" and there is a high possibility that it will not be cured naturally. Every [curse] is effective, and as a result, Miki is not able to put out her usual abilities. But still it was managed by the height of the basic abilities and the combat experience.

I'm also acting as a support for everyone healing where I can, taking time but being careful not leave any openings or be careless.

If it were Seiji-kun, he probably could have healed the curse, but we are lucky as the curses haven't been a deadly curse.

While thinking so, I cut off it's limbs somehow after noon, I slashed down threw the neck, and succeeded in penetrating the heart or rather the treasure that was in the position of the heart.

Even if the jewel parts are broken, it seems that only the heart jewels can not be substituted, even for "Fabniripgan", which has always kept fighting at its best by replenishing and substituting from the ground anew.

With its last footsteps, It lunged towards me while finishing the Tokuno [curse] fighting until the end, and it hit me head on.

The black, dazzling nausea jet surrounds me however, is nonetheless effective still.

It seems that the feeling of being exposed to a little strong cold wind is near. I don't know why, but I think it was good not to be involved in [curse].

If there was a curse, I would have struggled more.

[Successful defeat of area raid boss "Fabniripgan"]

[Clear conditions of [favnilipgun] [Minute defeat] [Dissipation recovery] [Ineffective curse] has been achieved]

[The achievement group has been granted special ability special skill [Major of Activation]]

[The achievement group was given a treasure chest [a treasured treasure for heritage] as a first defeat bonus.]

[A part of the divine power of [the god of heritage] has been collected for the capture of God's Poem by Psalm Awakener / Major Character]

[The divine power collection was the god of the collection, so the god power of the inferior quality was repelled.]

[A part of the rejected divine power is materialized by regulation]

[Yatendoji has recieved [heritage curse di Waldi. Relicadora]!]

Anyway, after receiving the last attack it's a nice reward and I begin recovery of the loot

As it is likely that pieces of gemstones are also worth a lot, they will be scraped together with the [All Terrain] and thrown into the item box without making any distinction between the surrounding rocky land and so on.

It was sorted automatically by type, so I could sort it without having to pick it up.

Since the jewel parts were also taken at that time, the last treasure was taken by hand.

Then I peel off the surface of the jewel with a finger and put it in a jar with Reisen prepared in advance.

The part that was peeled off is the part that was the heart, and this completes the magic bullet that uncurses [curse] that afflicts Miki.

When I had him drink it, what had felt so painful was gone and he regained his original movement like it had all been a lie.

I feel relieved with this, maybe I was foolish in doing so.

From behind, I heard a voice saying, "HoHo, it's about time."

There should be no one other than us here.

There was a disgusting impression given from the voice that sickened the whole body.

When I put the jewel into the item box, I immediately turned around and pointed the tip of the spear to the voice, and there was a smiling clown.

With iridescent afro hair, the face is dyed with white makeup, the eyes, nose and mouth are painted red and the cheeks are marked with tear marks in blue.

The clothes are colorful and flashy and stand out greatly. The height of the body was about three meters. The torso is thick and round and big on the whole.

It is exactly like a jester.

Such a jester was juggling using nearly twenty balls and clubs, and was dexterously balanced on a large ball while riding a unicycle.

Seeing that figure, I remember that there was a similar existence among the collected information.

"Mirgal orm" who just danced and "Fabniripgan" just killed.

It is an existence equivalent to it, the ancient unknown crown false leather stupid king "Gesta Krain".

One of the area raid bosses created by [God of Oblivion].

I was thinking that I wasn't in such a place, and it was a failure that I didn't strike immediately.

The balls and clubs juggling by "Gesta Krain" float in the air, draw a circle, and the light overflows from the center.

It was a light where a huge amount of [divine power] stayed.

The light that overflows from the scale where the powers of multiple [God] are integrated falls down on us without any resistance, and the light flow make my feild of vision turn a dazzling white.

There is no pain. Understand that there is no life-threatening fatal injury or damage caused by light flux.

However, I felt a sense of losing something fatal from my body. It is a feeling that something important is missing something that should not be lost.

I will not die.

However, the current situation is a crisis.

I put a finger from my silver arm on my eyebrow, I feel a scratch, then glared at the figure of the clown, which is the cause of the torrent flow.

The next time we meet, I will kill him absolutely.

And then I lost consciousness.

DAY 471

[[God of oblivion] [God of fantasy] [God of harmony] [God of history] [God of the environment] [Deity of the ancient god] “The end of oblivion of” Jestacrain ” Jester is jumping in Jestakurain. Livan. Leiria> was activated starting at night Tendoko]

[With the activation of the conceptual effect [Oblivious oblivion], memories etc. of the night Tendoko in the [Mysterious Rich Dark Continent] are now oblivious and altered continuously.

[To release, please do not meet some conditions, such as collecting night fragments of your memory, or move away from [Mysterious rich dark planet]]

[Activation of the priesthood effect [Causal oblivion] will now continuously alter all information regarding the night Tendoko in the [Mysterious Rich Dark Continent]]

[If you want to cancel it, please satisfy the condition, such as destroying the [Area raid boss] which remains, or move away from [Mysterious rich earth dark continent]]

[By the priesthood effect [Causal oblivion], Night Tendoko was made [Kongo Yasha Demon God Vajuraha Khaksha Overlord. Deity Vaselassies] to [Apostle Apostle Lorde / Extinct species Expices] [Degeneration rank down]]

[Night Tendoniko has been [degeneration] from [apostle, extinct species] to [oni auger, rare species rare species]]

[Night ten doji went from [Daiki, rare species] to [Nakaki hob goblin, subspecies variant] [Degeneration of existence]]

[Night ten doji went from [Nakaki, Subspecies] to [Oki Goblin] [Degeneration of existence]]

[Night Tendonoko can not drop from [Oki] to [Degeneration of it] below that]

[Alternatively, previous generations have been constructed from the soul's records and roots.]

[The law of the world is inscribed in part of the soul of the mange pile]

[A part of the soul is awakened, released, or restricted by the Great Deity who controls the end and the origin.]

[The restricted part of the soul is modified and aggregated as a non-standard grace [Growing excess] [limit transcendence] [Kisame discovery] [Kamichi guidance search] [Absorptive maximum] [Future Goddess]

[World Psalm [Kuroei Monogatari] Chapter 10 [Sustaining When Sounding] has been launched]

■ 全 ■

"The first day" / "The 47th day"

I feel cold and wake up.

However, the surrounding area was dark and I could hardly see anything, so I raised my upper body while missing and used [Luminance] on my right index finger.

[Luminance] is an ability that only lights up a part of the body or a tool that you have, but you can secure a light source anywhere in the world, and you can use it to destroy the enemy's field of vision by raising the amount of light instantaneously.

This time, when I scolded the darkness with the right forefinger that glowed like the morning sun, it became a real face because I was surrounded by an open space.

In the meanwhile, I look around and confirm that no one is present, then stop once [light emission], and I'm surrounded by the darkness that has been crowded again. Then repeat deep breathing and use [Luminance] again to check the surroundings.

But the result does not change.

The surrounding area was very large, and the walls, floors and ceilings were not artificial but soil, stone or huge rock.

It is a scene like a natural underground cave, the ceiling is high as you look up, and the rock wall where the rock surface is exposed is far away.

When you look down, there is a large stone like a finely polished marble.

The stone is large enough to overturn humanoid tactics, and the height of the stone is not known when riding on the top, but it seems to be at a certain height because it is so far away from the same clay floor as the ceiling and wall.

Apparently I was sleeping not on the ground but on a flat rectangular stone.

Unlike the others, the beast, bird, variant and human stone statues are placed on the corners of the rectangular stone, which is clearly an artifact.

The statue may have some meaning, but there was no clue as to the current situation.

I wondered what the unintelligible situation would be if I woke up and covered my face with both hands, wondering at all, lamenting with surprise, I said "Cold" and looked away with my hands.

I was not aware of the surrounding change and [luminescence], but the hand I saw again was silvery.

Or rather, both arms were turned into silver machine arms up to the shoulders.

It is not uncommon to use mechanical arms and legs with a wide range of performance and price instead of prosthetic treatment when the current technology causes loss of limbs due to an accident etc.

There is no need for mechanization itself, as there are some who become mecimers and become cyborgs, as well as performing surgery and making them into machine arms and legs because they are more convenient than life.

However, I have no memory of surgery, so the fear of what happened first comes first.

I can still understand if this is a treatment pod or a sickroom.

If I was bad at work and lost my arms without being aware of me and I was brought in for some reason, I could not do regenerative treatment, so I would not have been such an idea if it was a machine arm...

However, when I woke up, there was no treatment pod in a primitive strange place, and I had a surgery on a part of my body even though I had no memory.

If there is a person who is not afraid or surprised in such a situation, it is more surprising.

The question is over where Koko is and what is the machine arm, etc., but with regard to the machine arm, things that are already made change the consciousness.

At present, I do not think that I can do regenerative treatment of both arms, and I will just lose both arms at the place where I remove the mechanical arm by force. Then you should accept and act positively.

First of all, I moved for a while to check the performance of the silver machine arm and I was impressed by the ease of use.

The range of motion is much wider than the real life, the movement of the finger is quick and delicate, and no slight deviation from the consciousness is felt.

It works pretty well, so it looks like it can be used without any change.

After checking the movement, when I looked at the stone statue of the beast in the corner to check the strength etc., the fist broke the stone image just by lightly crawling. The shattered debris smashes vigorously and rolls away while making noise in the distance.

The strength of the power of the blow from the distance and the strength of the machine arm is clearly evident from its strength.

It is a gem of military grade from a comprehensive viewpoint, such as the sensitivity and strength of movement, and the strength of armor. It is also a specially prepared substitute.

In this case, even bare hands will have enough performance to kill the hostile existence.

I was surprised at first, but I am convinced that I got a high-performance machine arm.

If it's as easy to use as life or better, it's a useful tool in the current situation.

After checking the machine arms, I turned to items with very bright colors that were out of place here.

It was placed slightly above the head of the place where I had slept so far, and I recognized it when I checked the movement of the machine arm, but I touched it afterward, it was a straight, simple, ugly, simple-looking mochi.

When I discovered it, I had left it without knowing what the moth was, but I picked it up because I thought that there would be no moth in particular.

As soon as I felt something strong coming from my niece.

It is not a bad feeling. Rather comfortable, just having it brings power to the body.

And a scene that I have never seen in my mind.

A man who smiles gently and is a beautiful beauty. The background is a full sky, and a silver machine arm takes her hand and flies as if dancing.

For the first time, I know the beauty.

I don't know if it's dejav.

However, tears overflowed naturally. I feel sorry for something I forget.

I cried for a while and turned to where I was clean.

This sense is close to the sense of remembering something that was forced to forgive the spirit and forgot due to the attack of a psychic ability person.

After he noticed it, he insulted himself and traced back memories. Then I was able to confirm the lack of memory or turbidity.

This is probably the reason why I do not know what happened to the present situation.

There should be countless nasty mental ability measures available, but if it breaks through it is a considerable user.

Or, it may be due to a totally unknown ability.

While thinking that it is awkward, I swear in my heart that I should retaliate for the cause.

Once I achieved my first goal, I will lightly move my body to check the familiarity with the machine arms and the comfort of using the chopsticks.

I have no clothes and I am still born, so I'm not comfortable around my crotch, but I don't have to worry about it because there is nothing around me.

I tried using a spear to some extent to face a virtual enemy, but I became familiar with it for the first time as I would not think it would be.

Besides, the sharpness of the agate was marvelous, and even if only lightly shaken, it could be cut like a cut stone of the irregular shaped stone that was the target of trial cutting.

The cross section is slippery as polished, and it seems that it seems to be stuck and not cut when the cross section is put together.

In the present situation where there was nothing but all the supplies, the fort was a weapon that could be relied upon enough.

Anyway, after roughly checking about the tools that I had and the changes that happened to me, I jumped from the sleeping rectangular stone.

I fell a few meters and landed on the floor, and after a short distance I looked back at the stone.

Looking at the whole picture, I realized that the rectangular stone I was sleeping was an altar.

A rectangular altar decorated with four kinds of stone statues that symbolize something is a masonry of stone piles, but it has the power to make you feel a long history and a solemn atmosphere.

But now that I'm snarling or breaking a stone statue, the atmosphere is diminishing. The broken part was inviting a bribe that I could not say at all.

However, considering that I was laid on such a stone bed, I would not be funny to think that I was being sacrificed.

It is important to know why this happened, but it is only as you see it.

There are patterns like letters, but it is impossible now to decipher it because it is just a list of unknown languages and symbols.

There is no choice but to collect and decipher information later, but in the current situation where there is no writing instrument, it can only be seen and stored.

So I turn around and memorize every detail using [Momentary Perfect Memory] and record it in my brain with [Centro Archive]. This makes it possible to remember anytime.

After finishing the work, I was curiosity and beat a part of the masonry bed with a mechanical arm and carried it to my mouth.

I can have any kind of "sucking ability" I have. And it is possible to learn the ability of the object that has been sent and use it as an ability.

If stone masonry was actually a place to sacrifice, it should have a corresponding meaning.

As there is always a use for tools, if this stone masonry has actually been sacrificed, it always takes root as an ability.

If it was possible to learn it luckily, it was an act that expected that information could be obtained from the ability name even a little.

[Learning completion of ability name ability [Altar of the Treasure King]]

I was able to learn with Assari.

I intended to cover all the masonry beds, but was it lucky to obtain palm-sized pieces, or was there enough power in the masonry beds?

Anyway, because I was able to learn, let's think about the ability, not the reason.

Treasure king may be something that is deeply related to this stone bed.

The effect was to carry out maintenance and energy supply of the treasure king and automatic generation and maintenance of jewelry parts starting from the altar-no matter what the material is-.

Honestly I do not understand the meaning well, but because there are many things that are difficult to understand in the ability, I will leave it at one end.

This is an imagination, but the treasure king may be a mechanical soldier.

I thought so, because the effectiveness is similar to the ability to learn from a dedicated machine to fix a damaged machine.

Personally, I am more concerned with the automatic generation of jewelry parts, than treasure kings.

There is a lot of things I want, one thing I want.

And in order to get what you want, it is easier than negotiating with an intelligent creature to prepare it yourself.

But you have to pay for getting what you want, and it's not easy to get paid for it

DAY 472

Outside the space where the stone bed was awakened, there was a scene that looked like an ancient ruin that had died in the past.

The architectural style of the ancient ruins is quite different, and even if they are adjacent, they are often completely different.

It seems as if the ruins of several civilizations developed in different places were collected, and they were chaos but united.

I have been to work on many planets where I see the various civilizations and history that have developed.

There are hundreds of light civilizations recorded in the [computer library], but none of the archaeological sites in this group is a thing corresponding to knowledge.

At first, we can confirm some similar styles.

However, because I could confirm some points that would not be meaningful in the same style, I judged that some would have coincided by chance.

If you know the heritage of the civilization you know, you can back-calculate the present location, but anyway, we set one of such ruins as a temporary base.

There are only a few buildings that have remained in shape to the extent that a draft does not come in, and a sufficient amount of space can be secured for sleeping with just a little cleaning.

In addition, there are still usable wells near the ruins, and although they are a bit broken, there are still moss.

At present, there are few ruins that had all the same conditions, and there was almost no doubt.

However, since it was not originally made in the defense aspect such as safety, it was not minded, so the rubble rolling around was moved, and some intrusions were restricted to some extent.

This will make it easier for you to respond to traps by limiting the direction of attention.

Forcing a wall to be broken is not limited to that, but in that case the momentum will be cut to break the wall and there will be room to deal with it.

After that, I make a simple Naruko, and place a double triple booby trap in places where something might pass.

Then, at the temporary base where I was prepared to a certain extent, I took a walk around the area a little to understand the topography, and spread out the collected materials while securing some escape routes.

It was once used for curtains, dusty, boro cloth with holes.

It seems that it has been cut by something, about ten meters of lush grass.

Wonders such as metal knives and forks that have never been seen.

Gold candlesticks embedded in the wall or rolled inside the ruins.

A strange metal streetlight that stood on a road outside but was pulled back.

It used to be furniture and chaise longues, but if it is broken, a lot of wood is used.

A handy-sized stone that you can pick up in the area.

It will leak if you put more than a certain amount because the hole is open, but it is still usable.

A remnant of an armored mechanical soldier, such as a mixture of western armor and fort that had fallen near the base.

The dead body of a chimeric protist that is a mixture of wild red sea lions and giant whales.

A large bone reminiscent of the thick, robust, and unborn size of an abandoned protagonist.

There are dozens of meters, a huge snake's molt shell.

A very primitive weapon that has no unusual mechanism, such as a broken rusted sword or a hammer with a broken handle in half.

The harvest was obtained while the search was short.

There are still many things to do, but first I decided to use the corpse of a chimeric protist, which is one of the harvested items, to make clothes and armor.

Chimeric Protozoans are based on lions, which include scorpion tails and bee moths.

Cut off the parts that can be used for something, such as the head of a lion, the tail of an eyebrow, the beard of an eyebrow, and then peel off the fur of the torso and limbs.

There was only a blade that could be used, and it took a little effort to peel off, but the chimera protagonist was a huge body, and even one piece alone took more than necessary fur.

Stripped fur is too large if it is intact, so cut it in half and make one of them smaller using [High Compression].

After making it a little big candy size, it is included in the mouth and bites again and again firmly so as not to eat out for a while.

In this way, bacteria and viruses attached to the fur can be removed, and saliva and nanomachines in the body take in information for structural analysis, and antibodies are produced.

[Immunity strengthening] I think that it will not be a disease in rare things because there are, etc., but in the current situation where there can not be any help from others, there may be a number of safety measures.

So you should take measures against bacteria and viruses when your body is still tired and your belly is full and healthy. Even if you become ill, there is a possibility that it will be possible if you are still well.

Besides that there are other purposes.

We bite the extra hair, fat, and meat in the fur by biting it, and by overlapping and activating the [fluid control] and the [scientific and chemical preparation], we will wear the fur on the leather.

The more you chew, the more specific chemicals that are secreted in the mouth will penetrate the fur, and the fur will soon become usable as a sturdy leather. If there is leather that can be used for clothes and bags, it will be easier later.

I made leather in my mouth with mogo mogo, and then I grabbed a rough rope and a stone.

Tie the stone with a rough line and make a simple bola. Bora is one of the throwing weapons, a tool that can be used to throw the prey to the legs.

It is not difficult to solve because it is not a thing that involves the whole body like a net, but if you do well you can still inhibit movement.

However, because the material is bad, it is likely to be easily broken. Rough ropes are severely degraded, and if they are a little strong, they can only be torn off.

So, immerse your hand in the water that has been collected from a nearby well in the coffin, and here too, it is activated by overlapping [fluid control] and [scientific drug preparation]. Then the special sweat that exudes from the hands dissolves in the water and stirs well.

Gradually dipped the created bola into it after the water had become a little viscous.

Present water is a special coating agent. The coating agent is a product that is applied enough to increase its strength so as to withstand a weight of over 100 kg even with a simple paper cup.

As it is only applied, it is an excellent product that can be used for most products, and this completes the light and sturdy bowler.

Even with a large number of chimeric protists, it would be possible to earn enough time.

After making the bola, I grabbed the streetlight while moving my mouth.

The streetlight is a metal column about 5 meters long. It is cylindrical and has a thickness that allows it to be touched by fingers with both hands.

While touching it, it will be transformed into a sharp needle-like javelin of about one hundred and fifty centimeters using [metal operation].

There are several streetlights, but because the amount of metal is limited, they were hollowed and bulked up inside, and I thought of it and opened a hole near the tip.

The image is a javelin like a huge needle.

From the size of the corpse and bones, there is no doubt that there are quite large protists living around it.

Even if the vitality is huge enough, it shoots this moth-let's make it a [blood drainer]-and it will be weakened over time if the blood that has passed through the cavity goes out.

In addition, blood purification and other treatments can be done at the same time, so it will save you the trouble of dismantling it later.

Because if you find a street lamp elsewhere, you can make it anew, so [Blood Blood] may be useful as a disposable weapon.

[Blood-blood blood] was also coated with a coating agent, the strength was further raised.

The coating agent is also very good in water repellency, so we expect it to smooth out the blood flow.

After rebuilding all the streetlights to [Blood Blood], choose a thing of reasonable size and shape from the huge bones of the protist.

Then he cut and processed the huge bones and made an instant "thrower Atrator".

Atortle is a rod-like tool for raising power, flight distance, and accuracy when throwing a [blood drainer]. Under the present circumstances, it is absolutely better to have an efficient use of [Blood Blood] which is a valuable long distance physical attack.

Also, I think that I can use it as a stick, so of course I apply a coating agent to Kore.

After finishing the production of [blood drainer] and atortle, I exhaled the bitten fur.

When [Reduce Object] is canceled, the original size is restored, but the fur that was initially covered with red hair has been changed to red-black leather.

I try to pull lightly, but it seems to be a fairly sturdy leather. The original fur was also quite durable, but it seems to be much more robust.

Judging that this would be usable, treat the other as well. But this time I will use leather that has been adjusted to be softer.

It is because it uses different hardness depending on the application.

While mogo mogo, determine the shape of hard leather just made and cut it, [metal operation] of the remnants of the mechanical soldier to sew instead of sewing metal thread.

The production method of clothes is recorded in [computer library], but actually it is difficult to create it.

But I can not afford to spend time here. There are many other things I want to do.

I want to shape it to some extent by tomorrow, when I will start exploring in earnest.

DAY 473

The equipment has been completed to some extent.

Wearing a reddish-black leather jacket and leather pants, sewed and reinforced a very light and strong armor plate made from the remnants of machine soldiers on each part.

The sole is a red-black fighting boot with an armor plate sandwiched by thick leather to prevent stepping and the toe also reinforced with an armor plate.

A red and black leather belt with a small accessory box that allows you to suspend the Bora and Atortle.

[Sleep] is an elongated red-black leather cylinder made as easy to carry.

A red-black leather bag that has been enlarged in a reasonable range so that you can put in a few things.

And made from head materials such as the skull of a lion, the head armor is a majestic red-black armor that protects some of the neck and back.

As long as it is red and black as a whole, I am proud of being the best equipment among limited supplies.

Apart from being easy to see, the protective aspect is very good, and in addition to being extremely hard even in the surface hard leather alone, it is equipped with the improvement of the touch and some shock absorption by using soft leather in the inner layer.

The point is protected by the armored board which raised it in a stack and strength, and it is the equipment which prepared various other gimmicks.

I wore a finished product with some ingenuity, and made a final inspection while crawling the huge bone instead of breakfast.

In the current situation where there is no information, we have to be careful and cautious, yet we have to move forward.

Take full advantage of all available information searching abilities and be careful not to overlook any trivial information.

I do not want to do it personally because I am so tired that I can perceive everything from the air current flowing around to the sound of kicking pebbles, but I gave up.

I am involved in survival with one injury and one illness for me now.

Luckily, many of the healing abilities such as Fast Regeneration and Cell Activation have been available, but they should be timid now, alone and without allies.

Having finished eating the big bones, I went out of the base.

This time, we aim to be a huge huge building, such as a temple, located a little away from the base.

Even if you explore, there is a high probability that a larger one will pick up information as something more than a ruin like a house.

It looks like a temple, and it can be quite promising if it is huge.

[Hidden] [Attitude block] [Ensuring] [Shadow] [Stone of the roadside] and so on and secretly go on the road, with a giant with a pale white electrification whose length exceeds 8 meters on the way The tiger encountered a scene where three chimera protists, a mixture of dogs and goats, were singing something.

It is a huge snake that is more than a dozen meters away.

Now the snake head is squeezed from the head by the tiger head, and the meat is bitten from the side by the dog and goat heads on the left and right sides, so that it will be the predatory side if you live from the thick long torso and the thick moth.

I do not know whether it is alive or just a reflection, but I tried to fight back weakly with the tail, and I was convulsive by receiving a pale thunderbolt each time.

Chimeric protists were away about 100 meters away because they were crazy about their diet and were unaware of it, but it was an opportunity to strike first.

There is no doubt, slowly take out the [blood drainer] from the leather cylinder and pull out the waist attractor and hold it.

I could see the situation just from the side, and my head was side by side, so I aimed at shooting through my head and did my best [dropping].

[Precise sniper] [Electromagnetic acceleration] [Perforated bullet] [Strong shoulder] [Strong force strengthening] [Absolute attack] [Flexible body] [Flexible body] [Attack on shell] Accelerated by overtaking etc. It landed on the street.

The tip which jumped into the eyeball of the goat's head on the left penetrates without appreciableness, and it loses the power, and the goat's head itself is shattered into a wood edge.

While the serous of the goat's head is splattered, the ear tip goes through while forcibly pulling off the strong chin of the central tiger head next to it.

A fragment of the jawbone and the like spattered and pierced the right dog head, and the ear tip penetrated from above the jaw as well as the goat head.

While the two heads were completely blown off, the chimeric protozoan still did not die.

He began to look around with the eyes of a tiger head that had a scratching algae and the remaining jawless tiger head.

I was in the midst of a tremendous vitality, but I was running right after throwing.

The slightly slip-resistant boots were able to exert their effect by making them uneven, and the chimeric protagonist could pack up to the distance of the brow before it recovered from the pain and moved to revenge.

After that, they cut off the neck of the remaining tiger head with a sip of a whistle, and then they took a right nail to move and try to kill it. While cutting through several hairs with wind alone, it is possible to kick it all the way from the soft belly and aim at the heart accurately with [heart sound detection].

The wolf pierces the fur, cuts off the bones, and wears a heart that beats strongly. However I twisted and broken my heart which did not stop, and I finally fixed it.

Apparently the vitality of the protist is quite strong. It seems better to stop by the end.

Anyway, I am delighted that the breakfast of fresh meat was taken, but since I have no time, I enter an affordable building and suck out most of the blood and drain it, and after removing the fur, I will cover all the meat and internal organs.

The belly was filled with something after eating the masonry bed, but after a long time eating the fine meat and the crunchy bone, you can understand the importance of food well.

Raw meat is good, but it is more delicious if you make grilled meat that drips with [ignition ability].

After filling it with delicious taste and vitality, I headed for a huge temple-like structure.

It would be nice if we could get some food, but what will happen?

DAY 474

It seems that a huge structure like a temple was a real temple.

On the walls and ceilings where the damage was noticeable, there were huge pictures drawn by outstanding technology.

The paintings differ from room to room and may be reproduced in some mythology or in one of the bible scenes. The picture changed more magnificently and more complexly as I went deeper from the entrance.

In addition, the inside was quite rough, probably due to the passage of long days, but it is a beautiful thing compared to the outside ruins.

Also, the remaining furniture has a certain pattern of religious significance, and the quality gets more luxurious as you go deeper.

Unless it was a religion that was scolding money for doing evil things, it may have been a temple of a very large religion.

And it seems that there is a mechanism and a mechanism that intercepts intruders, as it is natural, in the temple that leaves the remains of the bustling bustle that had been there before.

There was no nephew in the temple. It is natural that believers are dangerous if they happen to be caught.

However, instead of that, angel-shaped machine soldiers and puppet soldiers continued to patrol even when no one was present.

An angel-type mechanical soldier is a huge humanoid equipped with a massive silver-colored body armor with a massive armour that intimidates an enemy, has a metallic wing on its back, and holds a huge mace in its hand.

It is clear that it is an avant-garde system, and it can be seen at a glance that it is a battle style that relies on the defense power of the whole body and penetrates and knocks down the enemy.

There is also acceleration from the wings on the back, and if you let go, the intruder will be smashed in a matter of seconds.

Behind the angel-type mechanical soldier is an angel-type doll soldier with a face and model that imitates a beauty bizarre.

Wearing a pure white sanctuary, with a white glowing angel wing on his back, a smile with a face that is so elaborate as a human being will fascinate the viewer.

However, in that hand, a beautiful white tin can was held, and from there I was attacked with a whistle of light, etc. So when I first met I was quite impatient.

Of course, the speed of the light's eyebrows is enough, and the destructive power is enough, and hitting is essential if you hit it directly. It was bothersome to deal with it because it was firing continuously.

Since it would be difficult for the attack to pass if the mechanical soldiers were eliminated, it would have been more difficult if it had no chance to shoot the [blood drainer] into the torso.

Machine soldiers and puppet soldiers act with at least one pair or more, more than a dozen, so they were dangerous enough to be killed in a rush.

However, we set off surprises and traps and proceed ahead to advance the internal search.

There are various heritages left in the temple, and we will collect many of them.

Among them were many items that entered treasure chests and nagauta, and those items with little deterioration over time were appreciated.

Then I managed to get to a place like the Pope or the Cardinal of the Highest Priest.

Unlike other places, it remained as beautiful as it was when time had stopped, and many books were stored in a beautiful state like never before.

There are also a lot of furniture and works of art, so all of them are sorted into small bags using [Object Reduction], and then packed into leather bags.

For products that are delicate to handle, use liquid metal used for mechanical soldiers as buffer material and wrap it in soft leather, etc., and carefully pack it with care as much as possible under the present circumstances.

I was not at ease, and I don't need to do art works now, but I was only preparing in anticipation of future value.

By the way, the most joyful thing I got this time is the contents of the treasure chest placed on the white altar in the deepest part of the temple.

Others I brought back to the base enough achievements to be connected next, and after working I went to bed.

And I had a dream.

That would be the past we had forgotten.

I remembered a bit that I had forgotten.

DAY 475

The deepest part of the temple yesterday, the contents of the treasure chest I found on the white altar that was there, was a clean white cloth about 2 meters wide with no dirt.

I am happy to make underwear with this, I immediately cut it and tried to make it yesterday.

Underwear is a simple tank top. I wanted to use underwear for the boxer shorts type, but I made a compromise with the trunks type.

It is not craftsmanship, but it is a product made by amateur work, but it is the best result whether the material is ugly.

The feel of a pure white cloth is softer and smoother than silk, and it feels like a mattress but does not feel the hardness of the floor even when sleeping.

I felt the illusion of sleeping in a luxury bed and I got a deep sleep yesterday.

It is hard to replace it with anything, but there are other peculiarities of pure white cloth.

First of all, robustness is amazing anyway.

I cut it with a broom, but otherwise it was so tough and supple that it would turn around.

It is impossible to cut easily even the pure white knives possessed by the puppet soldier, as well as the armor made from the material of the mechanical soldier.

Also, when I put the cloth on my thigh and hit it with a machine arm from above, the impact was weak.

It was quite painful to do the same thing without cloth, so you can see the amount of impact absorption.

Unexpectedly, the site of the chopsticks that had been cut was regenerated.

After one night, it was in the same condition as the first, and after making a small hole for trial and leaving it for a while, it confirmed, but the hole was blocked.

Apparently it is also a recycled material.

There are various uses, and a cloth that can be used many times is extremely useful.

And the cloth seems to be kept clean at all times without getting somehow soiled.

I noticed that when the piece fell into the muddy water.

The pieces that fell into the mud, however, were still white.

It does not change even if you try [Staining] to try it, it will not change if you try to immerse in blood or try to bury in the mud.

In addition, there is no answer even if you use [virus test] [bacterial test] [microbe detection] [disinfecting bacteria].

In other words, a pure white cloth will not only stain if anything, but also bacteria and viruses.

A little observation is that when the cloth comes in contact with muddy water or blood, it seems that a thin film is applied to the contact surface.

When I touch it with a hand, I feel that there is a slight gap.

I do not know the theory, or the detailed mechanism, but the cloth seems to be a tool with some [magic] hidden-that is, it is a [magic item] to infer from the memory that I remembered a little.

Then, it would be safe to judge that the tools obtained from the treasure chest besides the cloth are magic items.

It is not the current state of the art to judge from the outside what the effect is, but it will be useful for something later, so I decided to save the tools I got from the treasure chest.

There are other memories that I have remembered, but they are still fragmented and totally lacking.

In any case, it will be the first to move quickly and remember the lost memories.

So, with the extra underwear I always keep clean, I went out of the base today.

Once, the belly is not reduced much by the benefit of [magic], which continues to be flooded from the body around the stone bed.

However, I do not know how long it will last, and it will be safe to gather food and information while I can move.

Even so, the stones that can be picked here are delicious, but is this also related to magic?

DAY 476

The war with the protozoa was avoided as much as possible after the necessary food recovery, and the search inside the ruins and material recovery were focused, and as a result, the search about a diameter of about 1 km from the base was finished.

The resources obtained in the process, the tools that can still be used, and the various items such as armor made by myself are moderate, and the base would have been rather limited.

However, it is now contained in one big backpack that is used for climbing.

The dorsal bag is a kind of magic item obtained from a treasure chest and boasts hundreds of times the storage capacity of its appearance.

All the materials collected by Kore won't be wasted, making it easier to carry the collected materials.

I think that I can learn something if I eat the dorsal bag, but I got this one, so I have to use it carefully until I get a reserve.

There are other magic items that can be obtained from the treasure chest.

A glass bottle from which clean water runs out endlessly, a statue of an elephant made of gold that spew gems from the mouth.

A knife that throws and sticks in a box that converts what you have put into another substance, and then returns it to your hands.

Something like a golden gear that revolves around red jewels, an assault rifle without a magazine.

Personally I wish I could use a magic item like an assault rifle, but if I squeeze the trigger, nothing will come out.

Is there something missing to use?

There is no magazine, but there is a place to load. Maybe you need a separate magazine.

I kept searching for it today, thinking that it should be a system that could be used alone.

In the process, I was able to get magic items from the treasure box, but I can't get anything like Amakura.

Unfortunately, even if I could not use the magic item, I went to sleep thinking that I could sell it.

And again, a little memory revived.

DAY 477

I woke up early for a week.

It is not perfect yet, but it is time to get out of the ruins.

For the time being, most of the supplies obtained at the searched locations were recovered, and all found treasure chests were also recovered.

It is known that all information obtained from the ruins has already been recorded in the [computer library], and at the moment there is no information on lost memories.

As long as something is unlikely to be obtained here, the only way out is to find a place where you can get more information and act.

If you decide that, you just act.

From the stream of winds, perhaps going outwards, eat grilled protozoal meat as breakfast.

The baked meat is a human-made protagonist with a metal-like skin, and it is the breast of a madman who has swung around and chased after the encounter with a metal-like skin.

It was fortified, but it was a kind of meat made by medicine. The taste is not bad. I feel like a little bit of additives, but this is a meat of a good taste.

As I proceeded with caution after the meal, I found a group of mechanical soldiers patrolling the road.

The mechanical soldiers walk on the road in a double column and quickly look around for intruders.

While crawling from the shadow while following the situation, at the same time set up a modified atratol so as to be able to throw two [blood drainer].

You can avoid it and move, but if you leave this place, it is judged that it is better to stop and collect parts.

I measure the timing from the back of the house and when I stop at the intersection, I overuse the ability twice and throw out [Blood Blood] all the time.

Flying at a high speed, [Blood Blood] pierced a group of machine soldiers from behind and stabbed as planned.

There is a core on the machine soldier's torso. Machine soldiers do not stop moving when their limbs break, but they do not move when their core breaks.

One of the knowledge I gained in a few battles, this was the way to minimize damage.

However, breaking the core is a wasteful way. I think it will help something later if it can be recovered cleanly so that it can be predicted that the core will be the most important of the machine soldiers.

While taking safety into the current situation, I think it would be a shame and take the broken core in my hand and ask for everything.

If it's broken, it's best to do it in addition to the ability.

[Learning of ability name [Golem core]]

[Learning completion of ability name [Maid Repair]]

[Learning completed of [Capital name [Vanrefure type medium sized magic furnace]]]]

Then I was able to learn again.

Even though there isn't a lot of money, what kind of thing is it so easy to learn so far?

After all, you should think that it is easier to learn than before.

Anyway, machine soldiers are said to be golems.

Golem, is that golem? Being made of mud and metal that comes out to myths and legends.

It's a fantasy story, but in reality there is a substitute for magic items that operates with the power of magic, and I remembered that I once died but was reborn in this world, so I was convinced that it was such a thing.

The cause of death has not yet been remembered, and there are many things that are bothering me, such as the reason I reincarnated, but I will leave it.

There are many things to think about, but first of all, if you check the usability of the ability, [Golem core] seems to be an ability to make golem core by using metal etc. as catalyst.

When I embedded the core in the remnants of the machine soldier Golem, added the damaged metal and performed [Maid Repair], the golem that was broken and stopped moving started to move.

It works as I directed. I spent a little time trying to figure out how much it moved.

In this case, I think that it is possible to form a troop with Golem soldiers, but in the light-weight situation, few will be good even if it is operated.

Next, [van's refle type medium-sized magic furnace], but using this, some energy was generated from near the heart. Hot but comfortable.

It is somewhat different from supplying your own magical power from the outside, and it seems that power is applied to every corner of the body. You can move it if you are aware of it, and you can control its density.

I think that I can use the magical power that I can feel to the detail, and I will take out the assault rifle.

Maybe you do not need your own magic to use this? I thought so, and when I tried to squeeze the trigger actually, something had been released at high speed from the muzzle with a sense that the magical power had diminished from inside the body although there was nothing before, and a wall that was on the line was pierced.

After all, it seems that it was a magic item that ejects magic instead of bullets.

I decided to use an assault rifle modified magic rifle and attach a rifle sling made of cloth.

After that, I tried shooting training for a while, but if the bullets use magic power, the whole body becomes lazy if I shoot too much continuously. It will be a reaction of mass consumption.

There are times when I'm not used to it, but it seems that magic generation by [Vanrefure type medium-sized magic furnace] can not catch up with consumption.

Training and getting used to it, and learning more abilities by going through golems, etc., will help you, but I do not know when it will be.

Besides, I tried to shoot the protagonists who were attracted to the gunshots, but it took a little time to stop whether the bullet was weak or the protist was so tough.

The amount and quality of magical power may be related to the power.

With the advent of the Magic Rifle, I thought [Blood Blood] and Bora would be exempt, but it is likely to be a little further.

After that, I went from where the ruins were located to where I could go out.

It is still underground, with a cave-like path continuing.

Well, what are we waiting from here?

Though I thought so, time was too late, so I went to a nearby ruins to eat dinner and then went to bed.

[Golem core], this seems to be quite useful.

DAY 478

Outside the underground space where the ruins were located, it was a maze-like underground world.

I do not know where I am, and there are innumerable branches.

First of all, the air flow is going in a certain direction, but I do not know what is ahead of it.

I will go along that way, but it's not just walking like this.

The golem's remnant of several bodies is disassembled to secure the material, multiple golem cores that are the power source are connected, and the golden gear that rotates around the red jewel which is one of the magic items obtained from the treasure box is fitted. I am riding a Golem semi-tracking car that is capable of moving up by raising the output by putting in it.

Because it has the appearance similar to the ketten Krath with the addition of armor, I named it Golemkrat.

Since the front of the golem crats is a tire and the back is a track, it will move without problems even if the cave is somewhat rough.

I was prepared as a means of transportation to reduce the exhaustion of physical strength as much as possible while I can not see ahead, but Golem seems to be more convenient than imagined.

The structure of golem crats is quite modest, and the working site was slightly modified with liquid metal and so on, but it was only at an easy level. Originally, such a thing is a mass of metal and it can not move.

However, even with such a junk it can be freely moved by fitting the golem core.

In addition, the gear of the magic item can be easily arranged, so it will be quite easy to do various things.

Now I'm scared when there is an accident, so I'm not making it, but if I could make a reinforced exoskeleton etc, I could do more things.

There is also a slight drawback, but during operation some sounds are emitted and the protagonist changes, and monsters attack.

Attached to the left and right sides of the golem crats and wound the blood thread, the caves illuminated by the ten [blood drainers] that satisfy the [light emission] conditions are very bright, but deeper in places where the light does not reach There is darkness.

There are countless side holes in the cave, and there is nothing out of the reach of light from which something flies without sound. When I stabbed it with an ax that I had, it was an ax that was about the size of a person.

Is it a large species like the Filipino bat? It is thought that the bats are preyed on fruits and nectar, but the stings on the head are stained with a bloody smell.

In addition, the wings were as sharp as a blade, and the fangs were in the shape of cutting meat.

It is a carnivore and will kill the prey by surprise.

For the time being, I just baked it and tried to meet with Bolivar instead of a lunch box. The meat has a small but crisp texture, and my personal favorite is its crispy wings and soft wing membranes.

Going further, the cave was dead.

I thought that it was strange that there was a wind flow, and when I cast an affordable stone with an atortle, the stone did not shatter or bounce back, and fell into the wall.

If you look closely, something small and slender will come in, and in a few seconds the place where the stone is embedded will be blocked.

This is another kind of monster, so I take out a stone that is about the size of an adult's head, and throw it in a powerful manner while repeatedly activating [bombing] and [timing device].

Then, I got deeper, and the size of the place where I was depressed was so intense that I had a lot of activity and I could see the true identity.

The wall seems to be a cluster of monsters like hundreds of thousands of numbers.

The 100 foot group seems to have understood that it was noticed that it looked like a rock wall, and it came to here like an approaching wall.

Luckily the speed is only walking, but it's so creepy that it's scary that it's full of directions.

I tried to go back the way I had flipped Golemkrat, but I felt a noise behind me.

You can hear the sound of a broken wall, and a small sound that sounds like a scorpion and a myriad of creatures. The buzzing signs also show that a hundred foot groups have been formed behind.

Apparently such a habit. It simulates like a wall in a cave whose path is limited, fills the escape area, and pinches it.

It is a hunter who is definitely coming to hunt for a hundred feet. This is probably a hunting ground for these guys.

It seems that I who has stepped into there easily has been made a prey.

While laughing involuntarily, I felt that I would come back before I was scolded by that feeling.

However, because it was dangerous for the time being, [Bioelectromagnetic shield] [air flow armor] [compression nitrogen] is layered and activated repeatedly, and further activate the variable reinforcement armor wall of Golem Krat and harden the defense.

Then, without taking a few seconds, the [bombed] stone, which was previously embedded, was detonated.

The explosion vigorously stirs a hundred feet of swarm from the inside, and a hundred feet of debris scatters with the blast, but it does not reach the Golemkrat due to the [bioelectromagnetic shield] and so on.

When you look out and look out after it is over, the front group is nearly destroyed, and the rest are almost impossible to act due to explosions and blasts, or explosions and shocks.

Lightly slaughtered with rattling and golem crats, and look back again.

There is still a hundred foot groups and it is clear that they are approaching steadily.

You can go ahead quickly, but when it comes out it's better to know if there is an easier way to get rid of it.

Besides, I want to secure it in a beautiful state. It's because it has become a little too much by blasting.

I waited for a while and appeared, but I don't know if it's annihilated, or I don't know if it's the other reason, but it does not stop coming and comes to here.

After self-defense with [ear plug] [sound insulation] [compression air wall] while watching it, [acoustic weapon] [speaker] [vibration augmentation] [scream] [ultrasonic gun] [resonance] [high frequency movement] etc With multiple activations, I opened my mouth and only for a moment, but cried out with all my strength.

A blow that was much louder than the detonation sound was effective for the small one-hundred-part opponent when viewed alone.

Hundreds of them stopped moving as I thought I was shaking for a moment. The mimicry also collapses, and a pile of pieces and a hundred feet of corpses is completed.

Collecting a hundred feet that remain beautifully, one by one manual labor was troublesome, so we will burn innumerable metal chopsticks made of [metal operation] and burn it like a snake.

Then I tried to burn it down with [ignition ability].

[Learning of ability name [100 foot group]]

[Learning of the ability name [Mimetic body shell]]

I could learn again by eating two complete groups of one hundred feet.

But there are similar abilities already, so it's probably a class of abilities that you can use if you can use them.

The surface is crispy while the inside is soft. I remembered that I wanted to drink alcohol somehow, uh, I want to drink alcohol.

Once you get to a cultural place, it is the moment you decide to drink alcohol.

After that they are attacked by other monsters and hundreds of other monsters, but now that their strength is known, there is a strong feeling that please come if you think that food will come from the other side.

There are many delicious monsters, so I would like to enjoy various foods.

I'm doing well on the way, and I want my lost memories to return soon.

DAY 479

Going on the golem crats, the caves were complicated.

It is not straight just to move forward, and branches left and right and up and down halfway along the way.

It's as complicated as an ant's nest, and it doesn't know how far it lasts because it lacks information.

Therefore, the wind is flowing by [air current detection] as an index for the time being, and it is decided to move in the upward direction.

However, just because the wind flows, it does not mean that there is always an area large enough for Golemkraat, which has a certain size.

There is a space so large that it can not be thought that it will be mined by monsters or underground, and there is a small place where children can crawl and get in some way.

When the cave is small and long and narrow, it often gives up and explores other ways.

There are also things that usually go through [penetration] and [instant movement], but keep it as safe as possible to avoid danger and avoid it.

However, in some cases there is a large space ahead and in some cases do not destroy the rock wall in vain [precision blasting], or make the tip of the arm of the machine arm like a drill [high speed rotation], from finger tips etc. It also secreted oil, and sometimes carried out multiple activations such as [Discovering weaknesses], [Drilling], and [sharpening tip].

You will be attacked by monsters on the road, but you will go forward with delicious food.

Today is almost finished with just moving.

There is mining work, too, and the dirt on the body is bad with dirt and sweat. The part of the shirt that was wearing the shirt and pants by the effect of the cloth of the magic item remains a sense of cleanliness, but there was something disgusting with the other limbs and head tackiness.

I think that I want to take a shower alone, I take off my clothes and take water from a bottle-shaped magic item that doesn't run out of water.

The cave was cold, but cold water was just right for the body that was scorched.

Of course, wipe your body with a clean magic cloth so that you don't catch colds, etc., and lie down on a Golemcrat adjustable carrier.

Put a cloth of magic items there and use chimera fur instead of blankets.

It was warm and comfortable, and I could secure a sleeping bed that could sleep well.

After that, I set up a Golem warning device around, and I went to sleep watching myself.

Survival, but the current situation is not bad.

Restore your strength at rest and prepare for tomorrow.

DAY 480

Golemklad goes ahead today as it is today.

Aim for the ground and proceed upward based on the direction of the wind, and then attacked by monsters and repel them into rice. The last few days are a repeat of this.

There is no doubt that the color of the surrounding soil is different or there is a gradual change in the type and strength of the appearing monsters, though it has come to a quite distant place from the awakening stone bed, but there is a feeling of blockage underground It does not change to be.

You can still go, but do not know how long the future will continue, and it is better to think about the possibility that the mental fatigue that has accumulated without knowing might have an adverse effect on the future.

So, I also headed to a nearby huge deposit area using [Mineral Detection], [Metal Detection], [Sensor], [Electromagnetic Induction], and [Ultrasonic Search], etc., as well as changing the mood.

I got down a bit, but I killed a dense monster, overcame a deep crack like a cliff, defeated a dragon mole that reigned like a guardian in an underground cavity, and broke through a thick wall and arrived It was like a natural jewelry box.

[Luminance] is illuminated by [Blood Sludge], and variously ore minerals such as gold, silver and copper and red, blue and yellow.

You will find yourself in a space composed of a wide variety of natural treasures with colors and brilliance that you can feel at first sight, as if they would fill up a huge underground space.

It is a scene where it is wondering if the various ore minerals will gather in one place if you go through the process as if it has been decided from the beginning, but it will expand the number of machine golems and carry out mining It started.

The drill on the right arm of the mining golem rotates at high speed for drilling, and in the blink of an eye a large amount of ore mineral is excavated.

Ore minerals that have been released will be collected as a multi-legged box, and they will be collected in one place.

And the collected ore minerals are roughly divided by the separation golem.

The mining work carried out by such golems changed the sight of this place at a visible speed.

Honestly, there is a sense of ruining the treasures of nature.

I also want to save this beautiful place as it is.

I think that it may even be a blasphemy against nature that insults here with desire.

But how can we get out of hand as we look at natural treasures that must be of immense value? No, there is no such a habit. Anyone would do the same. Actually I am doing it.

I kept mining mine silently, lining up such an excuse like something inward.

After all it seems a little lonely to be alone. It seems that you are mentally tired unknowingly as you go through such ideas.

I'm addicted to the work in front of my eyes and I'm going to release stress for a while.

And how long did it go?

Occasionally I hid a metal holding a special ability with a magical power and filled the belly, I returned to me.

A silver machine arm is rotated at high speed like a drill and the rock is scraped. The amount of work I had done to mine countless ore mineral chunks and keep them going to Golems was quite large.

Seeing that, I realized that I was tired of my unconscious body.

Wipe the sweat that flows through your forehead and become hungry.

I thought it was just good to reach out for some of the mined ore minerals and I tried to put up with it somehow, but when I was reminded of a maiden like Snow Maiden who had a bewitching attraction rather than Imma, I reached out to a certain rough stone.

It is a huge gemstone with a head of a child, which has a brilliance that makes it look like it was before polishing.

If you hold it in your hand, you can feel it just by touching the included high-density magic force.

And even though it was a gem, I felt an illusion that it had a rich, mysterious smell like a heavenly fruit.

I thought that I would keep it because it had a presence enough to understand even if there was no prior knowledge, though it was a very valuable ore, but I lost my appetite.

However, the regret disappears at the moment of entering the mouth.

The texture of the rough stone was hard, but it cracked when it was filled with more than a certain amount of power.

The taste that spreads out is sweet and sweet, but not too sweet. Exquisite sweetness seems to be a kind mother-in-law, and it seems that mental and physical fatigue will melt away with just one bite.

In addition, the aroma filled in the mouth rises to the nasal cavity, and the sense that the sense of smell senses builds up the pure beauty in the brain. Smelling this scent alone is more than just a poor drug, I think it would be possible for Heaven to worship as healthy.

However, the condensed magical power is as high quality as ever, filled with the uplifting feeling that various functions are strengthened by the magical power that fills the body like a storm.

[Completion name [Learning Clean Diamante] Learning Complete]

[Learning name [comprehensive deity's treasure dian. Purilian]]

[Learning of ability name [Majestic gemstone]]

[Learning completion of ability name [magic store]]

I was able to learn, but without a slight surprise.

It was because I was convinced that learning would be possible if I saw such a rough stone.

I was interested in the taste and taste of the afterglow, and I wondered if there would be no other ore minerals that seem to be delicious.

First of all, it may be better to put up with a small number, and it may be possible to go back a little more that there are redundant numbers left over.

Now that there is a sense of obstruction and stress builds up, it may be just good to have delicious rice.

DAY 481

We will continue to mine for delicious ore minerals today.

I took off the leather light armor that was wearing it because it got soiled with dirt and sweat, and changed it to a simple but durable workwear made of cloth-type magic items and soft leather.

Then I put on a safety helmet that I made appropriately, and it was time to do mining with a machine arm drill silently.

From my work experience up to this point, I found a little bit of where and how to dig easily.

If you aim at the point of prey, if you dig at a fragile point, you can take a lot of googoro and ore minerals as interesting.

It was a simple task, but the fun was hidden there and I felt that the stress that had accumulated while I was not aware would be gradually relieved.

And when I'm mining, I feel like someone was doing it well.

Is this also part of lost memories? I continued working in hopes that I could remember even a little.

There are many things to consider, but you can not get rid of it while mining.

It is possible to mine a wide variety of ore minerals, which includes the world's magic gems.

There is a magic gem that explodes in a moment when it is broken by a mechanical arm drill etc. or throws away a large current.

The chances of digging magic gems are low, but even if they are found to be lucky, they can be broken unfortunately, and an accident has occurred in which a heavy mining golem becomes several scraps.

Once again, I also broke a silver-golden--yellowish-red gemstone at the tip of a machine arm drill and got caught in a strong explosion.

The good news is that there is no damage to the machine arm drill, and the power is scattered around thanks to the high speed rotation.

The work clothes that were worn on it, and slipped fragments that splash on the body surface as insurance [Lubricant film] and cure it in the unlikely event that it will be cured [Reconstituted mucous membrane] etc. Because I was defending, I finished unscathed.

And even if it exploded, it would not fall down, and it would only be lucky that no toxic gas blew out.

Attention one second, a lifetime of injury.

It was a task of safety while paying attention to efficiency, because it would be bothersome for mining to collapse and live and be buried, as it would be bothersome to get rid of it.

So I picked up some of the ore minerals that I found particularly delicious from my hardships and picked them up during the work, and thought about rough plans for what to do in the future.

I do not intend to continue mining here forever.

However, if there is an ore mineral here, it will no doubt be useful in the future.

The ability to learn with just a little bit of skill is excellent. There is a possibility that more interesting abilities are sleeping.

Besides, many of the unique and interesting things in this world are the characteristics that I learned from the ore minerals.

I think that it will be possible to produce a very good product just by strengthening the nature or defining the direction by the smithing technique in the memory that I remember only a little.

Right now, I am lacking in tools, knowledge and technology, but in the future, I should secure a large amount of ore minerals here.

First of all, it is for work to use by yourself as blacksmithing material.

It is for meal to learn ability immediately by crawling.

Used for bartering etc. when there is something.

We will sort and store in three categories.

Meals will also be picked during work, and will save less than others.

As we give priority to being able to take quantity, we will be able to learn some things after a while.

Let's move to the ground again at a timing that can be accumulated to some extent or some learning can be done.

And even if they did not meet either of these conditions, they decided the deadline for working until the day after tomorrow.

I think I will try my best to get the best results in the decided time while picking up the delicious ore minerals.

Even so, you will want to drink alcohol when you are working.

When I get out on the ground, I first try to look for delicious sake.

DAY 482

As I am working on it today, I felt that something from the far side was coming in at the last minute of the sensing range.

I try to look without turning my eyes, but I can only understand that there is simply a distance.

If there is a detection system ability that can search a wide area even in outer space, it is a single shot, but it can not be used at present, but it is a little bit ugly though it can not be helped.

The inconvenience of reaching out to this ugly place reminds me a little of the newcomer era, but it is well put.

It was at the back of the hollow that was open innumerable by mining.

It is one of the places where it has been connected to another underground space in terms of air flow.

I am convinced from the experience up to Kore that the Lord of the show has probably been drawn to the work sound.

However, I also thought that it seems a little different from the kind of uninvited guests who have come so far.

It was because I was not able to feel any kind of hostility or murderous intent.

Now that the wall has been minced or pitted, it has lost the beauty of its first gems to shine.

Mining golems who are innumerable are learning and accumulating work to improve their work efficiency, and the amount of mining is increasing even if they take care of magic gems and other accidents.

And the sound of heavy mining sounded in proportion to the amount of mining, and vibration and dust were always generated.

Rolled up dust is bad for the body and above all it leads to serious accidents such as dust explosion.

As a response to this, an air conditioning golem is introduced to cope with suction and blowing of dust, but in addition to the working noise, a loud blowing noise will also be added.

As a result, a great number of monsters came in with a loud noise and vibration.

It sounds like it sounds quite far, so it's a natural result in a sense.

But they are either destroyed by the security golem or hunted by my hand.

The monsters that come in as food or material are being used to great advantage, but this time they are slightly different.

So I decided not to turn on the security golem but to wait for a while.

As the work is continued, it becomes clearer from the bony feeling and succeeds in capturing correctly.

It's because the distance has shrunk. It is getting close from Atira.

And I understand that it was approaching, but it seems that there is no one signatory.

It is small like a child and has about five body reactions.

It may not have mistaken the number if it is small like a child, but it seems that it has misunderstood that the reaction of one in one body is very small, and moreover it is misidentified that it is a perfect close together.

The thinness of the quote would be close to a gas star or a ghost star.

If expressed in this world style, it may be a kind of ghost or genie. If the substance is thin or almost absent, this response can be understood.

Since the hostility and murderous intent are not felt even now, if you are cautious while doing unknowingly, the five bodies are approaching or leaving Kocchi.

I would like to come to Kocchi, but I would rather go away.

It was a movement that felt such a misery.

It is a distinctly different move from the monsters that came in during the mining operation, and there is a growing expectation that it may be an intelligent life.

If you can talk, you can get some information here.

However, I decided to continue working as it was because I was impatient and contact failure and I was stuck.

If you are approaching when mining, the five bodies are no doubt instincts, habits or interests in the mining operation, whether they are interested or not.

At first we wait for them to come from Achilla. If it is useless, you should move.

Goga Gagaga, kankanganan and mining sounds.

As time went on, a large amount of ore mineral was piled up, and along with that, as the signs of the five bodies felt excited, the proportion of fragrances to Koch increased.

I am not the line of sight to be directed to me, but from the fact that it is directed to a large number of ore minerals, it is expected that the main constituents of the atmosphere are the species which like mining or the species which predominates ore minerals.

If there is a kind of excellent blacksmithing technology, I'm excited about whether it will be possible to make various tools.

As I continued working while thinking that I wanted to make contact quickly, the five bodies finally appeared in the corner of the field of vision.

Just turn your gaze for a moment, and return again before you notice it.

The lord of the show was a dwarf.

He wears a red conical hat with a beautiful jewel decoration at the end, wears durable clothes, and carries a folding backpack.

There was no big difference in physique, but the appearance was old men, young men and women, and young children.

The children are two twin brothers, and they seem to show the relationship with young men and women.

Besides, the old man is somewhat similar to the young man, so it must be a family of five.

Such a family of five is not only men and women who connect their hands so that curious children do not go ahead, but also the old man is biased.

In other words, everyone was looking at it to be invited to something.

I waited for the opportunity while looking into the situation without looking at the eyes for the time being while it was unclear what the cause was.

However, something happened that I could not break my mind to observe.

When I was digging, a dazzling light leaked from the wall unexpectedly.

And I felt something from a gap in front of me, such as a terrific sense of threat or presence, or a wave that shakes the whole body.

There is something beyond this normal.

There was no doubt that I thought so.

Once the five-man family is set aside, it digs cautiously, but boldly.

It seems that the sign of a family of five is approaching, but I can not afford it.

It is because it is a magic gem that should be in the future, and if it is broken, it is highly likely that something more than ever will happen.

And because of the extreme concentration of mining, it came out only after some time had passed.

It is a huge gem made of a spherical diamond with a diameter of one meter, with a golden glittering sphere of the size of an adult's head enclosed inside.

At the moment of digging out, the moment when you got a perfect round diamond huge jewel, it would have been something that this was a special gem, even if you closed your eyes.

The beauty of the surface's diamond size and brilliance is not unusual, but the presence of the golden spheres trapped inside is particularly unusual.

It is a product of the company that I was working for, "The ultimate eco energy that can supply the power of one advanced civilized planet for one year without problems" Is it similar?

Speaking of unique presence, it contains energy that attracts the surrounding presence.

In fact, I felt visibility and waves from the golden sphere inside the shell of the diamond.

When she was fascinated, the family of five moved as if she were invited to a huge treasure.

When I see him coming here, I stare at the huge jewel with a stunned, almost captivating look.

Somehow, I tried to boast a huge treasure.

Then the five-man family dropped their head on the spot, as if they were facing the object to worship.

DAY 483

After digging out a huge jewel and showing it in front of a family of five, it is flat-backed and there are many now.

And let's organize the obtained information roughly.

First of all, a family of five would be a "nome" known as "the spirit of the earth".

It may be different actually, but the people "Nome, nome. To Averio Nome! "Nome, Raven Lafolk Nome!" And so many times the word "gnome" has appeared, so I decided to temporarily think so.

Perhaps it is not a gnome in the first place, and even if it is gnome, it can not be denied that it may be a special species other than ordinary, but now it is not possible to know the correctness right now because it does not lead to the precise part.

No matter what the truth is, at least the simple action of waving or whistling was enough to manipulate the surrounding terrain at will, and the feeling of "the spirit of the earth" governing the earth was very strong.

Then, the five family members of Nome were friendly from the beginning, whether digging out huge jewels had a good effect.

The children play without fear and come in touch, and if they reach out, they will grab and hang.

You can understand the feeling that your relatives are doing well and you are dealing with young children because you are somewhat more positive than you are.

The parents and girls looked at it smilingly, and quickly gathered the ore minerals that rolled around them to make each ingot.

It turned out that the ingot was a product in which the mixed impurities were finely separated and the product was high in purity.

It was because the miscellaneous tastes that had been there were gone. Innumerable time and effort will be omitted in a matter of seconds.

It was worth noting that this alone was against the hostile.

Then I tried to communicate with the old man who would know most things, but that was not a simple story.

Analysis of meaning etc. from many words and body movement body language that can be spun, etc., and although [Language learning] and [automatic translation] are activated to support communication of intentions, the result is still a little time to come out It takes

I understand that my mind calms down to contact with a friendly existence that has been a long time since I can understand my intention

I left the mining work to the golems and spent time with the five-man family doing various things.

It is important to deepen the relationship with the friendly being who has some kind of information.

That's why I interact with words as they are not transmitted correctly, and even get information as much as I can.

By the way, it was music that played a role in communication with the family of five.

Hit a stone or metal that sounds appropriately to create a rhythm. So if you move your body and dance, it will work without words.

The family of five responded after I first played properly.

Kankakan, Kinkan Kinkin.

Kankon, Kinkankan. Concon.

The clear sound on the rhythm makes a tree spirit in the cave.

It is a strange tone different from a stringed instrument or a wind instrument, and the hand extending to the ore mineral serving as breakfast naturally stops and listens.

It was a music played by a family of five, using a musical instrument that is reminiscent of a sankite, a stone that is made of stone that produces a clear sound.

Ishigamo is made of materials that the family of five properly picked up from the surroundings.

After hitting several times to check the sound, he is hitting a placed stone. The tone of the sound echoed, and it was attractive to shake the mind and body of the listener and draw it into a unique world.

I spend a leisurely time from the morning and move to work with the overflowing spirit.

Mining work is over today.

I will leave for the ground tomorrow. So before that they mine as much as possible, but a family of five also helped.

Thanks to that, more ore mineral than purpose was obtained.

The staple food of the five-man family is mineral ore, and it seems that magic gems are like luxury items.

At the night, I helped out and acted as a thank you and acted a lot to fill my belly.

[Learning of ability name ability [Ryujin mineralization] completed]

[Learning of ability name [attribute reinforced metal] completed]

I learned ability, and I slept in a bright atmosphere.

I will do my best tomorrow.

DAY 484

Now that we have the necessary amount, we took the Golemkraat and headed for the ground.

The loading platform has a backpack that contains all of the mined ore minerals and a five-member family.

The five members of the gnomes do not go to the ground because the residence is underground, but they will accompany them to the exit.

Now that I can speak a word that has a meaning in a nutshell, I have a few things that I do and do.

First of all, my grandfather Nome was a huge stunt and knew about a fairly wide range of underground spaces.

From the characteristics and weaknesses of the inhabitant monsters, it seems to know the details of how many ore minerals can be mined.

According to the person said that if you lived a long period of time it was natural to remember.

It seems that I have forgotten my age, so it may be quite long-lived.

According to such grandfather Nome, it is said that a huge jewel is a thing with the power of great [].

Only those who could get it were [], and it was said that it was kind to me.

The [] part was an indecipherable part, but I was refreshed because the basics for making it kindly obvious.

Kindness without reason is good, but it may be easier to be convinced that kindness with reason.

Father Nome and Mother Nome are in charge of refining and classifying the ore minerals obtained.

There is a large amount of ore mineral that has been mined and dumped into the dorsal capsule, but the work of the two people has been smelting into several ingots while taking out with the left hand and switching to the right hand and repeating putting back with the right hand.

There is variation in the size of the ingot due to the difference in the content, but when the number is accumulated to some extent, it is refined to one and made to a certain size.

The work continues as if it were a magic trick, and I can not but admire its goodness.

Children's gnomes want to grip the steering wheel whether Golem Krat is concerned.

It is not easy even if treated poorly, but let's leave it to the children gnomes on a fairly flat road.

Engine vibration transmitted from the steering wheel. Golemkrate's body that runs as you wish. Headwind that would not normally taste.

The children's gnomes enjoyed maneuvering while I handed over each other as well.

When I saw that figure, I suddenly had a headache.

There is even an illusion that looks at the illusion of something important. I could guess that it would be a headache stemming from lost memories.

I feel uncomfortable with the unanswered feelings and I think I should regain my memory as soon as possible.

I was guided by my grandfather Nome, passed the shortest route to the ground, and stopped to a certain extent when I reached to some extent.

It was beautiful where there was an underground lake from which underground water spouted, and when it was at the bottom of the lake it would glow blue due to the effect of some ore minerals.

However, the grandfather Nome says that the underground lake is not only beautiful but also has powerful monsters in the water tank.

When it approaches the waterside, innumerable tentacles grow out of the water, and it is likely to drag the prey into the water.

It is said that even the rulers of the huge underground world called Earth Dragon have been dragged down and starved to death.

That's why the monster here is known as the [master of the lake] and the monsters don't come close to it for fear of its existence.

However, it is a place known as a safe zone for travelers from the underground world, because it does not come out of a certain range from the underground lake.

So I had to rest at a little distant place today, but I got interested so I moved to a place where I could look down at the underground lake from above.

A scene that looks blue as a whole, reflecting on the wall, is beautiful, and when you look at it as bonyari, white tentacles have been vigorously extended from the highly transparent water.

Was the number lightly one hundred? Most of them are brushed off with chopsticks, but the remaining tentacles wrap around their feet.

And I was dragged into the underground lake.

While in the water for a short while, a large amount of air is sucked into the eyelid by [momentary suction], and the necessary amount is secured for several minutes using the [air tank] deployed to the lungs.

The water in the underground lake will be cold, so the body temperature will be warmth, the surface of the body will be water repellent, and it will use eye drops for eye protection in water.

A webbing was made between the machine arms and between the toes and fingers, and in addition to the machine arms, a hammer was added as an aid to the underwater movement as well as a weapon by means of [斬].

I managed to make preparations for the lowest level and dropped into the water, and while I was dragged into the bottom of the lake as I dived into the bottom of the lake, I saw my countless inorganic eyes looking up here from the deep bottom of the lake.

Apparently [the Lord of Lake Biwako] was not an individual but a colony.

DAY 485

[The Lord of Lake Biwa] was a colony.

If it was an individual, it was going to flee if it saw the figure so that a safe zone might not be lost, but if it is a swarm, it will be good if it may be skipped for a while.

It is yesterday that I thought so and struggled with a whistle.

The war fruits lined up as breakfast.

[The Lord of the Blue Lake] was a group of pale fish that had developed enormously before the eyes and mouth, and then the tail fin, were abnormal.

The size of the oneness is as large as an adult male, and was one hundred.

The pale whistle is very hard, and like Demekin, the large eyes are inorganic and do not know where to look.

Like a crocodile, it has an elongated, large mouth with sharp fangs to cut through the meat, and a large number of stretchable tentacles that grow ten times the body length on the caudal fin.

The strength of the united body is not so great, but the appearance of the school of fish built by the advanced cooperation seen in the water was like a huge united monster that swims imposingly in his area of water.

Unlike the individual, the colony does not have the point that it will die if it is destroyed.

However, the animals that make up the colony are scraped and killed, and the slaying is finally completed when all of them are slaughtered.

It was difficult to deal with such beings seriously, so I decided to kill them a few animals when I found out that they were swarms, but [main of Lake Biwako] was more troublesome than expected.

In the first place, the swimming speed of each of the "mains of the lake" was faster than expected, and although it was a colony, there was no disturbance in the cooperation.

It was judged that it was not possible to cope with the ability that was activated in advance, and it responded by generating a bubble and enabling high-speed movement [Super Cavitation] and moving the body itself with [Nerminal ability].

If you move [more] in the water more than the same time, [main of the blue light lake] might have been recognized as a strong enemy, some of the individuals that make up the fish school are intentionally separated, and attacks will be launched from many directions The

It is a special attack of all wild animals coming from various fields, and it is not funny if they are hurt if they are off guard.

While attacking from the swarms, I managed to find out, but when I got rid of some of the loose animals, my goal was achieved so I quickly crawled out of the underground lake.

The tentacles grow from the surface of the lake just to escape, but they could not chase after a distance.

Then I finished the first encounter, and I thought that if I had the opportunity, I decided that I would have any chance, but I removed the viscera and let go to bed for a night...

The big eyes can pop in the mouth. The contents of Toro Toro are a little sweet and not so persistent.

He is white and moderately fat. When I brought my face closer, it smelled sweet and refreshing.

A bit of crispy crust will spread the taste on your tongue.

It looked a bit grotesque, but it was soft and elegant.

If the portion of the tentacles is baked and eaten, is this closer to eel?

The overweight body stores high-quality muscles and fats, yet it is crunchy. Because it is flexible, it may be high in density.

[Learning of ability name [group body self-study]]

[Learning of competence name [Akira Akira]]

.....Isn't it okay to catch more? I wondered why my thoughts got in my mind.

Because it tastes good, it is a food that you can bake and simmer, steam and enjoy in various ways, and it is likely to be able to learn better ability.

However, I shook off such temptation, and I aimed at the ground by riding Golemkrat today.

I think that I will return when I return again when giving back to a family of five people with delicious liquor.

DAY 486

Going well in Golemklato today.

There are some monsters attacking along the way as well as Kore, but it was easy to stop if it became weak as you approached the ground.

If you cast a [blood drainer], you will usually sink in a single shot. Even if it is a magic rifle, if you decide the head shot, you can immediately die.

It was easy and good, but it was a bit dissatisfaction to lose its flavor when it became weak.

Individuals of the same race who are killed in deeper places are obviously better.

Although it is good because the amount has been captured as it is, it may be less dissatisfaction if it mixes the shallow and deep individuals from now on.

There is an exception even in shallow places, and it seems that there is a place where monsters of clearly deviated strength are seen if viewed at the same depth.

There was a section that was completely transformed from a natural rock wall, and was paved with construction materials such as mortar and concrete.

Stone lamps that emit light at regular intervals are embedded in the heavens, illuminating the lush paintings drawn by stacking building materials such as red and black bricks.

It seems to be a structure that makes people lost like ancient ruins get lost, and it is a labyrinth that it is difficult to get out without the guidance of grandfather Nome.

It seems that this is a section called "underground palace of the temple".

There were no traps here, but more powerful monsters than other ones.

According to grandfather Nome, it is a "dead bullhead demon Doom Minotaur". It is a monster with a strong human body with a head and a back and waist mino in the head and a huge double-edged two-handed rabbit.

The intricately engorged black-purple bristles don't stick as deeply as the [blood-dropping] degree, and the black, thick skin and high-density muscle folds underneath are so sturdy that they can move without fear even if they are attacked by an enemy.

Body length is over 4 meters lightly, full of overflowing vitality

And if it was a kind of magic item, it was an effect that drew the surrounding objects. It may be attracted and hit more than you think it was trying to avoid at the last moment, a sober but awkward ability.

Overall, it can be said that it is like a humanoid tank.

In addition, considering the size of the passage of the labyrinth, there is almost no choice but to confront Minotaur directly from the front, and the risk has been further increased.

Fortunately there are few, so if you prepare, it will be possible to avoid and move on.

Doom Minotaur takes time and effort to slay, but proceed while killing directly from the front.

The Minotaur is the first monster monster to see.

But I knew. Even if you do not remember, the body remembers.

A whistling whistle like the fear of thunder. A deadly kick coming in front of you. The violent head thrusts that are played out many times. A rush to make the bog go on full run.

How to cut hair that is hard like metal fiber. How to remove thick skin to prevent the blade. How to pierce a high density muscle that does not stick. The weakness that can be structurally fatal.

As we search for lost memories, we hunt all the doom minotaurs we encounter.

But Doom Minotaurs were weaker than they were in memory.

The minotaurs I know are not like this.

So I went to the back to seek a stronger minotaur.

Along the way, I talked with my five-man family and decided not to go through but capture and then head to the ground.

We open treasure chests to sleep in various places in the interval between the punishments, collect the sleeping treasures, and scrape the pieces of memories that we will remember slightly.

And when we were just the 100th body, we had reached the deepest part.

There was a dome-shaped, spacious and mysterious space.

A mural map of a complex intricate "underground underground palace" is drawn on the top, and a large ore mineral that shines like the sun is embedded in the center showing the deepest part, Coco.

The wall surface is embedded with gears of various sizes and devices, and is covered with something like a bismuth crystal that is rainbow-colored and shows a complex and weird geometric pattern.

The floor is also covered with bismuth crystal in some places, and it was originally a flat floor, and there were steps like countless bumps and terraces in places where wax was found.

It was a scene where a civilization that had developed somewhere had been swallowed up by mineral-based organisms.

In such a space, one of the bullhead demons Minotaur rises from the throne made of something like a bismuth crystal and sees us coming in.

It is more muscular and huge than any minotaur I have ever seen.

The length of the body is slightly over six meters, and the gold horn on the head of the cow is thick and twisted in a sharp and sharp manner.

The color of the skin covering the cherished muscles is dark like dark, and a red flaming ray like lava runs throughout the body.

The color of body hair is white as opposed to skin, and one stain is not found.

The green eyes we see here are as clear as color, just the light for pure fighting.

In a thick long hand, a long black ebony was grasped with a double-edged blade with a length of about one body, and a black broom-like thing stood up from the coffin blade.

And belts and hips like those made of bismuth crystal, with the same presence as a strong magic item.

It is a magnificent figure like the king of the Barbarian family, and a sense of pressure that stretches to the body just by confronting stimulates a feeling with the tightness of the throat and throat.

The Minotaurs scream [The underground palace of the ruins].

According to grandfather Nome, this minotaur that sits in the deepest part and waits for the intruder is called "The Dead-Bearing Bullhead Doom-Death Minotaur King".

It was one thing to think in front of the enemy Minotaur, which makes a line with the prey that has hunted innumerable so far.

I want to crawl. It's a pure feeling that you think in front of the finest ingredients.

It is a driving force that has overcome severe training, and the thought that is the basis of oneself seems to be the same even if you have lost memory.

The kite rushed to the hand, and in response to that, the minotaur was flooded.

I felt that I was listening to a spear similar to that moth somewhere.

Where did you hear it that shakes your soul and penetrates your whole body?

However, soon after I remember where and when I heard it, a wolf and a wolf collide from the front.

It was understood that a tremendous impact overcame the people around and there was no room for extra thoughts.

Now I just concentrate on things in front of my eyes.

DAY 487

"Death's

Head King Mum Mino is a master Lord underground."

But now he is lying on the ground.

Both the horns of the cow are licked and peeled off from the root, and the green eye is crushed so that one side is mixed, and one side protrudes from the orbit.

The right arm is cut off from the elbow and the left arm is cut off from the shoulder and rolled close, and both knees have broken into bones.

The chest and abdomen are cut vertically and horizontally, and the organs such as the stomach and intestines spread outside, and the odor of the organs and contents drifts around.

While respecting the strength of the vitality of the body, which was evidently dead but still alive, I pierced the brain trunk through the crevices of the skull with a spear and pierced the throat.

Then, while feeling the mysterious feeling that a large amount of something flows into the body like a turbid flow, we will start the next work.

If the corpse is left alone, it will disappear over time.

Regardless of whether magic or the work of bacteria is great, it is necessary to take prompt action in order to meet anyone who has been killed from the enemy.

First, have a five-man family prepare an instant huge iron plate.

A large rectangular iron plate made of a material that has good thermal conductivity and is resistant to sticking to meat is larger than one adult male.

A firewood is assembled to support the huge iron plate, and red fredless ore with high heat is placed underneath to heat the whole.

In the meantime, I roasted all the meat for each part, put it on a huge pottery instant plate and baked it one after another.

On the hot plate, the beef fat popped up and the appetizing smell spread.

Involuntarily swallow the spout that overflows. I get angry to complain about Gullul and hunger.

The battle with the Minotaur King was not unspoiled.

Due to the intense attack, there are numerous small and large fractures in various places throughout the body, the number of bruises due to internal hemorrhage can not be counted, and the living leg is wetted with blood with countless bruises.

The worst is a blow to the chest.

Leather light armor has been torn apart with reinforced armor. The blade stopped in the underwear, but the impact smashed the sternum and ribs, and after that, he suffered serious damage to part of the lungs.

It is a serious injury that usually makes breathing difficult due to severe pain and lung damage, but the heart is moving and it is not yet enough to go away.

Now it is in the midst of healing and healing with jukejuk.

However, I was so hungry that I had been irritated by the energy for healing.

The only way to make up for that is to look after the strong rival Minotaur King.

So I enjoyed the BBQ party that started suddenly.

The five-man family does not seem to have to eat separately, but it does not mean that it can not be spared, and food seems to be one of entertainment.

We ate the delicious beef together.

It has a mellow texture, yet its rich meat taste spreads in the mouth.

The smell of rising meat and fat passed through the nasal cavity, and the sense of smell created an illusion of paradise.

There is also a pleasant feeling that the fine magic power that penetrates the details of muscle fibers flows from the stomach to the body and activates from the body in cell units.

I stopped the movement for a while to taste the taste, and moved the chopsticks in search of meat one after another.

[Learning completion of ability name [Genesis of Demon King]]

[Learning of ability name [Hino of Demon King]]

[Learning of ability name [ax]]

[Learning completion of ability name [Super life promotion]]

[Learning completion of ability name [Onioh blood immunity]]

[Learning completion of ability name [Danger skeleton of demon king]]

The more I heard, the more I was able to learn.

It also has many abilities that can be physically strengthened, and because [super-dead life activation] and [Onio blood-blood immunity] have dramatically improved regenerative ability, vitality, and immunity against diseases, we are quite happy at the present time.

When I was alive, I became a wall to become strong as a strong enemy, and after death I am deeply grateful to the minotaur king, which is a source of life and is delicious and scary.

Then we ate up to a piece of meat and a piece of bone, and we recovered from things like bismuth crystals to treasures that were in the innermost hidden room and proceeded.

It is a little more to the ground.

I would like to have a good drink as soon as I get out.

DAY 488

According to grandfather Nome, it seems to have reached a little more ground.

It seems that it is much faster than originally because the small passage where Golem Krat can not pass is also expanded by the power of the family of five people being greatly expanded.

The strength of monsters that have attacked since coming to near the ground is just enough to defeat them with one hand.

There is no danger, and it will be a natural flow that conversation will be the main way along the way.

Although my grandfather Nome talked to me in various ways, there were a few words I was interested in.

Grandfather Nome seems to be close to the ruler of the underground world named [Ground Dragon King].

It is said that sometimes they feed deep-core precious ore minerals, or feed upon the estranged cocoons of [Dong King] and eat it with their families.

It seems like a great feast for children gnomes, and they both desperately communicate in ugly words, remembering their taste.

The parent gnomes are still ingot making work, but their working speed has increased since they are used to it.

Since the rest is a little later, almost everything will be ingot, except for those left to dare.

Then I'm also asking about the outside.

Even my grandfather Nome has never been outside in a long life and lives in the underground world, so I haven't actually seen it, but I'm listening to the direction and characteristics of the nearest city.

It is a city-state with strong trade, but it seems that there are also many dark areas because various races gather.

You need to be careful, but it's safe to go there where a lot of information gathers.

While thinking about the future, there were various things, but arrived in the evening on the ground.

And just from the exit, I could see the sun sinking over the tree sea with dense trees.

It took only a short time to take a sunset on the whole body, but there was a feeling of emotions that I could not say.

I had been looking in that direction even after sinking, but it was troublesome to move from here at night to a cobblestone, so I spent the night in the space near the exit.

There is also a farewell to the family of five, so after taking out a huge treasure and worshiping it, I will go for rare ore minerals.

The amount is small enough so I mix other delicious ore mineral, but still it's delicious and the belly swells.

I woke up a little longer today and forgive me for goodbye.

DAY 489

I was out of the underground world before the sun began to rise.

The entrance to the underground world seems to be at the foot of a magnificent mountain range, and the five family members who have seen me go out of sight in a short time because of the speed of Golemklad traveling in a rugged area.

From here it's back to traveling alone.

However, although it was short, there were many things that I could get by interacting with my five-man family.

A wide range of information such as the language used, knowledge of specialized minerals, dangerous monsters to know, etc. will be useful in the future.

In fact, if there was no information on the next destination, it would have been run no matter where to go.

Although there are golem crats, you can reduce your exhaustion and gain distance, but if you can save your waste, it's profitable.

So Golemklad ran.

The destination is in the sea of trees. It seems that the distance is reasonable, so at first we prefer to go ahead of the surrounding search.

While on the way, ingredients such as delicious greens and mushrooms, monsters such as deer and bears were scattered like treasures, so the desire was stimulated, but I was put up with it.

I stopped by picking up the nuts and so on by passing each other, and I went ahead with the dissatisfaction as the driving force.

I want to drink early. Hold such a desire in your heart.

DAY 490

To be honest, I might be lost.

The scenery is similar from wherever you look.

The ability to cover a wide range of information gathering abilities is not available across the board, so there is a limit to searching for signs.

Although there is no mistake in [body magnet] only in the direction for a while, it may be such a thing because guidance will be lost in places that you do not know.

It's time to move further ahead without giving up.

Finally I found some trace.

Broken bushes, slightly recessed footprints. The smell of a slight amount of remaining organism and the smell of processed metal.

The smell of living things is likely to be wildlife, but the smell of processed metals seems to be intellectual life.

Because the number is small, is it a hunter?

I don't know, but I feel that I'm not far from here, so I run the golem crats while following the traces.

When he was moving up and down, he managed to maneuver slightly through the roots of the large tree that jumped to the surface, and was slightly hostile.

As soon as possible, something like an arrow flew from the top of the tree to the right.

Its speed was as fast as wind, yet its aim was unmatched.

According to [Ballistic Prediction], it will be shot on my moving course, and if it hits it, the head will blow up.

So I squeeze it with my hand on the right hand and squeeze the trigger toward the gunshot of the magic rifle held by my left hand.

There is one gunshot. However, there were three fired bullets.

Now that you are used to handling magical powers, the power of magic bullets has increased somewhat. However, the power improvement is the bonus, and the main thing is to improve the rate of fire of the released magic bullet.

The three magic bullets passed through the gaps between trees so that they could be chained with a slight time difference, and captured the criminal existence like a hound.

If you can hear the continuous shattering noise, a bad guy who was riding on a branch falls into the bush.

After hearing the sound of crushing the bushes, I could not hear anything.

Because there is no sign of taking away passiveness or fleeing, is it too good to move?

Though the destruction power of the magic bullet is still low from the ideal, it is still enough to cause fatal damage if it is a monster to a certain extent.

If you receive it three times in a row, the damage will be reasonable.

As we approach while thinking that we may have died, we can confirm that the chest of the poor man in the bush is moving.

Tougher than I thought.

However, I can not move because I hit the abdomen directly.

The wounds are full of blood and still flow out now.

At first I was able to look at the whole body when I approached while being cautious whether I was incapacitated and searching for information.

It is an ant person of about one hundred and eighty centimeters to express the poor person easily.

It has an ants shaped like a human, has its own black shell that appears to be equipped with reinforced armor, and the mouth on the face is repeating opening and closing so as to pant. Perhaps it had ejected a thick biological needle, but there is no needle in the right arm, which remains in the left arm.

As insect-based aliens are not unusual, they were not astonished, and they were restrained to give a minimal treatment in order to start asking why they had aimed.

And I understand by listening to the story, it seems that ant people is still a single-digit boy of this size, and a citizen who has been subjected to illegal bio-enforcement surgery by a certain back tissue.

I managed to escape from the hell that had been abducted from afar and fled to this tree and lived for a while.

As I came close to such a place to follow, I thought that it was a chase from the back organization.

It was said that they made a first strike because they didn't want to be killed if they were killed or to be captured and turned back to hell.

I also feel sorry for having opened a wind hole in my belly after hearing a lively and miserable story.

Now he recovers by taking medicine recovered in the underground world, but it seems that he is not yet in good shape.

First of all I decided to act with this ant boy.

When I asked about the circumstances, I thought it would be good to break up.

Although the body grows and has a life force and a high level of combat ability, it is difficult to leave a single-digit child at real age.

Besides, I also felt the mental fatigue of the ant boy, who talked in a friendly and joyful way because he knew it was not an enemy. If you leave it, you will die soon.

Besides, there is no counting.

If there is an ant boy, it is likely that a chase will come from an illegal organization-like place.

If you take it back, you will be able to come without hesitation about the technology, property, etc. It is dangerous to destroy illegal back tissue, but there are many benefits.

If it happens, you should escape and just try. If all we can do is finish it.

So while thinking about the danger and the dark things, I stayed at the base made by an ant boy in Jukai today.

The base is a simple construction that digs up a few natural caves and picks up and hides thick branches to the extent that it is difficult for wildlife to enter.

I feel relieved of the life here, but it seems that I have eaten for a long time after a long time, and I sharpen my eyebrows while watching an ant boy who gets sleepy.

While doing that, I felt a sign of something approaching slowly here.

DAY 491

Midnight when the stars shine beautifully.

A time zone where you can hear nocturnal monsters actively moving, howls, etc. from a distance.

Even though the physical condition of the remodeled surgery is strong, the mentally unskilled ant boy is tired every day or if it eats the underground monster grill to the full level it sleeps like mud, and if it is rare it wakes up that it wakes up There is not.

Did not have enough power to watch me just met, or did he even trust me not to be an enemy?

There may be other factors besides that, but it seems that I've got a little more tempted.

There were a large number of people coming to a simple base created by such ant boy.

As it turned out that the ant boy was being targeted by the back organization, early detection was possible because he was alerted in various ways.

The first thing I noticed was the smell.

The smell of beasts drifting from the windward.

A slight smell that can only be perceived by the [super-olfactory sense] that is more sensitive and accurate than the dog's sense of smell may be determined to be a monster that inhabits this area alone.

However, the difference from the wild is clear when it comes with rich blood and metal odors, a pungent smell like spices used for cooking, and a sweet smell like perfume used by women.

It is also one of the factors to think that the source of the smell comes closer and closer to the enemy.

However, since there is a chance, I heard more detailed information by overlapping activation of [Hearing recognition] which can hear a slight sound in a distant place so that it can hear the sound and grasp the topography etc.

A group that is probably an enemy is a four-legged creature, with few footsteps and so on. The number is ten from the breathing sound.

Is it a dog or a wolf monster? Footsteps are strange for that, but leave it.

You can hear a slight roar or a roar of a whistle or a roar.

Starting with a large, powerful individual, they form a formation in the letter 'V' to race through the sea and occasionally stop and sniff something.

The place I smell is near the blood of the ant boy.

He was convinced that he was a chasing soldier because of the smell of the drifting artifacts and the action with the purpose of smelling an ant boy.

And as the group recognized as an enemy came closer, it entered the surveillance range of countless surveillance golems who were arranged instead of patrol aircraft to compensate for the view even in the deep darkness.

A surveillance golem is a miniature golem that looks like a combination of a quartz ball instead of a camera and a walking mechanism like a hundred feet.

The length is about thirty centimeters, and it is almost undetectable at night because it is made of "Dabrak Metal", which sinks into the darkness and produces its own darkness.

There is no fighting ability but there are various functions to see night vision function and heat source detection, etc. And it is characterized by height of mobility to move lightly to trees as well as bad roads. It is scattered over.

Of course, I also clearly figured out the enemy that entered the surveillance range placed without a blind spot, so I saw the enemy in the base looking at the crystal plate on which the sight seen by the surveillance golem was projected.

It is a hound-like tight body that is about the size of my waist, and its body hair is dark green or dark green.

At the bottom of the neck there is a strange organ that looks like a blue-purple poisonous moth entwined like a collar.

There is a high possibility of using poison and the possibility of attacking using a whale like a tentacle, since it is possible to use it with a certain color and a certain intention.

However, it is still a characteristic head to worry more than such a part.

The enemy is a "face dog" with faces such as middle-aged men, young women, young boys who are not at the end of the year and old women.

Unlike a leader who has a physical body, such as Doberman, who only leads the head, it is a strong middle-aged man with a bruise on his cheek that will be a resident of the backworld unlike other people who look like ordinary people.

From time to time, he said, "Ah!", "Nearly, soon, stupid figures," and so on, leading the group and pressing on here.

It was obvious from other human beings dogs that they were seen as targets of fear by their actions and expressions. Only in this situation is different from the others.

And I also had a barbecue, and I moved straight as I was convinced that the smell of us was getting dark, and I was approaching it soon.

I was planning to stop before the ant boy wakes up if I intend to get in the base, but the human dogs came to a place that was not several hundred meters away from the base, and I returned without doing anything further. The Apparently reconnaissance seems so far.

The location of the base barred to the enemy.

From now on, I will bring back the information, and the dogs will share this place with my friends, and the main team must come here tomorrow.

So I made it possible to keep track of one of the surveillance golems and search for enemy information.

Conversely, if the enemy base is known, surprise attacks will also be possible.

Then it's going to be morning and it's time to go.

Light coming from among the trees illuminates the surroundings.

It seems that the ant boy who slept well was clean in mind and body, and the smile which was not so much yesterday has fallen.

I gave such ant boy a quick breakfast, made me feel energetic, and talked about reconnaissance.

An ant boy appeared mourning in the face of the boy, but he reassured when he told that he had already known the enemy's temporary bases and strength.

Then the policy on what to do was decided immediately.

The ant boy chose to intercept. I want to destroy it if I can do it.

The age of the ant boy is still young with a single digit, but it is not a rough character whether it is a good grower.

It was a very short relationship, but if you raised it normally, you would not commit a crime, and it was supposed that you would become a good person who would try to live straight while helping those in need.

But still, there seems to be anger that does not fit.

The kid who was abducted and treated as an experimental animal who made an illegal operation became a mass of meat that gives off a smell of rot, claiming to "live".

Half of the body of the tender sister who divided the small meal given to "I don't need it" made a mouth with countless fangs, and in the end that mouth crawled herself.

A blind old man who failed with his eyes remodeled repeatedly said, "I want to see my grandchild," and finally it was used as a live feed for experimental monsters.

The twin brothers were literally joined together, becoming a bimorphous four-armed variant, and eventually suffered from side effects, and eventually died saying, "Fell to hell."

In addition to seeing various endings, the ant boy, who had been subjected to a surgery, was also given an illegal magic drug and was locked in self-consciousness and turned into a mere weapon, turning it into an irregular variant. I have also killed an old woman.

Fight as a show, take a life for that amount and live, and at the end, take a young man and run away with a person of the same circumstances to break away and reach the present.

Since I had an exciting experience during that time, it would have been inevitable that the thinking of the ant boy changed.

That's why the villain has no mercy.

After breakfast, we were back invading the enemy's temporary base, raising the cause.

As it is embarrassing when you smell body, you apply monster's feces to the body and make the smells go away. On the way, the main force of the enemy who was heading to the base of the ant boy was approaching, so I hid and spent, and arrived at the enemy base a little later.

The enemies camped near the river were not expecting an assault, and fifteen people remained in the enemy base with some tents.

It is an atmosphere that is used to the back-masters or the affair, but I have been drinking alcohol since I was off guard.

I felt the desire to drink it after smelling the smell of sake I wanted after waking up.

An enemy is drinking alcohol in front of you. That means you can drink if you hunt. The only way to drink early is to hunt immediately.

Although I thought so, I decided to hunt from a person who showed no energy and was tempted to show a gap.

The ant boy is made to stand by and stands off alone and approaches.

When I came to the back of the four who were sitting in a driftwood lounge, I bowed their necks and rowed for one. The snarled neck jumps up to the sky, and there is a face in the death where I do not know what happened.

The enemy can not yet react to the surprise attack, and fires with the magic rifle with one hand at that opportunity.

The remaining 11 heads of the head and torso were fixed by putting on the back of the 3 men who had shown their defenseless back, but the remaining 8 men were protected or avoided with arms or avoided the point I was seriously injured but still not dead.

The next aim for the most lightly injured man in the nearby enemy who has not been finished is set, leaps lightly, clamps his head between his legs, and fixes his body, and makes a complete turn. The fixed head loses its momentum, and the sound of the cervical spine breaks.

When we landed on the ground from the crumbling footsteps, the rest were finally shifted to interception.

The quickest was the tiger-like beastman, who would be the strongest in the remnant pair.

The tiger is a giant, nearly three meters long, with a strong muscular and muscular body. The thick hand was equipped with a hand-clawed claw, and the sharp claw seemed to cut through the meat easily.

There was a distance, but in the first place reflexes and agility will be tribal superior in nature, but the tiger is the only enemy who completely avoids the impending gunshot, and the tiger is like the wind with the wolf I have been attacked.

Therefore, while the head responds with a whistle, it does not give while giving a response, and a tiger head with a confident and militant smiling face dances in the air with a fresh blood.

It is a matter of course because "Death's My Name is" which is confronted in [underground underground palace] is much faster.

However, the remaining enemy is stunned by the fact that the tiger man was killed instantly, and in the chance to shoot more with a magic rifle.

With the surprise attack, the enemy was only a prey at the moment when it hit its nose and killed its maximum strength, and as a result, fifteen corpses were rolled in less than a minute.

After eradication, it is the recovery of goods.

The head of the Bolivar and the Tigers were crawled, the corpse of prey was started, and tents, groceries and armor were collected while collaborating with the ant boy.

However, because it was almost impossible to use thinly soiled underwear, I put it in a suitably dulled hole and burned it.

After processing, I went to the base of the ant boy, but I returned to the end for the rest.

As we are monitoring by surveillance golems placed around the base, we already know where we are.

However, it is a simple job to finish the group that has not even arrived at the base in Jukai.

In Jukai, there is also an ant boy who has had a sense of fighting to a certain extent in the survival survival for a while, and this time they are attacked by two people.

Jumping down from the top of the tree, I was the first to faint and incapacitate the leader and his aides, and the rest was quickly fixed.

There is a request of the ant boy to want to kill just after giving a little pain, so I decided to leave it for a while after giving a fatal wound after cutting off the limbs and making it impossible to move.

The jaws were crushed because screams and desperate demons were crawling in May, but let's get complimented by the fact that their last action was bad and their luck was bad.

However, only the human being dogs have made it so that the ant boy does not feel pain.

Only the leader who led the dogs was a member who was remodeled as a punishment for failing at work, so he was crushed until his body became flat and died with the expression of agony.

However, it seems that the other human dogs were victims of the experiment.

There are several patterns in remodeling, and although the ant boy has been strengthened, the base is his own body.

In contrast, human dogs have had their heads and spinal cords replaced by different organisms.

The original body is already wasted in other studies, and they can not recover. I will stay with you until I die.

Therefore, I hoped that the ant boy would like to be killed by a person who was at the same condition at the same time, and the ant boy received it.

I wondered if some of the human face dogs had faces they saw, while ant-boys wore a sorrowful expression, shot in an anesthetic poison so as not to feel pain, broke their necks and buried each one.

While praying for the south, let's take the time to change your mind and listen slowly to the captive leader and his aides.

Because the biological structure of the beasts and so on will be useful later, I decided to investigate that area as well.

DAY 492

Based on the information carefully heard from the chasing leader who had headed to the base-precisely because the Tigers who remained at the enemy base are the greatest, so they were deputy chiefs located under it- I and an ant boy went to a certain city.

The city's name is <Free Trade Capital Sekutriard>.

This is a city for merchants run by the Seven Great Merchants for the Merchants, and is a place where various goods gather.

It is said that even if there is even money, it will be said here that everything will be ready, and it is possible to actually get from miscellaneous goods to illegal goods.

There is no reason that such a thing as a back organization that does illegal things does not exist in such a place.

It seems that there is a home base here, which is a back organization that is closely related to the ant boy.

During the quest for the creatures of the beasts, the kind beasts taught me politely about the back tissue <Ia de Paldos>.

Location of the base from the information of the main members. It's a lot of information, such as the location of hidden assets and the information of the back organization against the enemy.

Since it is impossible to believe all the information that may be mixed with the troubled lie, it is necessary to attack some bases where members gather and obtain more detailed information.

Gathering information is essential, but for the time being we will go to <Free Trade Capital Sectoriad> and we will try to make a rough schedule after that.

Luckily, with Golemcrat, it was early, late at night, or tomorrow.

So, along with the ant boy, who had been disguised with the supplies I got, we traveled through the sea.

Even so, the trained tiger's meat is surprisingly delicious.

The taste is even more pronounced when you drink it with gubilli, sake that has a strong spirit and strong smell.

DAY 493

There was a road that was paved with a wide range of concrete in order to improve transportation convenience when it came near <Free Trade Capital Sekutriade>.

With this I was able to proceed without getting lost, but it was a rule of passing on the left side of the road, and I was able to create a regular flow instead of going to disorderly.

I was able to see that figure in the early morning when I was following the cart going toward the direction of <Free Trade Capital Sekutriade>.

A long stone wall extends to the left and right, probably because it is surrounded by monsters, and the advancing road leads to a splendid gate on the stone wall.

There are a lot of people going out, but there are many people like us who are going to enter, and they are in line.

However, at the gate I was working in a state where a well-armed gatekeeper got used to it, and I was able to proceed smoothly than I thought.

And so it was our turn, but our charge was a prisoner's gatekeeper with characteristics like a wolf, and required a fairly high admission fee.

Since the previous hunting has obtained a roadside silver that will not cause any problems for a while, payment is complete without delay, and after that, there is no particular inspection, and it is passed by simple procedures.

Admission fees are quite high for expenses such as an arbitration agency that intervenes in the maintenance of public facilities and compliments between trading houses, and security and maintenance units that control those who cross a line such as murder or robbery, but it is a dark product that is otherwise difficult to handle. It seems not to be scolded too deeply because it is treated normally.

It seems that you can get in and out cheaper if you follow a certain procedure, but it is not usable right now, so I will leave it sideways.

It was a cobblestone boulevard that extends straight from the gate to the far side that first came into the eye with <Free Trade Capital Sectoriad>, where I could enter Assari more than I thought.

A light street with a width of 100 meters is likely to be wide, and in the vicinity of the center are carts that are towed by four-legged large beasts to golems, etc. On the left and right are large brick stores that sell and buy various products. Because it is lined up, a wide variety of people are looking for it.

I was impressed by the lively scene and just got a little angry so I entered a cafe at a reasonable place on the main street and started looking at the main street where the tribes will go while being told by the ant boy.

-The bond of races.

If it is expressed in a word, "is free commercial capital sect triad", will it be this way?

There was a parent and child of a beast with the characteristics of a bear. A large number of smoked meat is piled up on the back of the mother.

There were men and women of Kai who possessed the characteristics of bees and one hundred feet. The strong exoskeleton looks like a soldier of the war, but it's probably just a common man from the movement's gesture.

On the side of a large six-legged beast like a hippo towing a wagon, there was an old man of a demon with a mineral shell. There is a lot of goods piled up in carts, and there are dozens of similar carts behind them.

There was a hairy, petite dwarf who carried a lighter barrel with his shoulder larger than himself, and singing a humming song. It smells delicious, so I really want to be with you.

There are other types of species that the ant boy doesn't know, but there was something that I felt relieved to see a certain order.

However, there are parts of the sun and parts of the sun.

There are relatively healthy products on the main street, but there are shops there if you enter the back alley, and the products are slightly more radical compared to the main street and so on.

If you dive deeper, more dangerous items will increase.

And there is a target back tissue or the like in such a place.

I observed it to a certain extent, and decided to go out for a while after filling the belly.

For now, I will try to go to the information store I asked.

DAY 494

The basic knowledge to live here started from the information store of the Yuu who contacted, and it bought delicious shop and delicious liquor, and then information on <Oia de Pardos> and the surrounding back organization.

Although the small amount of information is off the ground, the price related to the back organization is very high.

However, the information was supplemented to a great deal of detail only for the price.

As we did not have it on hand, we decided to sell some of the mined gems, but it took a little effort on how to pay for it, and it was worthwhile to give it useful information for free...

It will flow to the back organization through the information shop that we bought the information after a while, but it is still great to know the enemy information before the situation moves.

In the meantime, I plan to attack an affordable base, but before that there are various things that I do.

That's why we first went to the Commercial Bank of the [Commercial Union] administration, which is located in the center of <Free Trade Capital Sectoriad>.

It is a fairly large building, so I make a bank account and a dedicated magic card for the emerging business association <Sakeshu 槍 ランク ランク ランク ランク 即興 improvised.

The procedure was surprisingly easy.

Because anyone can easily make it, the procedure was streamlined and it would have been less than five minutes.

However, personal authentication is registered in a huge recording medium type magic item such as blood collection, fingerprint authentication, magic test, etc. for a short time, and if physical information does not match, the magic card can not be used by others, so security seems perfect.

It is safe from unauthorized use because it can be re-issued even if it loses a good magic card which can be thought of as a credit card.

After making an account, go to the big jeweler <Lignadrode Jewelery> on the main street to sell off the gem-processed products.

The processed gems were a large amount but the flowers were so thin that they could be seen one by one, yet they were made with a lively and delicate structure.

The next time I brought it in, I sold it at a fairly high price.

It seemed to be able to withdraw more, but I decided not to give out much greed because the immediate funds were available.

Payment was made instantly on the spot via the Magic Card.

Check the amount displayed on the other party's Magic Card, and cheat and approve this Magic Card.

Then it sounded like pyrroline.

If you look at the savings amount displayed on the magic card, it is certainly increasing. You are a little rich at once.

By the way, it is limited within <Free commercial city section triad> with bank that you can exchange with magic card.

Although it can not be used outside, it seems common sense to use a magic card to prevent cash theft and simplify the procedure at Coco where a large amount of exchange always takes place.

He told me that when I was making a payment with the information agent, I didn't want to carry the jewelry.

He was an excellent intelligence worker, but he was not a fighter, so he would not want to carry the actual item because he would not be attacked by a thug.

Or are they simply heavy or do not want to hurt and devalue?

Anyway, I thought about making a relationship in the future, I have been recommended to make a magic card.

That's why after making money, I went to a public bath <Korinoyu> to wash the dirty body.

So spend an hour slowly and wash away the accumulated dirt and fatigue. There were a few large pots, and there was also a medicinal bath with ordinary herbs and medicinal herbs, so I enjoyed it surprisingly.

When I went outside, I changed into a nicely laundered clothes using the paid service of the bath.

After doing so, I came to a luxury clothing store on the main street <Relay Monde>.

It is quite a long-established store and seems to have a good reputation. There are a lot of customers who are likely to get rich, and even though they wash, we look like floating clothes.

As I knew it, I ignored the sightings of the surrounding area, and I ordered this world's formal clothes using superior materials according to me and ant-boys, in an expensive but expensive course with express rates.

It seems that there are skilled craftsmen and the production time is only a few hours. It seems to be finished in the evening.

Using the time to completion, I complete the procedure at a certain place this time, and try on the clothes that have been completed when I come back.

I didn't expect it so much, but I got familiar with the formal clothes. It seems that it is not necessary to fix it.

The skill of the craftsman seems to be more than a rumor.

I think this is good, I hand over cloth-type magic items and order new underwear and clothes. It will be tomorrow that will be finished.

When I ordered it, the craftsman told me that he would like to buy cloth-type magic items at high prices, but I decided not to sell it because it was so embarrassing.

Surely it is a great deal of valuables. You can be convinced if you think about characteristics such as reproduction.

There were many things, but today I stayed at the inn and went to bed with a meal.

DAY 495

After having breakfast, I went along the boulevard in formal clothes and headed to today's destination with the ant boy.

Today's destination is the home of security forces.

I had to wait for a while, so I was supposed to wait for a while, but I was able to meet with Lachun, the leader of the Security Forces Corps, before noon.

There are several other squad leaders, but he is responsible for the Ark district, where all these related to the base of the back organization <Oia Depaldos> gather.

I wondered if it was good to hide some of the treasures obtained from the Minotaur King defeat in the underground world, while the middle-aged man Rakun, the middle-aged man of the raccoon dog with distinctive Kayel bream and thick belly, is smiling. And good mood.

He said that he liked the ax with his tongue, while he was eating a heavy belly.

And the greeting also sends a gem flower which will be an additional rose.

It has been investigated that the company commander Lakung will have the tenth anniversary of the wedding anniversary in a few minutes.

Whether you like the gemstone made of his wife's birthstone, the matter went through with Assari.

Even if there is a dispute in Arkuk for a while, if a specific code remains in the field, it will be processed without importance.

So with that promise, we went out of the home.

A series of correspondences are recorded by the recording golem, and one of the insurances at the time of the breach was secured.

Then the eavesdropping golem, which was secretly set up in the office of the captain of the company, told the movement after leaving.

After we left, one of the executives of the back organization <Ia Depaldos>, who had been in another room, was in contact with the captain of the company, and I heard on the way back and forth.

Well, I thought that there would be a connection, but the move was faster than I thought.

Lachung's commander is going to pass our information to Atira, and if we do something, I will capture it.

It is likely that Rakun's captain changed his father, Tanuki, to love only the raccoon dog.

No matter if it moves fairly as a security support unit, if you intend to receive a bribe and immediately revolt, here is no alternative.

At first we decide that we should move quickly, do not go back to the lodgings and do various things including purchasing weapons for the future and kill time.

Then, at dusk, he and the ant boy attacked three small bars in the back alley where the members of the back organization <Oia Depardos> were infested.

Make a minimal disguise, such as hiding the face, kick the door and hunt or abduct members who were there.

And the goods which can be collected are collected, and it is immediately shifted.

The last barracks attacked was slightly larger than the other two, and there was a hidden room in the basement.

Since there were members, when I stepped in, there was a young man who was extremely enhanced in regeneration alone, and he was tortured endlessly.

Adolescents who were not treated in unsanitary places and whose diet was only left as an ingredient for regenerating, such as leftovers that could not be tasted, lived with broken spirits.

The ant boy who saw it was shaking.

As if you said something, but it seems that there is no word.

After incapacitating and detaining most of the members alive, thinking that there will be anything for the time being, we will interrogate the most devilish genie in this.

Then I see that it looks like a young man who has escaped several other ant boys.

The young man who fled, but who became a prisoner for all others, was caught, turned into a hard-to-death body to be seen, and continued to be tortured.

However, the spirit has been broken, so now it has been used as a meat bag for the members to release their stress.

It was irritating to say laughter with vile, so I broke my jaw with a mechanical arm and broke joints and important organs into nice salt.

Then, the ant boy, who had been a member in front of him, kept angry and shot poison with all hands using thick needles in both hands.

It is not something that hardens blood like snake venom. If it is healthy, it will be decomposed naturally in one day, and it is a kind of poison that will never die.

But because it was poison, it was not harmless.

It's just a poison that causes the whole body to blow away, and the weak members will suffer until the end and die out.

He left the bar while listening to several dead demons and moved to the darkness of the night with the ant boy carrying the rescued young man.

Unfortunately I can not return to my hotel. If you go back there will be something like a security force that is building a net.

That is because the father of Tanuki preferred the relationship with the back organization <Ia de Paldos> with a longer relationship than the newcomer.

That's why I crept into the house of my raccoon dog.

While thinking that it is something that is similar to the back organization in terms of illegal behavior, it is bad that the raccoon dog's father who made the wrong promise is bad.

DAY 496

As several barrage attacks happened in the division in charge, it was late at night when the head of the security forces, who was struggling to cope with it, came back.

Then we restrained him when he was going to take a shower and brought him into the basement of his large mansion.

Some family members such as his wife and children have not been aware of it and have slept well. I put a sleeping medicine so that they could sleep well, as they might have noticed it without such a thing.

Anyway, the half naked Rannuki, is bound on his hands and legs and is in front of my eyes in a chair.

He is only the commander of the security maintenance unit, and he has a thirst for violence, while speaking bravely, he moves his ears to get information even while being blindfolded.

The first thing I did was to bury the extra fine gorem into his navel while watching the situation.

In the shape of a long-necked beetle, the paralyzed poisoned parasitic golem infests the inside of the raccoon dog's body with minimal pain.

I was surprised it wasn't more uncomfortable, but I watched the situation silently.

The small wound is cured with a magic agent, and the sound of sharpening my blade for a while makes him twitch and his eyebrows move.

I do this to increase the tension and let him imagine what is to come, I can see he is getting anxious.

Then I tried to hear Nembutsu endlessly with a syllabary golem.

If you listen to Nembutsu in a language that has never been heard in a loud volume for an hour, your mental stress seems to be considerable.

I took a blindfold where I was weak and talked with it.

Every time the raccoon dog yells, a parasitic golem moves around in the viscera.

It does not mean that he does not tear or chop on the viscera, but the feeling of discomfort may be unusual. Something incomprehensible is crawling in his body.

The fear is intense because as it's mixed with the pain.

That's why I made a handpiece that did not go against it.

The goods sent to you are of course seized. Because the gem flower is for your wife, I left it as it, but as for that price, would it be that Father Rannuki paid with his own blood.

Anyway, I was able to secure a safe base here.

Tanuki's father's mansion is moderately large, and have room for lots of guests.

In a guest room, I and the ant boy will sleep, I also place a care golem that will take care of the young man.

Golems that can be easily configured are all too convenient, but I'll put that aside.

Today, we used a surveillance golem to gather information and headed for another raid at dusk.

They were more alert than yesterday, but I ignored them and ran wild.

Even so, good sake is stored in the house of the raccoon dog's father.

I am going to do my best tomorrow as I enjoy sampling expensive liquor that has been collected.

DAY 497

It is a heavy rain like turning over a bucket from morning today.

It was an environment where no one noticed when a disturbance occurred, but somehow I didn't feel like going out at such times, so I decided to work in the room.

Currently, the main weapon is the wolf that has been around since I woke up.

I sharpen the tip of the blade with a natural grinding stone, and wipe it with a cloth-type magic item to remove the dirt.

Since there was almost no dirt adhering to the surface, the cleaning was finished in a short time.

After that, it takes care of [blood drainer] and newly purchased knives, but since there are many things that have not been used for purchase, it also takes less time.

It is also possible to kill the members of the back organization "Oia Depaldos" who were in the bar, as long as you have a knife and a magic rifle.

The maintenance of the weapons was completed in less than two hours, so we started to work on the armors we were planning.

Even now, there are no complaints about the armor used.

I'm comfortable with the improvement of underwear and the material itself is very strong. We checked around the armor shop in <Free Trade Capital Sectoriad>, but the products boasting the same or more defensive power are limited.

In the underground world, it seems to be as strong as a monster in a deep place, so is the material good?

Anyway, this is fine as usual, but there is still some anxiety.

That's why I decided to make Golem technology to build a Reinforced Exoskeleton Powered Suit.

You can manufacture and operate various types such as mining golems and surveillance golems, and now you can get used to using abilities.

The ability to fly and dive may be difficult, but in addition to simple power assistance and improvement of defense by exoskeleton, incorporating new mechanisms such as artificial arms will help in battle.

Fortunately, the information on various reinforced exoskeletons is recorded in [computer library]. There was also information about the aircraft I was actually using.

The foundation is made based on them, and it aims at functional improvement by incorporating the magic item obtained here.

From now on living, improving the strength is a serious matter.

Fortunately, there is no emotional resistance, there are technical resources, etc., and there are many treasures, and furthermore, there is an enemy called “Oia depaldos”, which has a large amount of opponents for trial operation, You can run away here and there.

The basic structure of the reinforced exoskeleton is magic metal which is particularly strong among mined ore minerals, such as <adamasazite>, which is strong but flexible and tenacious, and can be restored by passing magic.

The parent's gnome had made it into an ingot and made the shape by [metal operation], and further the strength, toughness, etc. were dramatically improved by using the [attribute strengthening metal] etc.

Inside and outside of the foundation made of biometal made by culturing a large number of own cells using multiple abilities such as [bioengineering], [universal cell purification], [bionanomachine manufacturing] and [biometal manufacturing]. I will strengthen my muscles.

This not only exerts a powerful power assist at the time of operation, but also excels in shock absorption performance, so it becomes a cushion substitute for protecting the body when worn.

After that, a reinforced exoskeleton type golem that one can operate inside by operating the outer shell will be completed first of all, but since it is at a certain angle, jewelry parts will be manufactured using the Altar of the Treasure King.

The jewelry parts are very strong and strong in themselves, and apparently there is a difference in the ability hidden by the type of jewelry.

As well as enhancing the ability, I also decided to use the jewelry parts to look at the appearance.

In addition, it takes time to test whether the hidden mechanism and built-in weapons can be prototyped and can be used.

This is going to have some interesting time in the middle.

DAY 498

The date has changed since I started working.

And time is already night.

It seems that he was quite absorbed, but it was worthwhile to complete the first reinforced exoskeleton type Golem No. 1 [Haruki Oni].

The length of my body is a little larger than I.

A combination of oriental and western armor and the appearance of a demon that wears various kinds of jewels like a whale. Do you have a pair of fake arms on the side of the rectangular backpack on the back?

This is because the machine arm was better in performance, so it was possible to use the machine arm as it was where the arm was originally.

Is it a bit easy to understand if you imagine a tank top and a running shirt with no sleeves?

The machine arm, as well as the slightly long fake arm that grows on the back, can be moved freely, so if you have four magic rifles, you can attack simultaneously in all directions.

The fake arm is equipped with a built-in weapon that diverts the magic item, and the jewel parts used in various places all over the body have unique abilities, so the variety of attack means is as unconventional.

Because it is a prototype, it is the result of loading as many challenging mechanisms as possible.

The short double horns and rounded head of such a [Haruki Oni] have a face cheek with the demon's face that is made of gold-stone, and looking to the front of the girori is as if it were alive It is.

I tried it on but there was no problem in particular, I tried to move it lightly, but the feel was very good.

Wearing feeling integrated with the body.

I decided to do the actual battle with the trial run tomorrow, and spent the day for further fine-tuning today.

DAY 499

The back organization <Ia de Pardos> is a reasonably large organization.

Staffing of main business contents.

It has a rather long history that began with the export of ordinary slaves, but in recent years it has been replaced by the export of human resources remodeled by remodeling operations after a madman who has been wanted and flowed has joined.

Remodeling techniques are still developing, but there are many failures but some of them have been established.

One of them is body strengthening surgery.

If it is about 30% increase in physical ability, it seems that you can receive only benefits without any risk.

If it becomes more than that, the success probability falls, and it is necessary to suppress the side effects by medicine etc, but the benefits can not be ignored.

Members are subjected to the surgery, including the lower end, so the average combat ability falls into a high category.

One of the big bases of such a back organization <Ia de Paldos> is the underground gambling place <Dia Torres>.

Only special customers who meet certain conditions, such as going to other affiliated gambling places or having a certain level of financial ability, can come here.

Because the customer base is carefully selected, the amount betted is also extraordinarily large, and huge amounts of money are exchanged overnight.

Other than that, there is also a successful slave auction site where you can build a mountain of human experimentation and receive remodeled surgery whose safety has been confirmed, or remodeled surgery that is also the main product of the organization.

A large number of well-engineered bouncers are hired by the size and organization that is important for moving gold, and members and multiple executives who have been strengthened by remodeling operations that are risky but have high returns are always stationed. It is a highly important facility within the organization.

I waited for the most crowded night and disturbed me without such anticipation.

Entrance to the underground gambling hall. It is made to crush and faint the hard jaws of the gorillas beast man's stick with a metal-like skin that was in front of it, and with a spear in one hand, like a demon made of gems [Harace Oni] But kick in the thick door and break inside.

When I got in, the members and guards who were near the entrance reacted immediately, and I came to go.

While being impressed by the speed of the response, the short stick type magic item that shoots three kinds of magic whistles of fire, ice and lightning by giving up magic rifle with fake arms and magic power shakes rage to intercept The

Avoid the customer presence and shoot out only the bouncer and members correctly.

It aims at the extremities, but there are many who die immediately upon hitting the torso or head.

Screams and hoarseness echo in a moment, and continuous shattering sounds are heard. Blood and blood splattered, broken desks and broken cups rolled.

A customer who rushes to escape applies a captive golem like a wire and restrains it, and members who come on the way cause fatal injuries and become incapacitated.

The customer who is hidden behind is also restrained and missed, and all hidden enemies are eliminated.

Some of the detained customers may have members, but now overall suppression is a priority.

Although the escape route that only some executives know is not blocked, some escape routes that ordinary members know are blocked in advance, so hunt the members so that they will grind to the back Go.

There were three members who had jumped out of the shadows.

In the front row, a young man, who will be lower, runs with tears, followed by strong brothers and men.

I thought that I was going to attack with a bribe, so I gave up with a bridle and made it into three brothers.

There was an ape-man who was attacking with his bloated right arm.

A huge fist is smashed from the center by a pile bunker shot from the wrist of a fake arm, and a hole is made in the torso with a power-assisted front kick.

There was a dwarf who wore silver fire that seems to be one of the executives.

A twin-sword was used to spout a silver fire in order to set up high-speed movement, but the lightning and bombardment of the armor of the gems and bombardment with a direct hit caused all four arms to shred, and the whole body was shredded to shatter.

The operating room where the remodeling operation is performed was protected by a warrior warrior who manipulates the strongest betrayer.

It seems that high-speed sculpting with the Great Sword kills the opposing enemy without mercilessly, but he takes a large Sword with a whistle and cuts through the neck.

The big sword is a work, and the sharpness is very good. It would be possible to cut both steel and thin paper. I actually cut the stone wall, but the feel did not feel like bubbling air.

Because it is easy to use in the room, it is easy to hold it on a fake arm, and it penetrates the heart of the members who lurk over the wall with a whistle that has not brought such a large sword at all.

Although it has squeezed up to half of the gambling ground and has already incapacitated more than a dozen members, it is likely to be at the back.

As it is also a game with time, it marches without getting loose.

After that, and after I have swept up, it is an ant boy who leads a transportation golem.

Starting with high-quality liquors arranged on the shelf, we will collect scattered jewelry and various lost armor.

There is also a huge vault in the back, and all the treasures, gold coins, documents, contracts, etc. stored in it were received.

By the way, the reason why gold coins are stored like a pile in the safe is because some customers want cash payment.

Information is kept in Magic Card exchange, so cash is used when you do not want the [Commercial Association] to know the exchange.

Anyway, our financial situation, which has received a pile of gold coins and other treasures, has changed dramatically.

The range of things I can do is expanded, so I have many things to do again.

By the way, I did not give my hand to the customers, but I will use the wrapped members of the fallen members and the goods of the gambling ground as a fund for future use.

There were various things, but the noise at the gambling hall ended in about thirty minutes.

I was attacked, but there was no damage to the shell, and the various performance tests of [Ho-Ka-Oni] also met satisfactory levels.

Attack from the unconscious by hard armor and extraterrestrial force, various built-in weapons.

Although there is a drawback that the reaction is still delayed, it may be a sufficient result as a prototype.

In the end, he rescued several of the same kind of ant boys who had been subjected to remodeling surgery, and secured several skill executives who had remodeled remodeling skills who were in the deep area and several accomplices to assist them.

After the destruction of the fighting executives and members who encountered along the way, we recovered the supplies and left the gambling place on a box-shaped transport golem that looks like a cart.

The customer who was detained was released after a while, but a security maintenance unit led by Tanuki's father rushed there.

Furnishings were broken, and a search for a desolate betting ground was begun, with heavy amounts of blood and pieces of meat rolling on walls and floors.

Customers were also protected by interviews, and if there were members of other back organizations or wanted criminals among the customers, such workers were captured as they were.

His father continues his investigation with a tired face, but he completely fulfills his duties because he can not go against the parasitic golem.

As there is treatment of old and young man and woman who protected, we are careful not to be seen by anyone, and we dive behind secretly dug hole and return to raccoon dog's mansion.

The prisoners of war were given sleeping pills and then placed individually in egg-shaped bird golems for isolation, and it was mainly in charge of the ant boys, as they knew what to explain to the guards.

I was hungry when the explanation was over, so I decided to take a break with the rice I made and take a rest today.

Everyone else is a regular meal with monster meat and vegetables, but my supper has the meat of a supper from a dwarf with silver fire.

I was blessed, but the meat of dense dwarfs was quite delicious.

The quantity is small but the quality is satisfying.

[Learning of competence name ability [Silver fire fighting Jill Fora]]

[Learning of ability name [Space killing method] completed]

At the same time, I was also able to learn abilities.

If good things are done, will good things happen?

DAY 500

-Underground gambling ground operated by Dear ia depardos Destruction <Destruction>.

-It approaches the true identity of a jeweler demon who unilaterally defeats a fighting party member.

Such headlines decorate one side of the morning magazine that Mr. Tanuki brought with a bitter look early in the morning, which is the city of a merchant whose information is life, so there are many kinds of information magazines.

There was also a picture, which was a black and white copy of the underground gambling ground, which was cut just before the dwarf execs were bombarded by an attack that was released from [Baby Oni].

The astonishing and desperate faces of the executives and the majestic figure of [Baby Oni], which gives a feeling of overwhelming strength, are condensed into a single piece, and the articles are also written in some detail.

Apparently some of the captured customers had a press.

At an angle, it would be a young man or a companion who looked like an intelligent belly black glasses, who had a delicious drink surrounded by a beautiful woman.

It will be erased in the worst case if it is discovered that a magic item with a shooting function is brought to the facility of the back organization, etc., but it may have been aware of danger and have been infiltrating interviews.

It may be dangerous for the reporter to be dangerous because it is a side that hurts the mensmanly, but as it is self-responsibility, it will be left as it is.

The back. organization <Oia. Depaldos> seems to have become serious in this one case.

It is said that [trench shell demon] has become a big prize-winning boar, to the father of the raccoon dog says.

The arrangement document has already flowed into the back society, and it reflects the appearance of the people in the back society, where the gore-type golems that have been released around for the sake of intelligence have begun to become busy.

The other back organization that makes an agreement with the back organization <Oia depardos> embarks on a search and moves its members, and the back organization on the other side starts a search that wants to bring in the [Houjo-oni] to its own camp.

The back-to-back society with some sort of order will ring, and its impact will also affect the front-side society.

While making plans for the future, I left the ant boys, got cash and jewelry, and headed to the jeweler <Ligna Draw Jewelry Store>.

The store manager told me that the other day's negotiations were good.

This time, I will put out all the jewelry that is yesterday's war result, and I will also add the same amount of cash and jewel goddess statues that also serve as a cap.

Negotiations and contracts were made, and the amount of cash added to the selling price of jewelry was paid to the Lingerie Draw Jewelry Store to the emerging business association <Moth Drunk lance trading association>.

Instead, <Ligna Draw Jewelry Store> got the jewelry and the goddess statue.

Confidentiality is the principle of this time.

The store manager also seems to think in various ways, but similar things may have happened during a long merchant history.

There is something to think of each other, but it is a handshake before profit.

By the way, because the goddess is a kind of golem, betrayal will only have a commensurate result.

After the cleaned gold is ready, go to the real estate introduced to the <Ligna Draw jewelry store> manager and contract for two houses, a cheap building and an ordinary building, depending on the circumstances.

One house is a single-family house located in an ordinary residential area.

It is a building that is frequently rented by hawkers, and there is also a large warehouse for storing goods. There is a rapid change of residents, so minimal furniture is available.

The amount is a bit expensive, but it would not be bad if it was a temporary base.

The other cheap one is a building on the second floor above the ground, one floor above the ground, which is a little in front of the main street.

It is relatively new, and its location and structure are not bad. The condition is better than the previous house.

Though it is cheap, only a few months ago, the former owner had to borrow money from a high-interest loan of a certain back organization due to poor business and temporarily picked up, but was crushed by the rising interest rate and went bankrupt.

I had to run away at night, but I was caught and killed just before I ran away.

The shopkeeper is slaughtered to be dismantled. The woman is found unbearable to see, and the whereabouts of the two daughters are unknown.

It is a miserable story, but it seems to have also been seen, and by the magic of [Delight Art], the shopkeeper becomes [land bound relics] and still remains in the building.

[Purification] can not be stupid even if the amount of money, even if it fails, a stronger grief will become [curse] and will contaminate the building area.

There are various circumstances in the area, and it is a bothersome property to the extent that a real estate agent will not handle it unless it is in the division in charge by the agreement.

I contracted such a property. [Purification] We have you sell cheaply including thing that is before.

The real estate agent looks lonesomely here, but can not sell unless the shopkeeper's [cleanup] that has become [land-bound relics] is complete in the contract content, the owner will make up for compensation when there is an impact on the surroundings, As some conditions such as are included, it seems that the troubled case is finished and relieved at first.

I looked back at my back and I stepped into the building.

The open space immediately after entering was the place to display the goods, and there was a translucent man who sheds blood with a look that seems to be licking.

It is a shopkeeper, and it is [Land area].

The shopkeeper shows a sad expression to here, but when I take out a certain thing, the power falls a little.

It was the executive who killed at the gambling hall and the head of a dwarf who was deeply involved with the shopkeeper.

It is the back organization <Oia depardoss> that the shopkeeper has made a debt, and it is a translation that this shopkeeper and his family were handed over to this dwarf.

It turns out that the storekeeper's remorse fades a little, in front of the other's head, who was so angry that he wanted to kill him.

It's because the feeling of the unsympathetic swaying magic has faded.

And persuade the shopkeeper to come to nature naturally by [negotiator] just here.

I will take care of you. I will definitely get paid. In order to do that, it is necessary to obtain enemy information.

The defense mechanism and the security are heavy, so I would like you to surrender as it is easy to look at hostility from here, which is closer to the mansion where the leader of "Oia Depaldos" lives, which is much more robust than a bad castle.

When I lined up such feelings and persuaded, the shopkeeper also accepted it gradually.

The shopkeeper made a Buddha, but instead he left an item called [Sakai spirit soul stone].

When fulfilling the promise [Sakai spirit soul stone] is purified and turned into another item, but it seems to be an item that has many uses.

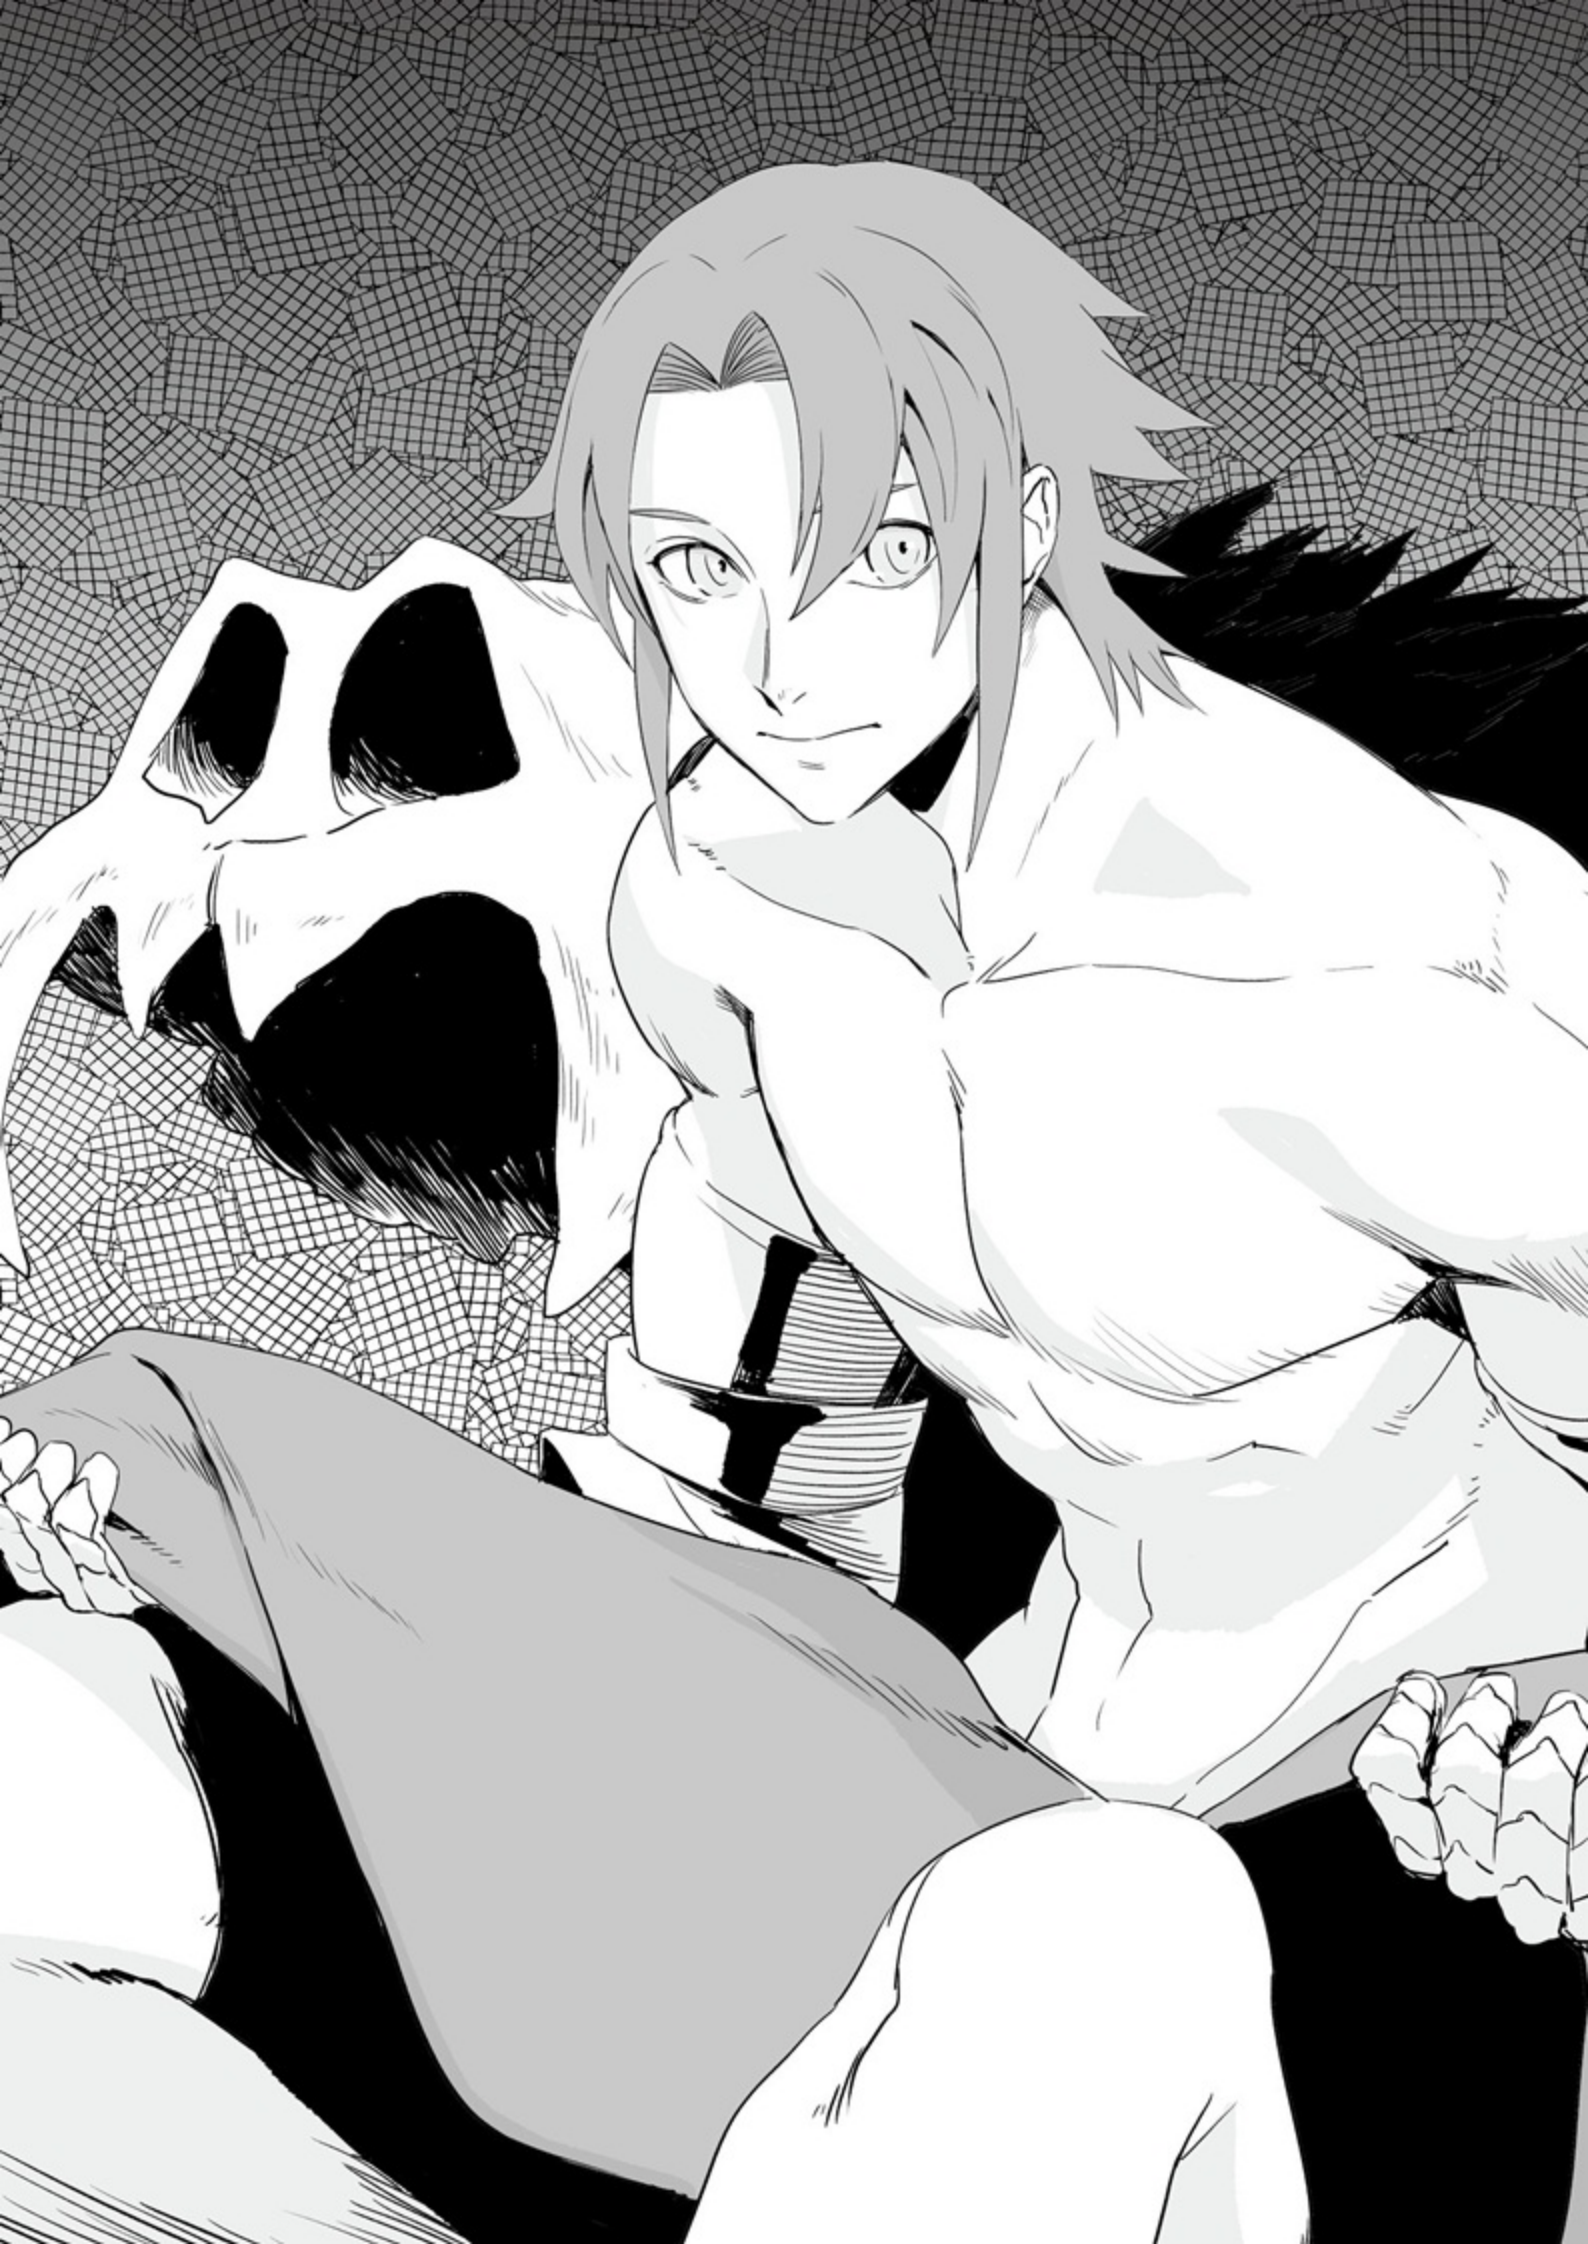

Honestly, there is a part that can be learned what abilities can be learned if you hear [Sakai spirit soul stone], but I put up with it and worked with it.

From today on, it is the commerce head office.

For ant boys and shopkeepers, I will try to achieve the goal as soon as possible.

PDF by: traitorAIZEN